Referring to the sale of the Conrad mines on Windy Arm, as reported in the Colonist in its issue of yesterday, the Seattle Times says: "The selling of the properties in question now constitutes what up to date is probably the largest mining deal ever turned in the North, but they are a bit of high finance behind it all that makes a very interesting chapter in the story that has already been told of the marvelous richness of the North..."

THE CONRAD MINES

Some Properties Which Have Recently Changed Hands.

Through the efforts of Mr. Clise, Andrew Chibberly, J. F. Lane, E. R. Butterworth, W. G. Norris and others were induced to invest their money in the claims up in options, although the syndicate thus formed obligated themselves to spend $100,000 for property outright for a paltry $100,000. The first move the syndicate made was to close with the St. Louis Trust Co. in such securities, paying to the company in actual cash, their expected cost. There certainly was no juggling, but the directors of the company themselves assumed full responsibility, paying their actual cash for the securities.

THE CONRAD MINES

When Mr. Clise was seen this morning he admitted that he had been in Toronto on business for his client, Mr. Howard Conrad, but aside from that he refused to discuss the matter at all. The deal was closed, and they had received their money in full. The deal was closed, and they had received their money in full.

CZAR ADDRESSES PEASANTS

St. Petersburg, March 26.—Emperor Nicholas, in receiving a deputation of peasants from the liberal party, employed a new and stronger tone. He said nothing about satisfying their land hunger and spreading the fruits of property, informing the peasants that a recurrence of agrarian disorders and the destruction of property would not only be punished by law, but in a fashion, but the communities participating in the disorders would be deprived of the assistance of the peasants' banks. The papers continue to report rumors of Premier Witte's resignation, which they say has been offered to the emperor, but not acted upon.

FIRE IN BOARDING HOUSE REVEALS DELIBERATE ATTEMPT AT DESTRUCTION

The Main Building is the medical ward and solarium with sixteen beds. At the north end are the school and assembly hall and auditorium. The second floor is given over to three surgical wards, two with sixteen beds each and one with eight beds. On the third floor are the operating rooms, photographic, X-ray and the kitchen and also the main gymnasium, 20x60 feet, with dressing and bath rooms and also the winter playground. The main building is the industrial building and the educational building, with cottages, No. 2 and No. 3, for families were in it at the time. When the blaze was extinguished the firemen investigated the cause and found in the rear of the restaurant a mass of kerosene, and beneath this had been placed a pot half full of coal oil and a quantity of waste paper. The fire occurred, but there being no draft it had not communicated to the coal oil when the firemen arrived. One of the proprietors of the building, Morris Diamond, had gone out half an hour before the fire was noticed, saying he was going to visit his brother.

WINNIPEG PRINTERS' TROUBLES

Deputy Minister of Labor Spends Day at Prairie Capital.

WINNIPEG PRINTERS' TROUBLES

Mackenzie King, the deputy minister of labor, will leave for Ottawa today, after having spent two days in investigating labor complaints in Winnipeg. Mr. King was in the city yesterday holding innumerable interviews with the persons he came to see, and his report is nearly completed.

WINNIPEG PRINTERS' TROUBLES

The complaint of the English printers to the British government, to the effect that they had been brought to Winnipeg under false pretences was the chief matter that engaged Mr. King's attention yesterday. In the afternoon he met the printers, board of trade, and also the Winnipeg typotheta, learning from them the employers' side of the question. He also met nearly every one of the English printers now in Winnipeg individually, as well as the executive of the Typographical union. Mr. King was received in the most cordial manner by everybody, and he stated last night that he thought that nothing was suppressed by any person interviewed, and that he believed he was in complete possession of the facts.

WINNIPEG PRINTERS' TROUBLES

The executive of the trades and labor council also interviewed Mr. King, and asked him to bring several matters to the attention of the minister of labor. Mr. King also met the executive of the plasterers union and investigated a complaint that a number of plasterers had quit a job in order to get their wages paid.
