THE TREATY SHORE

THE MATTER RAPIDLY APPROACHING A SERIOUS CRISIS.

A History of the Manner in Which the French Acquired the Rights—Hardships of Newfoundlanders—The French Consistently Exceeded Their Authority.

New York, May 7.—The report upon the French treaty shore question in Newfoundland, presented to Parliament a few days ago, forms a most extraordinary chapter in the history of British colonial possession. In the light of its revelations as to the treatment the colonists have been subjected to in order to please the French, the correspondent of the Herald, from whom the following exclusive report is obtained, declares it is strange that Newfoundland has not long ago been revolted.

CONCLUSIONS IN THE REPORT.

The general conclusion of the commission is that the French cod fishing rights on the treaty coast are now valueless and should be extinguished by a cash payment or concession of territory; that the lobster industry is on the decline and should be settled on the same basis; that the colony should give the French free trade in their fisheries, but not to winter on the coast, nor to establish any permanent structures.

DISPOSAL OF THE LOBSTER INDUSTRY.

The commissioners treat the question of lobster fishing as of great importance to France, and the original right to take cod, and the lobster industry is not "very fish," that brick factories with corrugated iron roofs are not "necessary," as existed for carrying on the cod fishery two centuries ago, and that in 1877 the settlers began packing lobsters; that the French did not then object to the right for themselves to pack lobsters, but that the French refused to allow the right to be exercised by the colony.

Elevator Men Will Strike if Shovelers Show Greater Strength—Contractors Have Begun Importing New Men—Most of Them Enticed Away by the Strikers.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 7.—President Johnson, of the state board of mediation and arbitration, H. D. Goulier, attorney for the Lake Carriers Association, and Mr. Douglas, representing the Western Elevating Association, called on Bishop Quigley of the Catholic diocese of Buffalo today and asked him to endeavor to induce the grain shovelers to accept the proposition made by Contractor Connors.

The result of the conference could not be ascertained. It is understood, however, that Bishop Quigley requested time for consideration and consultation with the priests in whose parishes the trouble is centered. The fact that Mr. Goulier intends to remain over in Buffalo until tomorrow night is believed to indicate that Bishop Quigley will make known his views some time tomorrow.

The monthly men thought it would be best to stick to their elevators as long as Mr. Connors is unable to obtain a sufficient number of shovelers to make the grain. A delegation from the grain shovelers' union was present at the meeting.

Contractor Connors is beginning to import men from other cities to take the place of the striking grain shovelers. One of his boys, however, Peter Dalton, has opened headquarters in New York and is hiring men to work on the docks here. Dalton started 150 men for Buffalo Saturday. One hundred and seven departed at the ferry landing in New York. The rest were put aboard a Deltaware, Lockport and Western train.
