Comfort Bag Social.

On Monday evening next, a comfort bag social will be held in the vestry of the Methodist church by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. Each member is privileged and requested to attend, and bring a friend with her. No admission fee is charged, but the union will welcome contributions to the comfort bag, composed of the following articles: Bible or testament, gospel hymn book, coarse needles and darning in book, cake of soap, coarse linen thread, cotton for bandages, pins, pencils, paper and envelopes, healing salve, court plaster, buttons and coarse yarn. The program will close with refreshments. This line of effort is among the most practical and beneficial of the Union's departments and deserves full recognition and encouragement. By it the Bible is introduced into the lumber shanties of the northern woods and the hardy workmen exiled from home and all refining social influences are made to feel by the receipt of the comfort bag that a band of christian women sympathize with them in their isolation and desire to ameliorate their condition. The contents of these bags are always welcome in the lumber camps and we learn from the annual report of the provincial Union that during the past season they have saved more than one person's life. One in particular is mentioned, "a man terribly wounded, 20 miles from a doctor, the only available white cotton being the contents of a W. C. T. U. comfort bag, over which the wounded man's comrades spread their red pocket handkerchiefs and carried him on a stretcher to a doctor."

Mr. Crane's Farewell. On Sabbath morning last Rev. E. W. Crane, pastor of the Methodist church, addressed his farewell sermon to a large congregation. An able speaker, an indefatigable laborer in every department of church work, a capable financier, Mr. Crane's departure from Athens occasions regret among his people and citizens generally. His advocacy of prohibition of the liquor traffic and his strong endorsement of the work of the W. C. T. U. won for him the esteem of that society, and they testified their appreciation of his help and favor by presenting him and Mrs. Crane, who is a member of the Union, with an address and a silver cake-knife, the latter suitably engraved. The presentation took place at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Stone, Elma street, on Friday evening last. On Tuesday evening the members of the Epworth League, the importance of whose work Mr. Crane has always been quick to recognize and support, presented him and Mrs. Crane with an address and a beautiful silver dish. It was a social evening with the League and after devotional exercises, singing, and an excellent address by Mr. Crane, refreshments were served. "God be with you till we meet again," sung with deep feeling, formed a fitting close to this memorable service. Rev. Mr. Crane goes to his new charge in Montreal this week, but Mrs. Crane and family will remain for a short time here and at Charleston Lake.

Men's Stogie and Harvest boots, 90c $1.00, 1.25, 1.50 at Kendrick's.

Miss Florence Stone left Athens last week for Toronto, her former home where she will remain for a few days visiting friends.

About seventy salmon were taken out of Charleston in one day this week. Four of the catch made by one angler weighed 41 pounds.

Clothing—we have it in style and quality. Children's linen suits in large variety. Children's 2-piece suits $2.00, 2.25, 2.50 and upwards.—T. S. Kendrick.

Many articles appear in agricultural papers on how to make sheep pay, how to make poultry pay and so on. But most of us would like to know how to make dead beats pay.

Mr. S. Laughlin of Toronto has been spending a few days with friends in Athens and is now at Idle White cottage, Charleston lake, the guest of Capt. and Mrs. Phillips.

Rev. Geo. Wiltsie, of Ohio, who has been for a few days the guest of his brother, Mr. Wilson H. Wiltsie, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church on Sunday evening and delivered an excellent sermon to a large congregation.

A few days ago, Mr. Pollard was badly bitten on the left arm by a dog belonging to Mr. Peter Cobey. Such a vicious animal should not be allowed to live, as it is a serious menace to the life of any little child that its evil nature should prompt it to attack.

We take the following note from the Elizabeth City (North Carolina) Economist of June 7th: A new band will be organized under the management of Mr. J. C. Eaton, leader of the fire company band, for the purpose of instructing amateurs. The first meeting will probably be called for Saturday night next.

The members of the Canadian Order of Foresters have arranged to hold a strawberry festival on the lawn of Mr. Milton Kilborn, near Frankville, on the evening of Tuesday, June 25th. There will be addresses, music and a sumptuous supper. Other refreshments may be obtained at a booth on the lawn. Admission to ground single, 25c; double, 40c; children, 15c. Mr. Kilborn's lawn is admirably suited for such a purpose and the programme is such as to ensure a large attendance.

On Wednesday evening last, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stone, church street, Miss Elizabeth A. Stone and Mr. W. Anson Hill were united in matrimonial bonds. The apartments of the cozy home had been suitably decorated for the occasion and presented a very festive appearance, an abundance of flowers and the luxuriant foliage of June producing a pretty effect. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Geo. N. Simmons, B. A., pastor of the Baptist church, in the presence of only a few relatives and intimate friends. After the contracting parties had received the congratulations of the guests all sat down to an elegant repast. The evening was passed very pleasantly with games and social converse and the guests took leave of their host and hostess at an early hour. The Reporter extends congratulations with best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Hill.

On Sabbath morning last Rev. E. W. Crane, pastor of the Methodist church, addressed his farewell sermon to a large congregation. An able speaker, an indefatigable laborer in every department of church work, a capable financier, Mr. Crane's departure from Athens occasions regret among his people and citizens generally. His advocacy of prohibition of the liquor traffic and his strong endorsement of the work of the W. C. T. U. won for him the esteem of that society, and they testified their appreciation of his help and favor by presenting him and Mrs. Crane, who is a member of the Union, with an address and a silver cake-knife, the latter suitably engraved. The presentation took place at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Stone, Elma street, on Friday evening last. Mr. Crane goes to his new charge in Montreal this week, but Mrs. Crane and family will remain for a short time here and at Charleston Lake.

Prohibition Convention.

The prohibitionists are called to a rally in Toronto on July 9th, and an effort will be made to infuse new life into the prohibition question.

The idea is to press for prohibition in the provinces where public sentiment warrants it, a decision on the appeals to the privy council from Manitoba and Prince Edward Island being given in its favour. To some it would seem preferable that the prohibitionists should wait until this point has been settled. The lower court has decided against it, and the court of final jurisdiction may do the same. Then the remedy for any defect in the license law can be pressed for with more force and effect.

Advantage is to be taken meanwhile of the assurance of the Ontario government that the law will be amended in accordance with public opinion. So certain things are being urged, to wit, the refusal of a license to any locality a majority of the electors protesting; the refusal to sell liquor to children under any circumstances; the forcing of a plebiscite on any municipality in which twenty-five per cent of the voters petition for it; the increasing of fines to frequent offenders or the withholding of licenses from them.—Whig.
