THE COMIC SUPPLEMENT.

The Woman's Home Companion has joined the other high class magazines and raises its voice in protest against the vulgar pictures which are appearing in so many of the Sunday Supplements. It is well worthy of being copied into every Canadian paper, as the feature which has been so criticized by Canadians is gradually creeping into our own papers, and must tend to lowering the taste of our children. Below is the extract:

Some of us do not read the Sunday papers at all; some do not think it right, still more do not think it wise. But in this day I venture to say that every one of us has at least seen a Sunday supplement. Many of us have seen our own children, or our neighbor's children, poring over the atrocious daubs representing still more atrocious pursuits of the elusive joke. We all know the harm they do.

I asked an artist whose name is a household word in at least half a million homes why he made such awful pictures for the colored supplements.

His answer was short:

"Because the people like them."

In the next sentence he confessed that he did not allow his two boys to see his own pictures. In fact, he never let the Sunday supplements come into his house. Unconsciously he was placing himself in the same class with the saloon keeper who does not drink and the gambling-house keeper who never touches cards.

The artist himself doesn't like the pictures; you don't like them; I don't like them. Take a canvass in your neighborhood, and you will find that your neighbors don't like them.

Who are "the people," anyhow?

In this instance untrained children are responsible for the demand. Of course your baby likes them. Doesn't he like red scarfs for the masquerade neck, and wouldn't he scream for joy if his father donned pink trousers? Isn't he fond of runaway horses and fast-moving trains—of action wherever he can find or make it? That's why he likes the pictures in the Sunday paper—they have color and action in abundance. In the same way he has enjoyed the pleasing stanzas of Mother Goose, with their marginal illustrations. The essential qualities are there and the vulgarities are spared.

There is a demand, a real demand, for pictures of consecutive action clearly drawn and without the accompanying incidents of pouring red ink down a speaking tube or sawing the legs off the dining-room table.

Well, the remedy is in your own hands. We have only to quote one of the cardinal prescriptions of modern life:

"When you don't like a thing, say so."

In this case "say so" to the editor of your paper; write it to him, get your neighbor to write him, too. Build up an endless chain of criticism and protest if you will, and see how soon the objectionable pictures will be dropped.

If we cannot be funny, without setting a bad example to our children, let us even be serious.

CHANGE IN UNITED STATES SUBSCRIPTION RATES

The Planet, in common with all other newspapers of Canada, has been notified by the Postoffice Department at Ottawa that on and after May 8th next, the rate of postage on papers entering the United States will be changed from one-half price of The Daily Planet sent to the cent for every four ounces or fraction of four ounces.

This means that single papers entering the United States will each require one-cent postage, that parcels of papers sent to one office will be four cents a pound.

In view of this, after May 8th the price of The Planet sent to the United States will be $5 per annum. There is a reduction in the actual price of the paper of over $1, as the postage the publishers will be obliged to pay will be $3.12 a year on each subscription. The Weekly Planet will be $1.50 per annum, strictly in advance.

It's so much easier to talk of conversion than it is to manifest courtesy.

Wrinkles are age-tellers. Drive them away by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It's better than cosmetics. It does the business. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

A Mother's Message To Mothers

WHAT ZAM-BUK DID FOR HER CHILD.

"If this statement is the means of leading some mother to introduce Zam-Buk to her home, I shall be very glad." So says Mrs. K. Watkins, of 26 Forgue avenue, Montreal, and continues: "My boy, Walter (9), while attending school, contracted some sores. These spread, and became so bad that some of them on the heel and ankle made it almost impossible for him to walk. I used various ointments, but the sores persisted. One day Zam-Buk was recommended, and we got a supply. It seemed to take the soreness out of the place to which it was applied right away, and the wounds began to heal. In about a week's time the sores, which had defied other treatment, were completely healed, and there is now not a trace of sore on his body! I believe Zam-Buk to be the best balm ever produced."

When a mother rubs on to the delicate skin of children a balm or salve, she needs to be as careful as if she were giving a child an internal remedy. Zam-Buk is pure—free from all animal fat and all mineral matter, and may be applied with wonderful benefit even to the skin of young babes. Zam-Buk heals sores, cures eczema, spring skin eruptions, ulcers, ringworm, itch, barber's rash, blood poison, bad leg, salt rheum, abrasions, abscesses, cuts, burns, scalds, and all skin injuries and diseases. Of all stores and druggists at 50 cents, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, six boxes for $2.50. Baseball players and athletes find it best embrocation.

