CANADIANS HOLD GENERAL ALDERSON, LEADER, IN THE HIGHEST REGARD

Letter From Driver W. L. Hickey of St. John Tells of Congratulatory Messages

Echoes of the big battle in which the Canadians won an undying reputation, and admiration for their commanding officers are the chief features of a letter from Driver William L. Hickey to his mother, Mrs. Robert R. Hickey, 14 Sydney street. He says:
"Just a line to let you know that I am still alive and well, which is saying something, considering everything."
"No doubt by this time you have heard of our work and the good name we have won. Our artillery and infantry have made a name which can hardly be equalled for years to come."
"I would like to tell you that there is no better man wearing the king's uniform to lead and get along with the Canadian troops than General Alderson. He is the finest man in the whole outfit. He likes us and we like him. He has even said that he is proud to think that he has the honor to lead us and we have all sworn to ourselves that he shall never be ashamed of us."
"We have had about fifteen despatches read out to us by our commanding officer, from the king and queen, Lord Kitchener, the Duke of Connaught and other big people, all congratulating us on our behavior, and you know that is some honor. I would not have missed this for anything even if we do take a chance."
"We are out now for a rest; I don't know how long, but, believe me, we needed it. On different occasions we have been as much as five and six days and nights with hardly an hour out of the saddle. That pulls a man down although Johnny and I are just as fat as ever. For some time we have been sleeping together, we build a little tent of our blankets and rubber sheets and are not so badly off."
Driver Hickey also speaks in warm appreciation of the receipt of a parcel containing smoking material.

FIRE IN REFINERY

Blaze in Shipping Department Does Considerable Damage

Fire, which broke out in the Atlantic Sugar Refinery at 7:30 o'clock this morning did considerable damage. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained as far, but as sugar is very inflammable, it was not surprising that it spread rapidly when it did start. The fireproof construction of the building and the great safeguards against fire which have been provided prevented the fire from spreading. The blaze occurred in the shipping department on the ground floor of the eastern end of the main building and was confined to that portion of the building. Considerable damage to the manufactured stock stored there was caused by smoke and water as well as by the fire, but the prompt and efficient work of the fire department prevented greater damage.
The loss is covered by insurance.
The destruction of the small stock stored on the ground floor means a substantial loss, but the adjustment has been made, it is difficult to estimate the value of the sugar destroyed. The damage to the building was not serious and all losses are fully covered by the insurance, placed through the Montreal office.
Fortunately there was no surplus stock on the upper floors and the fire was not allowed to interfere with the filling of orders, shipments are being made again and the officials do not expect that the loss of sugar will mean any delay or inconvenience to their customers.

SEVEN OF CREW DEAD; 28 ARE ILL WITH BERT-BERI

New York, May 27.—The British steamer Dewa, with sugar from Newfoundland, came into port last night with twenty-eight of her crew of forty men suffering from beri-beri. Since leaving Cuba seven of the crew died from the disease and were buried at sea. Most of the work aboard the ship had to be done by the officers, and engineers were compelled to go into the stove hole and help feed the boilers.
The Dewa was taken in charge by Health Officer O'Connell, who will remain on the ship until the crew is landed today for observation and treatment.

STILL AT CENTRAL

The liquor, seized by Detective Worell recently in the home of Archie Green, is still at central police station. Magistrate Ritchie in dismissing the case against Green, suggested that the liquor be disposed of by the police and the proceeds given to Green. The police decline to have anything to do with the selling of the liquor. They consider they would leave themselves liable if they sold the liquor.

Corp. H. W. Cunningham Of St. John Writes Of Terrible Fight

HE HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Rifle Smashed and Himself Hit But Uninjured—Great Battle Has Shown Canadians They Are Better Fighters Than The Germans

A very welcome letter has been received by Mrs. S. A. Cunningham, City Road, from her son, Corp. H. W. Cunningham, 2nd Batt. It is here given in part:
Dear Mother: I suppose you already have the news of our big battle and are worrying. Well mother I am one of the few who came through alive and unscathed. God certainly showed his kindness. I cannot begin to tell on paper the horrors of those nineteen hours which was about the length of time our little handful of Canadians held back ten times their number.
We were camped quietly one night where the road seemed to turn into one solid mass of men, women and children. The French had been overcome by the German gas and had let them through. Then it was that a way had to be found to close the gap and our boys were sent in. My company went up the hill just after dawn and faced 1,000 yards of open ground, raked by machine guns, rifles and artillery. The slaughter was fierce but once the good old Canadians got a foothold within 400 yards nothing on earth could move them. The Germans came at us in thousands, six deep and I am sure they lost more than we did. All day long they tried to smash us but not until our artillery and several regiments of English arrived did we move and then we were ordered to retire.
I lost nearly all our officers in our battalion and in my company out of 261 who went up the hill only 65 were on parade for muster roll. Some of the other companies lost more than we did. My rifle was smashed and I was hit in two places but not even scratched. The English give us all the credit but if they had not come when they did we would have been cleaned out.
We were out the other night protecting the engineers and some of the boys got some splendid souvenirs such as Gurka knives.
There are some awful sights in the field still but I think this big battle will make us pretty good soldiers. We are no longer timid about meeting the Germans because we know we are better than they are. They are awful cowards when it comes to the bayonet.
This has been the biggest battle of the war and it is a very small chance of us having another go like this. In conclusion he speaks of a lot of their mail being sent.

SELF DENIAL DAY

There appears to be some misunderstanding with regard to what is asked of the citizens on Self Denial Day, June 3, for the benefit of the starving Belgians. Nothing but money is asked for. The little boxes to be distributed in homes and elsewhere throughout the city are to be given out in order that everyone may deprive himself or herself of something that day, and put the money that would otherwise be spent in the little box for the Belgians. This will enable everybody to contribute something, however small, to the sum, and the total amount thus collected over the whole city will be a substantial contribution. With three millions of Belgians practically living on such contributions, it will be seen that however much St. John may give it will be very small in comparison with the need. We owe the Belgians a great debt. Self Denial Day should appeal to old and young, rich and poor.

PRESENTATION

Miss Annie Steel and Miss Nan Orr severed their connection with the Cornwall cotton mill at noon today, and in view of their approaching marriage, each received a silver cake basket and a scallop dish from their girl associates. Charles Bridgen made the presentation to Miss Steel, and John Orr to his sister. The two have the heartiest good wishes of all their associates in the big mill.
