

been added
e. Grammar-sufferings on been, they those of his out for his errible day,

ad complete-
which he had ore had he before his il in anger, ishes of his
who had suf-
e one of all deserved for-from good teacher was himself that a brutal er should be

father was committee did
n the least,
was almost
e committee nt for what se he would would come thirty years

sed, however,
o receive a o appear bevery evening.
to be obliged id his wife,
at that com-

after I get grimly.
school com-
building he sent, and the ded to the

"you have ay years with-

ed assent.
come at last that they are your services"
his breath, er straight in eks," said the sentence.

inued with a d an opportu-
and strength;
you, and force
The school
dition, but we ny risks with ve should find
So we have a leave of the next two ou to devote ss of getting added, quite s to be some-hall above it is."

mitte, without ment, started taking the ng with them.
us of a large
g and middle-of applause as d presently, of ding upon the
or of the city,
king a speech,
he began to
was saying.

of us fellows
the school if
it. Methods come to the
the good old when he goes ay with.

not go out of
of mind and your teaching and cannot be is in grateful that we your ast, have as-

ave heard it
ool committee

Winnipeg, June, 1910.

intend to give you a well-earned leave of absence from your duties, and it would please us much if you would consent to spend the time as, in a sense, our guest. We ask you to accept this purse, which contains enough for a little trip across the water for yourself and family, and a visit to some of the countries that we used to try to tell you about in the geography class.

"We wish you a pleasant journey, a safe return, and many more years of splendid service in the Cushnoc Grammar-School."

The morning paper gave the mayor's speech in full, and it also reported the remarks of other gentlemen present.

But one little speech, made later in the evening, escaped the attention of the newspaper man.

"Mr. Gilson," said Guy Parker, seizing an opportunity for a quiet word with his teacher, "I hope you'll forget how we all carried on in school to-day. We were so full of what was going to happen that we just couldn't hold in. And about that note. You see, I've heard so many people lately bragging about you having flogged them when they went to school that it made me feel envious."

"And all at once it came over me to-day that it would be quite an honor if I could say that I was the last boy that was ever whipped in the Cushnoc Grammar-School. So I up and wrote that note, hoping that you would capture it. I thought that that would do the business, if anything would. You won't lay it up against me, will you, sir?"

The old teacher, as he looked down into the frank, merry face, forgot all the pain that the boy had caused him. "It's all right, Guy," he said, with a smile. "And I think you may rest assured that the honor, such as it is, will never be taken away from you."

What the Teacher Said

Last Sunday Louis made his debut as a Sunday school scholar. Everybody about the house was interested in the event, and for several days preceding the Sabbath various members of the family had taken pains to coach him for the ordeal. They had taught him the Golden Text and the story of the lesson, and finally Louis, arrayed in his best suit of clothes and with a shiny Lincoln penny in his pocket to be dropped into the contribution box, was directed into the path which all good little boys are supposed to tread.

When he came home his relatives and friends were anxious to hear an account of his experiences.

"Well, Louis," said his mother, "did you have a nice time?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Did you say the text?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"And did you remember the lesson?"

"Yes, ma'am. I said it all off by heart."

"And did you put your penny into the basket?"

"Yes, ma'am."

Louis's mother grabbed him up and hugged him ecstatically.

"Oh, you little precious," she said. "Your teacher must have been proud of you. I know she just loved you. She said something to you, didn't she?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"I knew it," said the fond parent. "Come, Louis darling, tell mother what the teacher said to mother's little man."

"She said," was the startling reply, "for me to bring two pennies next Sunday."

It is a Liver Pill.—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

RUBEROID ROOFING

(TRADE MARK REGISTERED)

You have no roof troubles when your house is covered with RUBEROID Roofing, which is weather-proof, sun-proof and fire-resisting.

RUBEROID Roofing resists sudden changes from hot to cold—the kind of changes that cause other roofs to crack and warp.

There are more than 300 imitations of RUBEROID, which is an evidence of its merits. Inferior articles are never imitated.

You can always identify it by the picture of the RUBEROID man on the outside of the roll and the word "RUBEROID" stamped every few feet on the underside of the material.

RUBEROID costs less to maintain than shingles, tin, slate, or any other ordinary roofing.

THE STANDARD PAINT COMPANY OF CANADA LIMITED MANUFACTURERS, MONTREAL. AGENTS EVERYWHERE.

FREE ROOFING BOOK

For your name and address we will mail you an instructive book on roofing—"All About Roofing."

Ask your dealer to show you a sample of the "17 year-old" RUBEROID roof. This sample was cut from a roof laid in 1892, and exposed to the weather for 17 years. If your dealer does not happen to have a sample, write to us direct and we will send you one by mail.

"Too Late—The Washing's Done. You Have Missed All The Fun"

The "NEW CENTURY" takes all the work out of wash-day.

It makes wash-day, the easiest day of the week to the woman who does her own work.

The "NEW CENTURY"—with its ball bearings, powerful spiral springs and easy action—enables even a child to wash a tubful of clothes in five minutes.

Why don't YOU learn more about the no-work way of washing at home? Our booklets tell the whole story. Write for them.

CUMMER-DOWSWELL LIMITED, Hamilton.

$122,000.00 FOR A SECRET

The Carbon Oil Works, Limited, are not in the Petroleum Oil business, as some people think, but are manufacturers of oils derived from Coal-Tar. These oils are extracted from tar by a secret process without distillation, and the oils thus extracted have been proved by scientists to be of great medicinal value. Physicians thoroughly tested these Basic Oils and pronounced them to be a positive cure for Eczema, Psoriasis, and a number of other skin diseases. We succeeded in adapting these oils for ordinary use by producing "TAROLEMA," which is put up in ointment form in fancy white jars and sold by all reliable druggists at 50 cents per pot. The Carbon Oil Works, Limited, which is composed of a number of representative western business men, purchased the right to make their oils by the secret process above mentioned for the sum of $122,000.00, and they beg respectfully to suggest that they are willing to stake the Company's reputation on the statements made herein.