WHY DOES ONE PLACE BECOME THE RIGHT PLACE? THAT IS SIMPLE BECAUSE AT THAT PLACE THEY TREAT PEOPLE RIGHT. HOW? BY GIVING GOOD GOODS FOR THE MONEY THEY GET. THE GOODS WE SELL ARE GOOD, BETTER, BEST—NEVER TRASH. WHATEVER PRICE WE MAY CHARGE YOU, YOU MAY DEPEND UPON IT THAT YOU WILL AT LEAST GET SOMETHING GOOD. YOU CAN NO MORE AFFORD TO WEAR POOR APPAREL THAN WE CAN AFFORD TO SELL THEM. IF WE SELL POOR GOODS IT WILL HURT OUR REPUTATION, IF YOU WEAR POOR GOODS IT WILL HURT YOUR REPUTATION. DID YOU EVER THINK ABOUT THE VALUE OF WHAT OTHERS THINK OF YOU?

RESPECTFULLY,

Clarke & Co.

BURGLARS CARRY OUT A FULL SAFE

Cut the Bottom out of a Green Street, Boston Strong Box.

GOT $3,000 BOOTY.

Can Opener Idea Used to Advantage by Skilled Yeggmen.

Boston, Saturday.—A band of daring yeggmen broke the safe in the liquor store of Flashman Brothers at 81-85 Green street, in the West End, between 12.15 and 5.30 p. m., yesterday and succeeded in getting away with cash, checks, jewelry and papers to the value of over $3,000. It was the most daring job done in Boston in years, and from the very start the police are baffled.

That the gang had watched the place for some time is evident by the fact that they gained entrance by going through a house on Leverett st. through a window, over a twelve-foot wire gate and then forced the door to the rear entrance of the wholesale department of the store. The safe, a heavy affair, weighing about 1500 pounds and standing about four feet in height, was removed from the office to a back room, where the rifling was done.

No powder or explosive was used and not a sound could be heard from within the building, though there are houses in the immediate vicinity. The discovery that the job had been done was discovered by Simon Flashman, a member of the concern soon after 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when he went into the place to see if all was well.

LOVERS MAKE SUICIDE PACT

Philadelphia Man Shoots Sweetheart and Then Himself.

SEPARATED FROM WIFE

He Leaves a Letter Acknowledging His Crime.

Philadelphia, Saturday.—Leaving a letter that they had died for love, George A. Green, aged 35, early today shot and probably fatally wounded Miss Edith Wonderly, aged 22, and then turned the revolver upon himself, inflicting probably fatal wounds. Green is married, but is separated from his wife. In a letter addressed to the Philadelphia newspapers, Green attacks his wife, and among other things he says:

"To-day I am going to kill myself and a true and loving friend, as my letter and hers will show."

"We died for love, which was denied from us by her dear mother. This is the only girl I ever loved. We have promised before God we could never live apart. This is our secret."

No letters were found in the clothing of the girl. The mother of Miss Wonderly had refused Green permission to visit her home, and the police believe that Green and the girl entered a pact to die together.

After shooting the girl twice, one bullet entering the mouth and the other taking effect in the cheek, Green walked some distance from her and shot himself in the head. No one witnessed the occurrence, but the shots attracted a policeman, who hurried the couple to the hospital. The police and doctors endeavored to secure from the girl a statement before she lapsed into unconsciousness, but she refused to talk. The physicians say both are in a critical condition.

CANADA HAS FEW TRADE DISPUTES

Only Eight During Month of November This Year

IS A BIG DECREASE

About 34 Firms And 1686 Men Involved in the Disputes

OTTAWA, Friday.—There were very few trade disputes in Canada during November and the loss through this cause was comparatively slight. The only locality where a large body of employees was effected was at St. John, N. B. where transportation was hampered through a strike of longshoremen during the latter part of the month. The total number of trade disputes reported in Canada during November was eight, a decrease of fourteen compared with the previous month and a decrease of eleven compared with November, 1906. About thirty-four firms and 1686 employees were effected by these disputes, fifteen firms and about 1107 employees being involved in the disputes which began in November.

JAPANESE DIET OPENS SATURDAY

Limitation of Emigration Will Be One of the Chief Questions Discussed During Session.

TOKIO, Saturday.—The twenty-fourth Diet was formally opened at 10 today by the emperor, who delivered the speech from the throne in the house of peers. The emperor laid stress on the increasingly cordial relations with foreign powers and the important bearing on peace in the far east of the entente cordiale with Russia and France by Japan. He dwelt upon the importance of the more careful deliberation of fiscal matters. The opening scene in the upper house was a brilliant one. The 377 members composing the house were in full evening dress, while the members of the diplomatic corps were dressed in full uniforms.

Among the matters to be discussed at the session will be the restriction of Japanese emigration.

WALKS TO GALLOWS SOMKING CIGAR

Jake Sunfield Hanged at Hamilton For Murder

SHOWS NO UNEASINESS

His Spiritual Adviser Gives Out Statement in Which Sunfield Declares His Innocence

HAMILTON, Friday.—Jake Tamilo, or as he is better known, Jake Sunfield was hanged this morning in the east yard of the city jail for the murder of Andrew Radzyk on the afternoon of July 12. Sunfield walked to the gallows with an unflinching step smoking a cigar. When he reached the steps of the gallows he spit out what remained of the cigar and after climbing on to the platform turned to those present to witness the execution and coolly remarked "Good bye, gentlemen. I have been told not to say anything." Without further ceremony Hangman Radcliff placed the black cap over the condemned man's head and adjusted the noose about his neck and as Rev. Dean Mahoney repeated the Lord's prayer the trap was sprung. Sunfield's neck was broken by the fall and when the body was cut down twelve minutes later life was extinct. After the usual coroner's inquest had been held the body was interred in the jail yard. Dean Mahoney, Sunfield's religious adviser, handed out a statement signed by Sunfield in which the latter declared his innocence of the crime for which he had been called upon to suffer the death penalty.

