

quire first-class papers is to pay good prices for them, or, of a surety, dissatisfaction will ensue sooner or later. Any lowering in price means a corresponding lowering in grade of material used. Otherwise the paper-maker is a philanthropist or else unwittingly courts disaster.

A NEW WRINKLE.

ACCORDING to Stationery, Mr. Barnwell, of Manchester, announces that he has discovered a method of treating printing inks of various colors so that they may be used side by side on the same inking roller, without in the least flowing sideways or mixing with one another. He claims that by his method several colors may be printed in one impression. He treats ordinary printing inks with three mixtures, successively. The first contains castor oil, turpentine, glycerine, oil of tar, and copaiba balsam; the second consists of sulphuric ether and chloroform; the third of liquid ammonia, aromatic spirits of ammonia, and ipecacuanha. After pouring off any liquid, the ink is ready for use.

ADVERTISERS' CHAT.

WE call special attention to the cover of this issue being printed on Defender Cover Paper, the latest novelty in Cover Papers. Defender cover is especially adapted for high grade embossing and can be used to great advantage in catalogue work, etc. The price, 15 cents per lb., brings it within reach of all desirous of turning out first class work. Special quotations to those requiring a quantity.

WE are prepared to give a special discount from list to those requiring Office Baskets in quantities of one dozen, either in one size or assorted.

THE Erthograph Pad is still a favorite for all classes of duplicating work and is now being used in all the large mercantile offices in Toronto and is giving every satisfaction.

PARAGON GUM is in greater demand than ever. Our stock is large and we are prepared to fill all orders at once. If you are not already using it you should order a tin. It will be sure to give satisfaction and lead to increased business.

SEE our advertising pages in reference to the Combination Inkstand. This inkstand is without exception the cheapest ever placed on the market. We have them in two qualities, nickel at $3.00 per dozen, nett, and Japanned at $2.00 per dozen, nett. Owing to the manufacturer of these inkstands having gone out of business, we cannot replace these goods. These prices are 50 per cent. below cost.

Bicyclists.—“Wheelmen’s Notes,” a new Memorandum Book made to fit the vest pocket. This book is ruled into columns for destination, route, hour of leaving and arrival, number of miles run, hotels stopped at, expenses incurred and a space for remarks. “Wheelmen’s Notes” is an entirely new addition to the stock of Memo Books and the large sales in Toronto speak well in its favor. We carry these books in stock in four qualities as follows:

No. 16 and 18 at $1.75 per dozen.

No. 20 at $3.50 per dozen.

No. 22 Russia Leather Ladies at $6.00 per dozen.

Every stationer to be up to date should carry this line and every wheelman who wishes to be thoroughly posted on his summer trips should keep a record in one of these specially adapted Memo Books.
