ENCOURAGE HOME MANUFACTURE.

New Boot and Shoe Store

We have just opened in the store lately occupied by C. R. THOMPSON, No. 16 Granville Street, next door South of the LONDON HOUSE, a splendid Stock of

BOOTS and SHOES, The greater part of which have been MANUFACTURED BY OURSELVES, AT THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL,

Expressly to suit the times, showing the purchasers the very best value for the smallest amount of money—and feel certain—that we can give better value than any house in the trade, in support of which, we call the attention of the public, to some of the advantages we possess.

FIRST—We make our Staple Goods by HAND at the INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL, and are thus able to produce a much better article than those made by machinery.

SECONDLY—By making our Goods and selling them ourselves, you buy them first hand, hence you have only to pay for the material and some small profit.

THIRDLY—As you buy from the maker his responsibility to you is greater than if he had purchased the goods of another and was selling them again.

If the style and size of the boot does not suit, you can have them made at a trifling additional cost. We sell for CASH and cash only to keep strictly to this we cannot send out for approval, all parcels being paid for before they are sent.

Should they not suit we will return the money.

Consequently the cash buyer is not compelled to pay those bills that are lost as the result of the CREDIT SYSTEM. These with many other advantages we could mention warrant us we think in reasserting that we can give better value than any house in the trade.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS who buy in small lots for Cash, would do well to give us a call before purchasing elsewhere.

FISHERMEN'S and MINER'S BOOTS a Specialty.

VOL XXXII.

"But of that day and that hour, no, not the angels which neither the Son, but the Father," 32nd verse.

"Mid the realms of boundless space Where God holds his dwelling Hangs, conceal'd from other eyes The dial of eternity! Not with Time's great Lord did he Did those wheels begin to run When for ever he is idum They shall circle reft of him. Somewhere on that dial-pane GOD hath fixed an hour of fate He alone the time can tell. When it strikes upon the bell Not the Son Himself has power To declare the fated hour. And upon man's sleepy sight, It striketh like a thief at night There are signs—but none will Light—but darkness fits the day Characters which all might see Heralds its approach to tell. Hark! the trumpet! at its sound Swarms with life the morning Earth opens her sepulchral bed And the sea gives up her dead. Every spirit flesh hath summer Breaks the trance in which it Slumbers, tyrant, master, slave Burst their universal grate: Sire and son, monk, sister, bride, Matron, maiden, mother, bride Those who draw but one short They whose years defrauded of Who shall count that countless All the families of man? He is there—the first whom GOD Summon'd from the lifeless gloom Who—soon soon by sin petrify'd Shams and sorrow up on laid; Now he springs again from clay Shame and sorrow pass'd away, Planting his triumphant tread On the bruised serpent's head. He is there whose living ear Heard the gathering trumpet in Who with quick and unobscured Watched the path of Deity! Hath seen the angels who unfurl The banners of another world. High above in glittering station Powers are ranged in dominion From the fiery orbled wheel Chorus'd hallelujah's peal, Voices, thundering, lightning, Jubilee, with loud acclaim, Till the re-echoing depths of air Kindle with the symphony. Legion'd seraphs there unfold Wings of fiery flaming gold. Saints, array'd in raiment white Elders crowned with golden light Precedoms, virtues oh! the glo Of that matchless consistory. And upon the judgment throne Who is he that sits alone? Man—but that his forehead bore Empire more than mortal share Of God—but that his temper'd eye Seems touch'd with our humanity Millions, millions round him pre Voiceless, powerless, motionless. Now he speaks! but who shall say What the doom his lips convey? For that sentence reach our ear Father, Saviour, comforter! Wash us with thy blood of health Stamp us with thy spirit's sealing Thou hast given us life—oh give More than life—the way to live. "Juv

SEVENTH SESSION OF NOVA SCOTIA CONFERENCE

TRURO, 1890.

The Nova Scotia Conference commenced its Seventh Annual Session on Wednesday at 9 o'clock. President Huestis in the chair.

After the singing of the hymn:

And are we yet alive, the 3rd chap. of Ephesians was by the Secretary, and the Hon. Heminger and Bent led the Conference in prayer.

The roll having been called, the President addressed the Conference referring to the work of the past year. He was thankful that it had been characterized by peace through our borders. It had never been so early even to call together the members of the Conference, except on short time in connection with the session of the Missionary Conference. The year had been one also of successful labor. He thought highly however that a decrease in membership might be reported, but he was owing largely to the numerous removals from the bounds of our Conference. God had kindly given him a measure of physical health the assistance of his brethren, sympathy and forbearance of people he had been able, with some of comfort, to discharge the and responsible duties devolving upon him, and he stood there on this position still to serve his people and the church to the best of his ability in whatever position it might be the providence of God to place