TRINIDAD HONORS AMERICAN FLEET

Two Thousand Men Get Shore Leave at Port of Spain.

FORMALITIES EXCHANGED.

Admiral Evans and Governor of Island Pay Respects to Each Other

PORT OF SPAIN, Friday.—The first day of the officers and men of the American fleet at this port proved to be an enjoyable one. Bright sunshine favored the visitors and after everything was made ship-shape on board the battleships 2,000 men were permitted to come ashore.

The officers of the fleet to the number of a hundred or more attended a garden party, at which they had the opportunity of meeting many of the prominent public men of Port of Spain. Sir Henry Moore Jackson, governor of Trinidad, accompanied by his staff, returned the visit of Rear Admiral Evans, which the American commander had made in the morning, and extended to him and some fifty of the superior officers an invitation to luncheon.

Men Get Shore Leave. All through the day the great American ships, as well as those who manned them were objects of special interest to the entire populace, who found time to make the occasion a gala one. The town put on its best attire and pleasing decorations greeted the eye at every turn.

The men of the fleet who were given shore leave spent their time in sight seeing and playing at various games, and their behavior in every respect was almost exemplary. The holiday feeling spread even to the ships themselves, where amusements of all kinds were permitted.

Flotilla in Hard Luck. The torpedo boat flotilla, which started on its way to Para on Sunday, was forced to return on account of damage to the machinery of the destroyer Lawrence. As the flotilla was preparing to leave the harbor again today the Whipple's propeller fouled the anchor chain of the collier Fortuna and a second halt was called to the expedition south. Divers went to work at once to clear the propeller and it was expected that the flotilla would get away tonight.

There will be numerous social functions here in honor of the American officers, and one day will be given over to the races.

MONCTON WOMAN'S AGONIZING GRIEF.

Mrs. Carl Oberg Asks Boston Police to Help Find Her Boy.

WAS KIDNAPPED.

Believes That He is Hidden Some where in the Hub.

Boston, Saturday.—That Holger Oberg, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oscar Oberg, who was kidnapped from the home of Wilhelm Grill on Wellington Hill street, Mattapan, last Saturday, is being held in hiding in this city is now the belief of the grief-stricken mother and the detectives who are on the case. Upon new evidence obtained last night, Mrs. Oberg telegraphed the Grills to notify the Boston police to arrest her divorced husband, who she alleges stole the child with the aid of a woman accomplice. The New York police are watching all out-going steamers in case Oberg attempts to take the child from the country from that port.

Mrs. Grill in the absence of her husband, who sailed for Europe Monday, for the second time made formal statements of the kidnapping last night to the police. On the afternoon of the crime she reported the case at headquarters and although the kidnappers had stolen some of her own children's clothing in their haste to get away, headquarters officials said they could do nothing and turned the woman away. The Grills, who are relatives of the Swedish minister to this country, Herman de Lagercrantz will assist the mother to their full extent in her hunt for the boy, and are exceedingly wrath at the treatment they have received.

Mrs. Grill holds the only evidence which may lead to the discovery of the kidnappers. On Tuesday morning a boy from the store of Timothy Smith, dry goods dealer of Roxbury, came to her house at 78 Wellington Hill street with a bundle. Upon opening it she was surprised to find that it contained the clothing the man and woman had grabbed in their hurry. It was the clothing of her children but inside the bundle was a slip dated Dec. 21, and for purchases that Oberg made at that store.

This will be the clew upon which the police will make their start when they begin to move in the matter.

As the full details of the sensational spiriting away of little Holger Oberg come to light, the pathos of this Christmas tragedy grows.

Full of the joy of the meeting, long the dream of the mother, Mrs. Oberg left the lucrative practise in osteopathy which she had established in Moncton, New Brunswick, while her son was being cared for by kind friends at Mattapan, and began her journey to this city.

All the details of the happy visit had been carefully planned out. With her boy she was going to spend Christmas day with relatives in New York and then, after a brief stay in Boston, she would return to Moncton with a new inspiration, for the flax-haired child would never again be separated from her.

Not until her arrival at Mattapan on Sunday did she learn the news. Crushed by the blow, she frantically cried for her child, but later, after hearing the details she braced herself for the struggle ahead, and set about at once to recover the boy.

All the news she could find at the Grills was from the story of Nannie Patterson, the maid. It was very brief. With the Grill children Holger had been playing about the yard and had just romped into the house for their luncheon, when there came a ring at the door-bell. Mrs. Grill was in town and the maid was alone, and, as the ringing continued, she finally pushed the button opening the door. Mr. Oberg entered and rushing up the stairway, caught her in his arms. A woman who was with him, closely followed, and while Oberg held the maid, the woman according to the girl, caught up young Holger and dressed him with the clothing which she found in the house. Frightened and hysterical and fearing to make an outcry, Nannie saw the couple disappear with the crying child and she watched them as they took an elevated car bound towards Boston.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Grill returned and from the white-faced girl she learned of the tragedy which had so suddenly fallen on the household. Immediately she communicated with her attorney and then notified the police at headquarters, but was told they could do nothing.
