

me to be in by May 16.

appointed to confer with the transfer James Bay from the Province to the City, recommending that the Government be asked to also recommend a sewerage plan for Belleville street, by bridge and Macleure street.

It was reported that some of the officers had promised to try to get the Chinese hospital, and it was stated that the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

It was thought the Council should have the hospital be closed as a considerable length of time.

THE CITY.

To Statute the Petition. An application will be made in the Supreme court to-morrow to dismiss the petition against the election of Dr. Hugh Watt as member of the Legislature for Cariboo.

Funeral of the Late Mrs. Laine. The funeral of the late Mrs. Laine took place at 2:30 yesterday afternoon from the residence of her father, Mr. John Irving, Cedar Hill road, Rev. D. Macleure officiating at both house and grave and there being a large attendance of sorrowing friends. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Spencer, Summers, Deane, King, Pollock and Rossignol.

Fall from the Roof. A carpenter named Bruce, who was working on the roof of a two-story building in James Bay, received a nasty fall yesterday afternoon. He was drawing a nail, when it broke, and overbalancing he fell to the ground, narrowly escaping falling on a pile of bricks. He received several cuts and bruises, but they are not thought to be very serious.

Funeral of Charles P. Bloomfield. The funeral of the late Charles P. Bloomfield, ex-chief of police, took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence to Ross Bay Cemetery. There was a large attendance of those who in his lifetime had found the deceased a genial and warm-hearted companion. The pallbearers were drawn from the veterans of the City force.

Married Last Evening. Last evening, at the residence of Mr. Ledingham, 155 Johnson street, in the presence of a few friends, Rev. Dr. Campbell united in marriage William John Cox and Miss Elizabeth L. Hoggan. Miss Mary V. Hoggan was bridesmaid, and the bridegroom was supported by Mr. R. L. Ledingham. The bride and bridesmaid signed their best wishes to a great deal.

Establishing a Benefit Fund. The men employed by the N. E. T. & L. Co. are about to establish a benefit fund for the relief of their sick. They propose to pay something each month out of their wages into a fund from which they can, in case of misfortune, get some temporary assistance. The inception of the idea was a collection which was taken up a short time ago for one of the conductors who had serious illness in his family. Something like $96 was raised, and made a very acceptable relief fund.

Occidental Lodge. Occidental Lodge, L.O.O.F. M.U., was held last night, a hearty reception being accorded to Bro. S. J. Wade, who attended on special invitation from the lodge for the last fortnight. The members adjourned to the Hotel Victoria, where a goodly number enjoyed an elegant repast provided by Host Patton. Bro. A. M. Mait, N. G., occupied the chair. Many toasts, speeches, songs, etc., were given, and the guest of the evening, Bro. S. J. Wade, made a capital speech, reviewing the history of the lodge, and the leading order among kindred societies. After spending a most enjoyable time the party broke up at an early hour this morning.

Will Give One-Sixth. Hon. D. W. Higgins presided at a well attended meeting of Port Angeles property owners, which was held at the Victoria Hotel, to discuss the ways and means of securing the building of the Great Northern to Annapolis. After debating the proposition presented by the Port Angeles committee, it was adopted that Victoria holders give one-sixth of their property towards the accomplishment of the railway scheme. Quite a number of names were given, and a committee was named to canvass these and in attendance and learn what they will attend to in the future. It is expected that the Port Angeles property holders will contribute $25,000 to $30,000 towards obtaining the road.

A Fraternal Rescue. A squall on the Straits yesterday morning sent one of the Victoria fleet of fishing sloops to the bottom and brought the two young boatmen, George and James Henderson, who were aboard, to the shore, unpleasantly close to death. The ballast, it is thought, shifted as the sloop struck the sloop, and the tide craft filled with almost incredible rapidity, but the men, by clinging only time to seize a couple of oars before finding themselves struggling in the water. The catastrophe was providentially for the two swimmers, witnessed by Captain Lawrence of the Government steamer Eagle, who was no time in picking the men up and landing them at Albert's station, where restorative stives were provided, and the men were restored to the surface later in the day and were also recovered by Captain Lawrence, to whom the Hendersons are very grateful. The men are not forgetting, also, the men at the quarantine station.

Proceeds of the Benefit. The proceeds of the benefit are furnished of the receipt and expenditures in connection with the entertainment given by the Victoria West Amateur Dramatic society, on the 4th inst. at the Victoria hall, in aid of Mrs. J. Harris, whose husband was killed in the Tumblo Island disaster, some time ago.

Albion Industry. Mr. H. Carmichael, who returned from the West coast yesterday, brings word from the West coast that the large mine has been completed and the mine will be worked. The mill itself has been awarded to Mr. Woods, whose agreement stipulates that everything shall be in running order by August 1. All the machinery will be sent forward from this city, where it is stored, by the steamer sailing on April 15, work a first-class engine, and the contractor having decided to cut his own material and build the mill literally from the trees about its site. The operation of the sawmill will reduce the price of lumber to the citizens of Alberni as they are preparing to erect a number of new buildings during the summer, including a new Presbyterian mission church and school room. Mr. Carmichael's intention when he left home was to proceed from Alberni to China creek and examine

PASTOR AND PEOPLE.

