On Inventions and Un- earned Increment.

Editor "The Farmer's Advocate":

In regard to Mr. McArthur's remarks on the rewards for inventing, I would claim it is mental power by which inventions should be rated. A machine may cost a million dollars to produce, yet the original thought in it may be only a minor power, and a sonnet on a dirty scrap of paper may be by Shakespeare. I think inventions should be passed on by a jury or umpire, and a Government reward made to the inventor, after which the invention would be free for anyone to use. The reward might be subject to revision at intervals during the inventor's life. Freedom to use inventions is much more necessary than perfect justice to the individual inventor. Inventing is an uncontrollable habit. As to unearned increment in inventions, books, etc., the difference between those things and land is that the use by anyone of an invention does not make it in any degree more difficult for someone else to use the same invention or read the same book. The use of land lessens the quality of land available, and at times only a certain parcel of land will suit. When millions of Edison's bulbs are wanted, new bulbs are made to supply the demand. If millions of new house sites are wanted in Toronto, the present limited number of sites will quickly soar in value without fresh effort on the parts of the holders.
That unearned increment should be taxed.

JOHN BUCHANAN.

Increasing the Profits of Dairying.

By following a system of intelligent breeding, selection, care, and feeding, many farmers in Canada have increased the annual production of their milking herds by at least 2,000 lbs. of milk per cow. If this were accomplished in all dairy herds in Canada, the yearly revenue from them would be increased by about $30,000,000 without adding to the size of the herds. Even with greatly improved feeding, this desirable result could not be obtained unless a well-organized system of cow-testing is followed. Such an improvement is based on a study of the individual cow in the herd, the retention of only the good animals, and the following of a system of generous feeding of economically-produced foods.

While it is practicable for individual farmers to test their own cows, it is infinitely easier and cheaper for them if some form of co-operation is adopted.
This is clearly brought out in bulletin No. 33 of the Dairy and Cold-storage Commissioner's Branch, entitled, "Cow-Testing, with Some Notes on the Sampling and Testing of Milk." This work, which is published for free distribution by the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, explains clearly how cow-testing associations are formed and worked, as well as the benefits these are to those who take advantage of them.

GIVING HIMSELF AWAY.

William J. Burns, congratulated on his success in capturing the Musica family of defaulters, said to a New York reporter:

"It is all a matter of observation and analysis. To the good detective, every slightest action speaks volumes.

"I, for example, was once looking for a widower. But the man I had under surveillance stoutly declared himself to be a bachelor. One morning, however, I saw him pay a bill, and in doing so he turned his back to everybody in the room before taking out his pocketbook.

"Instantly I laid my hand on his shoulder.

" 'Come with me,' I said. 'You are no bachelor. You are a widower or a married man.' "

The Jersey Bulletin prints this drive on the Holsteins, taking the precaution to credit it to an exchange: "It is not proposed to drive the Holstein breed into the ocean, or otherwise exterminate it; though, measured by its product, plus a modicum of salt, it would consort admirably with the deep, blue sea." We shall look in the next Holstein-Friesian Register for a reply.

Vigorous Stock

PLENTY of sunlight, clean bedding and fresh air are essential to the maintenance of health in the stable. But even with the best of care, the close confinement and heavy demands made upon the animals always necessitate a tonic and health regulator.

Pratts' Animal Regulator

puts new life and vigor into horses, cows, sheep and hogs.
It is a mild digestive tonic, purifying the blood and gently regulating the bowels, kidneys and digestive organs. It is a preventative of disease, because it supplies just the necessary elements to keep the stock healthy and vigorous when closely confined or overworked.
