

Whenever a pupil is entered in College, the Faculty consider that an implied contract is made between themselves and the patron, by which the latter is as much bound to continue the pupil in College until the close of the session as the Faculty are bound to instruct her for that time. Those who take away their daughters for a few days, without weighty reasons for such absence, not only impair the scholarship of their daughters, but impose unnecessary trouble upon the Faculty, and introduce a restlessness in the minds of all, very unfavorable to study.
