PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"The Sky Pilot."
The Royal Alexandra Theatre will come forward on Monday, October 1, with one of its foremost offerings of the season when Miss Elizabeth Marbury and Mr. Lee Shubert will present for its first local engagement the widely-heralded and highly praised novel musical entertainment, "Love o' Mike," which has but recently ended a phenomenally prosperous run of nine months in New York City.

"Mutt and Jeff Divorced."
The latest edition of the musical farce comedies in which Bud Fisher's cartoon comedians, Mutt and Jeff, are the principals, is entitled "Mutt and Jeff Divorced," and will be the offering at the Grand Opera House next week. The two dolls have a happy medium for their antics and the way they whirl thru its nonsense and gaiety is said to be a panacea for all ailments. During the week the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

Loew's.
For sheer grit and pluck the diminutive Marguerite Clark has no superior. In her latest photodrama production, "The Amazons," which comes to Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden next week, Miss Clark plays a tomboyish sort of a girl, who fences, boxes, rides and swims exactly like a boy.

Gaiety.
Good comedy, handsome costumes, proper scenic environment, a stellar cast and all other burlesque essentials are embodied in the production which will be given at the Gaiety Theatre all next week by Petrol and his company. The laughable situations are admirably handled by a superior cast, which includes such a well-known burlesque favorite as Clara Evans.

Star.
If pep, speed, pretty girls, real comedians, good scenery, beautiful scenery and gorgeous costumes count for anything then Chas. M. Baker's "Speedway Girls," next week's attraction at the Star Theatre, should make its mark.

"On Trial."
Productions which are seen at the Regent Theatre are out of the ordinary. "On Trial," the feature this week, is no exception. The original play has lent itself well to the art of motion pictures and its gripping and lasting appeal is emphasized and enlarged in a way that is impossible upon the stage. Frank Oldfield, the well-known baritone soloist, is an added attraction.

Gail Kane at Strand.
For today, tomorrow and Saturday a feature of superlative strength will be presented at the Strand Theatre. This is "The Bride's Silence," with Gail Kane, the famous Broadway stage star, who is acclaimed by common consent as one of the most beautiful and talented screen actresses of the day, in the leading role. The production is a thrilling mystery drama.

Fine Film at Madison.
An exceptionally fine feature is the photoplay "Fighting the Pirates," a vivid document of naval and military life, which will be presented at the Madison Theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday. The talented and beautiful Gail Kane is seen in the stellar role, and the plot, which is treated very originally, turns on the rivalry in love between a naval and a military officer.

THE BOATS ARE STILL RUNNING TO NIAGARA AND HAMILTON.

Just cool enough for freshness—this "summery" September weather makes boat trips more delightful than in July or August. That folks appreciate this fully is evidenced by the number who are getting in a few more trips across the lake. The Niagara boats are still running at 7.30 a.m., 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 5.15 p.m., and the Hamilton trip has two boats a day each way, leaving Toronto and Hamilton at 9 a.m. and 5.30 p.m. (Sunday service to Hamilton has been discontinued).