The Troubles at St. Andrew's Church Under Investigation by the Presbytery.

Closing of the Case for the Petitioners - The Defence to Open To-day.

The Presbytery and assessors resumed their labor yesterday morning, in the presence of a large number of visitors interested in the existing difficulties between Rev. P. McLeod, and a section of the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The proceedings were opened in due form, with Rev. Moderator Scoullar presiding.

Mr. McLeod asked for the ruling of the chair as to the order of proceedings. Were they supposed to go into the whole case and sit in judgment on it? The Moderator replied that the whole case would be gone into.

Mr. Ballantyne handed in a long list of papers, books, etc., which he had to have a bearing on the case, and moved for their production. Mr. McLeod asked that a number of persons, whose names he submitted, be examined.

Rev. Mr. Macleod contended that the papers should have been called for before the sitting of the Presbytery. They should have been provided with a list of the witnesses whom it was proposed to call.

Rev. Mr. Logan suggested that any witness should be given light on the subject should be called, and the papers asked for should be forthcoming.

Rev. Mr. Macleod protested against the introduction of new matter. After a good deal of further "preliminary" it was decided to proceed with the business.

Mr. Ballantyne was the first of the petitioners called. He presented a copy of the action of the petitioners, and claim for them the right to take the stand they were taking. There had been certain intonations made in the session of the church which had not appeared there. These references were evidently made with the object of injuring the case in the eyes of the Presbytery.

On behalf of myself and my brother petitioners, said Mr. Ballantyne, "I challenge the right of Mr. Macleod or his session to prefer any charge against me, moral, religious or financial standing. We want this court to understand that there is no ground for the charges against the character of any one of the petitioners. Now this challenge remains open for Mr. Macleod."

Mr. Ballantyne continued to quote from the counter petition, and proceeded to argue that they were making no charges against their pastor, further than that serious differences existed between Rev. Mr. Macleod and the members of the congregation, which were injurious to the spiritual welfare of the church.

A financial statement was next submitted showing the existing balance of the church, from general revenue, $2,282.75; from the loan of money borrowed, $12,340.90; and a $60,285 mortgage. From these figures it was argued that the church had never been able to pay its mortgage, and was not at present in a position to pay it, hence the action of the congregation in proposing to sell the church property.

Mr. Macleod, in reply, contended that the church was in a position to pay its mortgage, and that the action of the congregation was unjust. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

After lunch the Presbytery was addressed by Mr. McLeod. He said the petitioners were placed under a great deal of disadvantage by reason of the order of procedure which by church law they were obliged to follow. Many of the brethren who were late in the trial at the present meeting of the Synod, did not have the advantage of hearing the full particulars submitted, and in the interests of the church, he thought it would be right and fair that they should have this advantage. At the Synod the most unkindness of all was that which suggested that the old members should be invited to sever their connection with the church, and that they should be invited to sever their connection with the church, and that they should be invited to sever their connection with the church.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

Mr. McLeod contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking. He also contended that the petitioners were not entitled to take the stand they were taking.

OXFORD ONCE AGAIN.

London, March 22.—Again this afternoon, as in 1890, '91 and last year, the wearers of Oxford's dark blue have vanquished their rivals of Cambridge. But the victors of to-day have done more than add another win to Oxford's list—they have sent into obscurity last year's record of 19.21 and replaced it with the figure 18.47. The course was the usual one from Putney to Mortlake on the Thames, four miles 440 yards straightaway, and a strong tide was running, which is a measure account for the very fast time. As in former years the great event was witnessed by vast crowds from far and near.

The start was at 4:35, Cambridge taking the light blue led by three feet. Then Oxford spurred, and assumed the leadership with six feet lead advantage. The lead had been reduced to three feet when Chalkley, Eyo, two and a half miles, when Chalkley drew out steadily, pulling a steady, splendid stroke, and then in winners by two and a half length.

The usual enthusiasm and light hearted gaiety was evident everywhere. The race the center of attraction. Only that, in 1877, resulted in a dead heat. Of the Oxford crew has won 27, and Cambridge 22. Oxford has now won four years in succession of the four preceding years. Cambridge was victorious. The Oxford boat carried 1,741 pounds, and the Cambridge 1,447.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their backers. The second day was put up, and it was decided that the contest should take place at Orillia, on June 23. Gaudaur's friends challenge Stansbury to row for the World's championship.

TO-BE OPENED AND GAUDIED. TORONTO, March 22.—A meeting took place to-day between Ed. Hanlan and J. Gaudaur and their