

O'DUFFY: Look out, Doolan, he moight ate yer hand off an' swally it.

DOOLAN: He doant look onny too intilgent, tu ba shure, but I doant belave he ex fule enough tu think he cood swally me hand thru a neck like that.

A CONSIDERATE MAN.

SOUND MAN: Heavens, Bilkins, what's the matter?

BILKINS (a total wreck): I have just had an interview with the editor of the BLADE in reference to that article about me which he had in yesterday's paper.

SOUND MAN: Ah, I was just going down there to see him about a personal matter, myself; but I suppose he must be a little tired after the interview with you, so I guess I had better postpone my visit indefinitely.

HE put his arm about her,
The maid was tightly laced;
"I see," she said, "your young Affections run to waist."

GOOD FOR THEM.

FANGLE: The women trades-unionists of England are boycotting non-union lovers.

MRS. FANGLE: That's right. It's foolish for women to waste time over men who don't intend to marry.

RATHER SINGULAR.

"IT'S the hardest thing in the world," said Bins, "to eat corn from the cob without getting it on your moustache."

"I never found it so," returned the Boston girl.

AN AUTHORITY.

VISITOR (to native of Arkansas): Are you familiar with the game laws of the State?

NATIVE: Yes; what do you want to shoot, quail or niggers?

AN AUSPICIOUS OCCASION.

MR. AHRENS: Come ub to de house to-nide, Levi, ve're goin' to have a plow-oud.

LEVI: Wad's der madder?

MR. AHRENS: Id's de dwendy-fid anniversary of my first failure in beesness.

ABOUT JACKASSES.

TOM: Speaking of jackasses, I saw you and Fred—
JACK: What!

TOM (continuing): Looking at one to-day. What did you think of it?

SAVED BY IT.

COBURGER: It doesn't cost Cantwell much for household expenses.

BROWN: No; he starts a family row at the table so as to spoil every one's appetite for dinner.

RIGHT.

CUMSO: You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink.

BANKS: Just the same with a Colonel, isn't it?

DIDN'T CARE FOR FISH.

"WELL," said Jonah, as he stood on the shore and watched the whale swim away, "for once I'm glad I'm 'not in it.'"

I AM all run down," as the exhausted fox said when the hounds came up to him.

HE COULD GET WHAT HE WANTED.

AGENT: What kind of a house do you want, Mr. Funnyman?

MR. FUNNYMAN: Well, I'm looking for "a lodge in some vast wilderness."

AGENT: I can give you a nice flat in Philadelphia. How'll that do?
