On the conconsider yesterday's adverse vote in my own case, an incident rather than a climax in my D career. Considering everything, 1 am not at all discouraged with the result, and quite cheerfully accept the decision of the electors. Sincere ly thanking my friends and support ers for their zealous efforts in my behalf during the past week." Mayor Bowlby, when questioned, said, "I am profoundly thankful for the election of what I think will be I a sympathetic council, and also for the public confidence placed in myself. I hope that we will have business-like and successful year in the interests of the citizens." The Two By-Laws

The two by-laws, Gas and Hydro, carried by sweeping majorities. The L citizens evidently are tired of what they have been subjected to in the I former case, while as to Hydro, they are willing to trust Sir Adam Street Railway Commissionership Mr. Turnbull was returned as Street Railway Commissioner by a handsome majority. The public evidently realized that he had done good service in the position that it would be a mistake to inauguarate a change.
