

Assessment night sittings

BRAMPTON—It will be up to the Court of Revision, whether night sittings are held in Mississauga, following the reassessment now in progress.

Frank McKechnie, of Malton, asked Carl Madgett, county assessment commissioner if it would be possible to arrange the night sittings for people who might have to lose time from their work at day sittings.

"There are a lot of people in these circumstances in an urbanized area," he told a meeting of county general 2 committee.

"I have no objections," said Mr. Madgett, "we tried it several years ago, but attendance at the night sittings was terrible, so we switched to days and have had few complaints."

"We didn't of course know whether the few complaints received were the voice of many or just a few," he said.

"In the north end of the county, where the reassessment is completed, we didn't know what to expect, so the meetings were held during the day."

Mr. Madgett pointed out it is up to the clerk of the Court of Revision to set up the appeals in roll number order, but how the clerk could choose who would appear and when, was hard to say.

"We did this in Brampton," said mayor William Brydon, "but we left it in the hands of the court to try and accommodate people affected. It is nice to have it in the daytime when needed information is available from the commissioner's office."

"We opened our office until 9 p.m. two years ago and only one person showed up," said Mississauga deputy reeve Roy McMillan.

It's story time every Saturday morning at the Central Library, Cooksville. In above photo Mrs. Corkum reads to the 6 to 10 year old class.

Carol Anne Gilbert won the Maude Durham Coatsworth award for proficiency in medical nursing when she graduated in the Toronto General Hospital's 1968 class.
