Miss Beila Hattie has resumed her position in the Alice Street school.

Inspector McLellan visited Prince Street school on Wednesday March 28th.

Miss Florrie Barnhill has returned to Grade VIII after being absent since January 23rd, at which date she was taken ill with diphtheria.

The pupil's in Grade VIII who made ten in conduct, lessons and attendance last week were Miss Hattie Cummings and Charlena Schaffner.

The pupils of Grade VI who made the highest standing during the last four weeks are Miss Grace Carle, Miss Mamie McNutt, George Johnson, Arthur Crowe and Harry Holland.

Grade II, pupils were much pleased to welcome Miss Daisy and Erle Hennessey, back to their class on Tuesday morning. These little folks have been out of school for three weeks with La Grippe.

On Wednesday 21st March, the the pupils of Grade VII had a spelling match in the geography of the United States. Each pupil in turn, commencing at the foot, asked a question of the one above them, aiming for the head of the line. After about ten minutes had elapsed, Miss Susie Ervin had gained the head, which she kept for a time amidst a fire of questions. After her failure, George Kent took the foremost place keeping it until the close of the match.

The first books were printed by Guttenberg about 1467.
