So much for being in a hurry. "Two young gentlemen while out riding in a buggy yesterday," says the Dallas (Texas)

Heraid, "saw a pocket-book lying in the street, and thinking it contained money they both hurrledly jumped from the buggy to get it. The hurry broke a finger of one of them, and dislocated the ankle of the other and the pocket-book contained nothing to pay for the cost of their jump."

All der long the effort a cremation undertaker's shop, where a disconsolate lover is awaiting results. Lover (to undertaker)—"Sir, is—is she—incinerated yet? If so, please fill this vial with her ashes." Under—"Can't do it, young man. Orders are strict to send 'em all home to her ma; so you can't have nary ash." The lover retires, overwhelmed with emotion.
