Dr. J. C. Aver.—Sir: The Chercy Pectoral is much inquired after Several of our best Physiciaes have used it, three of them in their own case, and always with the happiest effects. The numerous patent medicines talways before them, lead to credulity in regard to every new remedy; and it is only after undoubted evidence of value in any article, that any thing like a general confidence can be excited.

The unrivaled excellence of this combination of agents (in the Cherry Pectoral.) provedbeyond eavil by repeated trial and their own observation, has complied medical men to proclaim abroad its usefulness. It is beyond all doubt the best general remedy we have for Pulmonary Affections of this climate, at the same time sedative and expectorant—a rare combination of properties.

FAMILY PHYSIC.

Frame has long existed a public segment for an effective purgative pill which could be reflect on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that dentand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pill—one which should have more of the objections, but saft the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate to the public decision. It has been unfortunate the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicans is a remaining and interest of the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicans is not. Many of these produces of mich patient hitherto that almost steep ungative medicans in a first form a previously existing observation of the patient hither to that a produce so mich man counterbalance the good to be derived from them.
