The Champion Clyde at Toronto

In our report of the Industrial Fair appeared in last issue it was stated that Baron Primrose, shown by Graham Bros., won the championship for the best Clydesdale stallion. While the championclydesdale stallon. While the champion-ship went to Graham Bros., it was for their splendid three-year-old, Cairnhill (Imp.). He is a black, stands up well, (imp.). Fre is a back, stands up weil, with good action and size. He was bred by Jno. Struthers, Longhouse, Hurfford, Scotland; sire, Ethiopia (5750); dam, Bess of Longhouse (14858). He was clearly a winner and rightly entitled to the championship. He won first in his class at the Spring Stallion Show last February, when only a few hours off the train, standing next to Stately City for the championship. He was in splendid trim at Toronto and will no doubt be heard from again at the International at Chicago

"The Farming World Man on the Wing."

Mr. E. C. Atrill, of Goderich, has sold Mr. E. C. Atrill, or Goderich, has sold his newly imported hackney stallion, Lang-ton's Danegelt, to W. C. Kidd, the veteran light horse breeder and trainer of Listowel, ont., for a good figure. This animal is a flash show horse, chestnut in color, with white legs and feet, and fine trappy action. He is a son of the celebrated "Performer," and his dam is Lady Danegelt. He was strong competition for the winner at the London Exhibition, and it was a freel expressed opinion that the claim of Sorby champion to the place was very slight, if valid at all. Mr. Kidd also took with him from the Atrill stables the three-year-old Clyde stallion Corsack Squire, a goodly son of King of Kyle. J. and J. M. Gardhouse hung out the colored goods on the Clydesdale clothesline at London Fair to the tune of the "Irish Washwoman," and when they got through, though it was not generally necess necessary reason why they placed it where they did. This would have bothered the judges of this class at Toronto, in several cases Bawdin & McDonald, of Exeter, Ont., have landed a good lot of horses, Shires, Clydes and Hackneys at their stables from across the Atlantic. They are a good lot all round, and as a class are remarkably well adapted for Ontario and the west. Merry Mason, vol. 26, by Captain Alexander[10175] is a nice, smooth, dap bay with fine feather, limbs and feet. Cannongate is an aged horse who has won cannongate is an aged noise who has won considerable fame in the showrings in Scotland, and stood at £8 service fee. He is a large sized, solid horse, a bay roan in color, with the best of limbs and feet, good pasterns, with a strong well coupled body. He is a tall horse on short legs and of a very fine quality. Dewdrop, a four-year-old Hackney, by Moor, a fine chestnut in color and of the finest conformation, is a horse that should be a welcome addition to the number of Hacksires, that are already proving the ty of the breed in Canada. Buller, another hackney stallion in the stables of Messrs. Bawdin & McDonald, is a horse of the thick sturdy type so popular in England. He is a rich brown in color, little or no white and looks the gentleman all over. Messrs. Bawdin & McDonald are veterans in the importing business and can be depended upon to select the right kinds of goods every time.

The Western Fair exhibition was made the occasion of a very appropriate act on the part of the livestock men attending there. It was the presentation to Miss Alice Harrison, the assistant secretary, of a purse and sixty dollars, "as a token of appreciation of her courtesy to them during this and past years."

The stockmen stand ready to do this The stockmen stand ready to do this over again, every time they can find an opportunity, that will do equal credit to their judgment in awarding the honor. But opportunities are rather scarce. Perhaps A. C. Trebilocok might stand a good chance after one or two more spirited campaigns like the last one. He's a jolly good fellow, anyway. There are some others there who do not stand half the chance and who need the lesson more. Douglass Bros., of Strathrov, Ont., did

Douglass Bros., of Strathroy, Ont., did not get out to the big fairs this year, but they have a pretty good aggregation of Scotch-topped Shorthorns that are of the (Continued on page 705.)
