MONROE DOCTRINE IS EROAD. England Thinks It Binds America to Protect Western Hemisphere New York, Aug. 24.-According to Senator

New York, Aug. 24.—According to Schater Chauncey Dopew, who has just returned from England, a novel proposition in relation to the Monroe Doctrine is being adtion to the Monroe Doctrine is being advanced in Great Britain. In an interview he said: "In England any reference to an international alliance between us is taken most seriously. Great Britain is standing off against all the world except us. And, do you know, they have formed an entirely new idea of the application of the Monroe Doctrine, as I found out since I have been away. No other country across the sea seems to look at it in that light.

"Great men of England have informed me that the Monroe Doctrine is a rule whereby the United States undertakes to protect all the countries of the Western Hemisthers against invasion from across the Seas. They think, therefore, that if the so-called Triple Alliance should make war against England and attack her colonies the United States would be obliged to protect the British dominions in America with an army and navy. That's a new thought, tion to the Monroe Doctrine is being ad
