MACEDONIAN

The Inauguration Use Tactics Like Those of Our Indians.

In Macedonia the insurgent bands employ tactics entirely distinctive. Their scouting formation is more like that of American Indians than anything else.

They march in single file, the men ten feet apart. Thus it is difficult to perceive a band's approach from the front, only the leader being visible. First goes a scout several hundred yards in advance of the first bandman. Should he scent danger he utters the cry of a night bird common in Macedonia. When the main band hears this cry, each man throws himself flat on the ground, with his rifle in a position for firing. When the danger has passed, the scout utters another cry, and the band rises and marches on.

Most complicated are the signals that must be exchanged between meeting bands. These signals are changed often, so that Turkish spies may not learn them, and it sometimes takes five minutes to exchange them. They consist of a code of taps on the gun barrel with a stone. Such a tap may be heard almost a mile of a still night.

Thus after the leaders or scouts of the approaching bands have exchanged owl hoots one may tap his barrel three sharp raps. Then each man advances a certain distance, when the first leader raps ten sharp raps, and the second answers with three sharp raps, after which each advances again. The signals are continued until the men meet, when if the bandsmen do not recognize each other by face they exchange passwords.

The gun taps are also used by the scouts. After the first alarm he may give three taps, denoting the approach of bushi bazookas. Two taps may mean regulars and five taps peaceful shepherds. Seven taps may tell the band that a company is approaching, eight a battalion, and three sharp taps with two intervals may mean "Get your bombs ready. We are surrounded." Then each bandman utters a prayer and prepares for a desperate fight.—New York Press.

Team of Moose.

Jack McQuestion, who runs a farm at Forty Mile, on the Yukon river, in Alaska, has the most remarkable farm team on the American continent. It is nothing less than a pair of four-year-old moose, captured while young, broken to the harness and trained to serve as draft animals. McQuestion was an early camper in the Klondike, but he did not succeed in locating any valuable claims, and the high price of farm and garden produce in the country induced him to abandon prospecting and take to farming instead. So he located on the Yukon river in American territory and the first season raised a good crop of garden truck, which brought him fancy prices. But he was considerably handicapped in his operations by not having any horses or other farm animals. He had heard that moose could be successfully tamed, so in the following spring he took to the hills and captured a pair of moose calves. When the calves were a year old, they were quite tame, and he succeeded in getting them to work in harness, first singly and then together. That year he did some work with them, increasing the amount from year to year as they grew older, until now he has in them a valuable pair of farm animals. "They are as strong as cattle and much more active as well as more controllable."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Thrilling Airship Experience.

Once when I was flying over Paris a rope running from the long frame of the "engine room," suspended, got caught in the pulley, fortunately in the long frame, not in the "engine room." I walked along the frame, which is about three inches wider than the engine, leaped down, fixed the pulley and got back to my seat in four or five minutes. How high was I then? Oh, about a thousand feet, but I held on to the braces. If anything happens to my engine, I am a balloonist and therefore in a similar predicament to a sea captain whose ship has lost its propellers or broken its engines. He must hold the sails or be at the mercy of the elements. The valves at the end of the balloon regulate the effect of the temperature upon the gas. If I have difficulty in rising quickly I throw over some ballast or let out water from the "engine room."—Santos-Dumont in World's Work.

A Snub For Nordenskjold.

Great indignation is expressed in Sweden at the shabby treatment meted out to Otto Nordenskjold, the south pole explorer, by the authorities of the Stockholm university. Nordenskjold had applied for the vacant chair of geography, and not only was his application refused, but the reasons given for this were offensive. "The candidature of Nordenskjold," said the university authorities, "has to be rejected principally because the scientific qualifications of the applicant cannot be ascertained with sufficient exactness." Nordenskjold before starting on his expedition was a lecturer at the university.

Japan's Few Paupers.

The Japanese are never able to understand how it is that, though their population is about the same as ours, they have only 21,000 paupers, while we have about 1,000,000. The difference is due to the Japanese attitude toward old age and parenthood. Most of their few paupers are children or elderly people whom earthquakes have deprived of their breadwinners. Old age is all but sacred in Japan.—London Chronicle.

LACROSSE

Manager Babcock, of the Tecumseh, hands the Wallaceburg lacrosse club the following:
"It is amusing to hear the 'Burg trying to explain why they were defeated by the Tecumseh in two games by 18 goals to 4, and in reading the weekly papers published in that town one would think they have a genuine home brew team and that some of their best players had been enticed away. In fact Wallaceburg never did have a home brew team in the C. L. A. We all know who they had in 1903, and this year they have only about four who are residents of the 'Burg—Mooney, O'Leary, Kirkwood, Adams, Perkins, Fairfield, Lawlor and others have been brought in to play lacrosse. Inducements were also offered members of the Tecumseh club to do inside wiring and other light work at the sugar beet works; also large inducements were offered other members of the Chatham team, in short, Wallaceburg have been beaten at their own game, and they themselves would be the first to break the resident rule. What team of home brews could they get together to play the following team, Chrysler, Copeland, Elliott, Hutchinson, Fead, Morley, Tackaberry, Lawson, Wilson, Angus, Brundage, Ross? The men now on the Tecumseh team are residents here and will be when lacrosse season is over. Wallaceburg's latest importations are Tierney, Mooney and Douse. The 'Burg's local team this year is picked from points as far east as Montreal and as far north as Stoney."

ERIEAU

Homer Turner and family are established at Jubilee cottage.

Geo. Merritt spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Wm. Bennett, outflow Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Smith and family spent Sunday at their cottage.

Mrs. Ryan and daughters will occupy their cottage, Fleur-de-Lis, this week.

John Sheldon and family have opened up their cottage, Waverly, for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Falls have opened their summer residence for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Phillimore and family are domiciled at their summer residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Harper and W. H. Harper spent Sunday at Sandreau cottage.

Geo. Merritt, Jr. Reginald Pleasance and W. E. Hall spent Sunday at the latter's cottage.

E. B. Norr's cottage, owned by Harry Stevens and family have taken up their residence at Glenville.

A. C. Woodward has rented Crystal Lodge from Douglas Glass for the summer and will shortly occupy it.

It is familiar to see C. B. Moore at the grocery store, Mr. and Mrs. Moore spent the winter at the Eau.

The Erieau season has opened and nearly all the cottage owners are domiciled at their summer residences.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Houston and Miss Jessie Houston spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bartley, Thursville.

Mr. Hundredmark and party, of Cleveland, are established at their summer cottage and are enjoying the Eau breezes.

Miss Georgia Morrison, Rose Morrison and Helen Young, of McKee's school staff, have registered at Sandy-Knowe cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. James Oldershaw have opened up their summer residence for the season. It looks cheerful to see the lights in The Mushroom once again.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Smith and family spent Sunday at Minnehaha Cottage. Mrs. R. V. Bray has rented this villa for July and will take possession to-day.

Yesterday was a delightful day at the Eau and there was a good sailing breeze. The yachts are being gradually put into commission. The Baden Powell was launched Saturday night and all day yesterday she was skimming over the Eau, cruising where she often had cruised before.

Archie Park superintended the launching, while Capt. Phillimore stood hard by ready to take command as soon as his staunch craft was in the water.
