mans would strike. So in gratitude, if for no other reason, we should raise a sufficient force to be of real assist: ance and to show that Canadians meant business. So large were the principles involved in this struggle that it behooved us to get out and do our bit. We were prepared to fight as a nation against such principles as Germany upheld. The ladies of the city were largely responsible for the number of sol-diers sent away. They were to be praised for it was they who made sacrifices in sending away their men. Canada above all other British col-onies should get behind the Mother-land and give all her strength in the support. The hardships were not so great at the front. It was true that there were disagreable ones at times, but there were also glorious opportunit-ies. The importance of a man's life was not determined by its length, but he what he had accomplished in that was not determined by its length, but by what he had accomplished in that time; whether he had done his duty or not. It is better to have had a short life and know that you had done your tually must go, and it will be the or not. It is better to have had a short life and know that you had done your duty, than to have had a long, sel-fish and unworthy life. "So enlist now, boys, and do your duty," con-cluded the speaker vigorously. CENERAL LOCEE

cluded the speaker vigorously. GENERAL LOGIE. The chairman then introduced Brigadier General Logie, G.O.C. 2nd Division. He stated that Brantford had produced Colonels galore, but it was not often that Brant-fordites had the privilege of seeing a real, live general, and especially one with such military experience. He also stated that the General had been given a command and would go over. seas very soon. "If the Germans have not been shoved back yet, they surely will when they hear of the General's approach." The General stated that he had come at the request of the chairman.

FRENCH ARTILLERY ON THE ROAD, NEAR SALONICA. FROM THE LONDON SPHERE .

The supreme difficulty at the scene of operations in the Balkans is that of transport, which will, unfortunately, crease with the winter weather. Cars and motor ambulance wagons are in use now, but the wretched country road, with its stretches of holes and ruts, makes the worst possible conditions for them. The horse transport is also serisly hindered by the amount of traffic on some of the trunk roads, which are sometimes blocked for this reason, to love mercy, and to walk fulmoly with Thee our God. And we beseech Thee to give them a reward and honor of faithful service, a clear con-science, the confidence and regard of those they serve, and we humbly ask these blessings in the name of Him who saith, "I am among you as he that serveth, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Our Father, which art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name; Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth as it is done in Heaven; give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasse as we forgive those who trespass against us, lead us not into temptation but deliver us from all evil, for Thine is the Kingdom, the power and glory, for ever and ever. Amen.