Britain's Peace Envoys.

London, April 23.—The British delegates to the peace conference at The Hague are:

Sir Edward Fry, ex-Lord Justice of Appeal, and a member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague; Sir Ernest Shaw, ex-British Minister at Tokyo and Peking, and a member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague; Lord Reay, president of the Royal Asiatic Society and University College, London, and a member of the Privy Council, and Sir Henry Howard, the British Minister at The Hague.

DON'T DIE AT 45

Cure The Indigestion Which Is So Liable To Lead To Apoplexy.

Rush of business, eating too fast and too much, excesses of any kind, soon result in indigestion. Then when the digestive organs cannot care for the food properly the coats of the blood vessels in the brain get little nourishment, become brittle, and finally yield to the fierce blood pressure. One is then said to have a "stroke," to be paralyzed, or to die from apoplexy.

People suffering with headache, giddiness, palpitation, sleeplessness, bad taste in the mouth, drowsiness, tired tongue, distress after eating, speckles before the eyes, and any other of the many distressing results of a weakened stomach, should profit by the discovery of Mi-o-na stomach tablets.

In recent years the greatest advance in medicine has been in the study of diseases of digestion and nutrition and no other prescription has proven itself of as much value as Mi-o-na. It is relied upon as a certainty to-day in relieving the worst troubles of digestion and assimilation and making a complete cure.

The strongest proof that can be offered in substantiation of the claims that Mi-o-na will cure the worst forms of stomach trouble, cancer excepted, and give immediate relief in indigestion is the guarantee that C. H. Gunn & Co. give with every 50 cent box of Mi-o-na to refund the money unless Mi-o-na cures. A guarantee like this must inspire confidence in Mi-o-na. C. H. Gunn & Co. take the whole risk and the remedy will not cost you a penny unless it cures.

G. T. R. Shopmen Win.

Port Huron, April 23.—Workmen at the Grand Trunk "block I" shops, who went on strike Thursday for an increase of wages from 10 to 15 cents per hour, received $2.30 per day instead of $1.90 and the woodworkers and laborers were given an increase.

Fire At Sundridge.

Sundridge, April 22.—The general store and dwelling of J. C. Faulkner was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Loss, about 1200; insurance $700.

RESIGN FROM THE WORRY CLUB.

Life is a rush, but we can't all get there together. In consequence, we worry—can't help it because nerves are weak, vitality is burnt up and there's no worrying power left. Out with the worry part, and Buy Tpi Let Ferrozze help you. It's a most strengthening nutritive tonic. Fills the blood with iron, supplies building material for worn out organs, generates the sort of vitality that makes you want to do things. No medicine more helpful for men, women and children who need strength and staying power. Try Ferrozze, 50c per box at all dealers.

Shut Out Lord Aberdeen.

London, April 23.—Lord Aberdeen and party were refused admission to the Canadian Pavilion at Public Exhibition by the man on duty, who said his orders were imperative, though the officials explained who the visitor was. Aberdeen got the name of the man, and said he deserved to be commended.

The army surgeon never figures in as many charges as the family physician.

CLEMENTS SCORES GOVERNMENT

ing and found that evidently this had been drawn to the attention of the Government because there were two or three men there plastering cement into the cracks. That $5,000 as that wharf stands to-day, is a complete loss to the country, and the people are not getting any benefit from it. And this is due solely to the fact that the department put the work in charge of a man who had no experience in it. There was no reason for this because we have there such men as Mr. John Flook, a very capable man for such work, who has done similar work for both this and the late Government, and works which are a credit to any one. We have other men in the same business who would no doubt give satisfaction. Had the contract been given to Mr. Flook or some of the other contractors who would have built a wharf which would have been a credit to the Government and the people's money would not have been thrown away. I am sure that if I wanted to criticise the item of that expenditure, I could make very good reading for my constituency. The department should take active steps without delay. There is no boat which can land within ten or twelve feet of that wharf to-day. Should you attempt to dredge it out, the wharf will fall into the river because the piles are too short and were not driven to their full depth.

