

Always On Hand for Business

The Deming Power Sprayer is the faithful friend of the Fruit Grower. It never goes on a strike; demands no vacation; does not get tired. It is a willing worker, a consistent performer, and is always ready.

The power of the engine may be used in numerous ways, and that is an object in itself; with its aid you are, in a measure, independent of your hired help, which may leave you without notice.

This engine will pump your water, run your cutter-box, corn sheller, feed grinder, fanning mill, or grindstone; it will do a dozen other little chores about your place that you are perhaps doing every day by hand—unnecessary work. In short, it is the outfit you have been looking for, and just what you need if your orchard is large.

If something smaller would please you, remember we offer a great variety of other styles: bucket, knapsack, barrel, tank and nozzles of many kinds.

When you buy a Deming, you are sure of getting a pump you can depend on. Thousands of successful fruit growers testify that the purchase of a good spray pump (and mark, we say good) is a long step, and half the battle, in the fight against the insects that plot against their success every season. These men use DEMING SPRAYERS and know whereof they speak.

Some of their experiences we recount in "Words of Wisdom," a booklet in which you will be interested. We would like to send it to you, with a copy of our Catalogue, and to tell you how to secure, free, "Spraying for Profit," a valuable little book which every fruit grower should own.
