Hard Island

A pleasant event took place on Tuesday evening last at the home of Mr and Mrs P. F. Yates when a goodly number of friends and neighbors gathered previous to their departure to their Athenian home. The evening was enjoyably spent with music and singing and in friendly converse, except for a short season of well improved (the none the less enjoyable) time spent in partaking of a bountiful supply of refreshments. At the proper time the following address was read by Mr W. Henderson and a most commodious chair presented in behalf of the company by Mr H. Stephenson.
Dear Mr and Mrs Yates—

With deep regret we learned of your intended departure from our neighborhood and to-night to assure you of our sorrow in losing you and to wish you every happiness in your new home.

During the time you have lived among us you have proved yourselves kind and always ready to extend a helping hand to those in trouble or sorrow and your absence will be deeply felt by those with whom you have associated.

As a token of goodwill we beg you to accept this gift from your neighbors and friends, and we hope that God may long spare you to enjoy it and all the other comforts of your new home.

Strong Position of Standard Bank

During the period of industrial readjustment such as Canada, in common with the other countries of the world, is now passing through, the statements of the leading banks of the country have a special significance.

The Standard Bank of Canada is now forwarding its annual report to shareholders and it discloses a position that will be found particularly reassuring. The strength of the Canadian banking system was never more clearly proved than during the war period. At the present the advantages of the system are also being reflected by the manner in which the ordinary lines of business and lending constructive assistance to the trade and commerce of the country.

The business of every section of the Dominion is growing and the Standard Bank is making provision to handle a still larger amount of the business in its territory by increasing both its Capital and Reserves. During the war period various thrift campaigns were carried out. It is evident that they have had a good effect on the Canadian people. Even during the past year the Standard Bank is able to report a substantial gain in savings deposits, notwithstanding the fact that in the earlier part of the year large withdrawals were undoubtedly made by people who had made purchases in connection with the last Victory Loan campaign.

Careful and conservative management has always been the policy of the Standard Bank and in view of this policy it must be particularly satisfactory to shareholders to know that the management have found it possible to recommend to the board of Directors an increase in the dividend distribution from 13 to 14 per cent.

With the larger resources at its disposal, the Standard Bank should be able to play a still more important part in the development of the district which it serves and at the same time pay a good return on capital to its many Canadian shareholders.
