JACK-IN-OFFICE. - We have already mentioned the JACK-IN-OFFICE.—we have already mentioned the orders given by M. De Persigny to forbid any functionary from entering the Bishop of Orleans' palace. The following is the circular drawn up by the Prefect of the Loiret on this subject :--

"Sir-I have the honor of calling your attention, confidentially, to the nature of the intercourse be-tween public functionaries and the chief of the diocese of this department. For any one feeling, while observing facts, a real devotion for the Emperor, the attitude of the Bishop of Orleans appears, with the character of the clearest evidence, impressed with a political hostility which leaves room to no illusion arising from the complexity of the questions into which that Prelate has deemed that he ought to interfere. If religious discussions were alone mooted, everybody knows what entire liberty of publicity is granted to such, and what independence of appreciation is enjoyed by every one in their regard. But when, taking his stand on the ground of political passions, a Bishop presents a standard to the enemies of the Government to whom he owes his See and all the prerogatives belonging to it, the feeling of duty overcomes all other considerations, and prescribes to us a new attitude. I know, sir, that most of the functionaries have already under-stood their line of conduct in presence of the steps and invitations having regarded to them, and proceeding from the Bishop's palace; but I believe, also, that some of them, having an old acquaintance with the Prelate, hesitated to separate themselves from him. If so, it is your duty to remind them that the Emperor's Government expects from them an exclusive devotion (a rather feminine pretension-what will Mrs. Grundy say ?) and cannot, in the present case, admit any such hesitations, until the time comes when the Bishop of Orleans, by ceasing his hostilities, allow us to renew an intercourse to which his acts alone have brought interruption. I request you, Sir, to secure, as far as you are concerned, the execution of the present despatch, and to acknowledge its receipt. "Accept, Sir, &c.,
"The Prefect of the Loiret,

Why are jokes like nuts? Because the dryer they are the better they crack.

We have been shown a document signed by the Mayors in office of the cities of the United States and Canada, certifying to the superior excellence of Dr. Ayer's compound Extract of Sarsaparilla and to the value of all his remedies as articles of great public utility. Such evidence from such high sources bears us out triumphantly in the position we have long maintained with regard to Doct. Ayer's Preparations or more particularly our advortisements of them. No publishers need be more opposed than we are to the promulgation of quackery in any shape, but we knew when we began that his remedies were about any suspicion of deception-that they were about the best it is possible to produce for the cure of disease, and that they have the confidence of all communities where they are known. Not alone because the Mayors of the whole country believe them useful to their people, but he cause we know from experience that they are so toours, do we believe we are rendering a substantial service to our readers in making their virtues known to them .- Courier, Princeton, Ky.

In justice to Davis' Pain Killer, I must say that I never sold an article which gave such universal sa-tisfaction to all who used it. I never kept a medicine which met with such a rapid sale; its virtues are the topic of conversation in many places in this W. W. ROBERTS, Druggist, La Port, Ind.

AYER'S CATHARTIC

Are you sick, feelic, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelate to serious illness. Some if to fisckness is ercepting upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and elemane out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluid again. They stimulate the fluid again. They stimulate the fluid tions of the body into vigorous activity, parify the system from the obstructions. While in this condition, oppressed by the decangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the antural action of the system, and with it the bnoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep seared and dangerous distempers. The same purpative effect expels them. Caused by smilar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same reams.
