

Ceiling Protection for Everywhere

Every virtue every plaster ceiling lacks, a Pedlar Art Steel Ceiling has. That is why it is the one right ceiling for any building worth ceiling right, for any room.

Economy for the first thing, — because a Pedlar Ceiling costs no more than good plaster to start with; and it costs far, far less, in the years that follow, because a Pedlar Ceiling never cracks, as the building settles; never flakes nor peels; never lets moisture through; never needs repairs; and lasts as long as the building will. Does plaster?

Hygiene, for the next thing—because a Pedlar Art Steel Ceiling can be washed, scrubbed, disinfected, has no seams nor cracks to harbor germs and contagion and dirt; doesn't absorb smoke and grease and odors; and is as easily kept clean as a window pane. Is plaster?

Safety, for the third thing—for a Pedlar Ceiling being made of steel, moisture can't seep through and bring it crashing down; heavy jars won't work it loose; and of course it safeguards the room above it from fire below, and the room below it from fire above. Will plaster?

Beauty, for the fourth thing,—for Pedlar Art Steel Ceilings, at their first low cost, provide far more rich adornment in their deeply double-stamped, high relief, modern art designs, than you could get in plaster for huge outlay; there is a Pedlar Ceiling to harmonize with any scheme of furnishing; and it can be easily and economically painted to suit any desired color scheme. This is the one ceiling, therefore, which safeguards your purse, your health and any room that it adorns.

It is the one ceiling that is fine enough for a millionaire's home and low-priced enough for a country store,—and the only real common sense ceiling for either place.