The vote we are asked to pass for the wharf at the mouth of the river at the lighthouse is for a very important object. No doubt the wharf is a most important one, which the department must keep up. I notice you have this work in charge of one Mr. Lefebvre. I do not know anything of his ability but I hope he is fit to take charge of that work. But I am told on very good authority—I cannot vouch for it myself—that these piles, which were all driven in, and I think part of the concrete work was done, last fall—I am told these piles are driven right through an old ship's bottom which was sunk there many years ago. Now, if that is the case, it is simply gross negligence on the part of the department in not clearing up that channel properly before these piles were put down. If that is the case, as stated to me by ship owners and those who have every reason to know the conditions, it means that you will have to spend possibly $2,000 to get a diver there and cut this old ship away. I do not blame the acting minister at all for this, and I want to give him credit for the promises he has made us this afternoon. I say again that it is a shame that the people's money should be squandered as it has been, upon this one wharf in particular. I hope the second wharf upon which we are spending another $5,000 will be made more serviceable, and that the money will not be wasted as it has been in this case.

Mr. Clarke, of Essex, in an attempt at a reply, said that he had visited the place several times, and he was assured by the Government engineer that it was a good dock. He said that he understood that the work of dredging was not all done yet.

Mr. Fisher. The department has a photograph of that wharf of which I have spoken. The hon. gentleman's statement that boats cannot go up to it is a mistake.

Mr. Clements. Has the minister a photograph showing a large boat lying at the wharf?

Mr. Fisher. I do not say what size of boat.

Mr. Clements. I want to say to my hon. friend from Essex—Mr. Clarke—has been so often at the mouth of the river that while he claims to the river of which he speaks, the other wharf is one mile from it.

Mr. Clarke. I am sure that the department built that wharf to benefit my hon. friend's constituency as much as my own. I do not care what information the department have here, I say that that wharf has not been twenty-five cents of value to that whole district. I say again that no boat drawing eight feet of water can land within ten feet of that wharf; I say that there has not been a shipment made from that wharf where there could have been many; I say also that the wharf is not completed, that there is no reason for the Government saying that wharf is a good dock and time to complete the dredging. I am surprised at my hon. friend from Essex saying that, because there were two dredges.

Mr. Clarke. No, I say I do not know about the dredging.

Mr. Clements.—There were two dredges lying there, and as soon as a dredge came in to dredge the fact of the wharf in order to give a depth for boats, the wharf spread in two, and it was simply because the piling was not down deep enough. Any competent man, who knows anything about such work, will tell you that if you dare to dredge that out to give a proper draught for boats coming up that river, as it was intended, the face of that wharf will fall into the river. There is only one way in which it can be remedied, and that is for a new facing to be built, farther up the river, and to be put down to the proper depth, so as to thoroughly strengthen it, using the inside for an inner wall.

Kind of fierce to be tied up in a knot at midnight with cramps. Keep Nerviline handy. Ten drops quiet cramps instantly. Used occasionally Nerviline prevents this trouble entirely. Lord Erskine.

From midshipman to lord chancellor is a very far cry. Lord Erskine, however, whom Lord Campbell once described as the greatest advocate of ancient or modern times, did not find much difficulty in reaching the Wool-sack, although he started life as a "midny" and did not settle down to study law until he was twenty-five years of age. His defense of Captain Baillie, prosecuted for his exposures of gross abuses at the admiralty, raised him from an obscure lawyer to a foremost position at the bar, and thirty briefs were offered him before he left the court. From that time until he became chancellor in 1808 his career was marked by a long list of successes.—London Standard.

To Make Your Hair Curl.

A curious recipe for making the hair curl "naturally" is given in an ancient household notebook and is as follows: "In the early spring, when the sap of the wild grapevine begins to flow, take a bottle to the woods and tie it under an incision made in the vine, through which the sap may drip, and leave it there till it is filled. The same subtle chemistry which curls the tendrils of the vine will act upon the hair and twist it into softer rings than the ubiquitous hot iron or any of the patent curlers of the day. The sap should be allowed to ferment all it will before it is used. When ready for use it should be rubbed into the hair with a soft sponge."

It flows like fire through your veins; it does the work. If you're wasting away day by day, take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35c. cents, Tea or Tablets.
