

THE HERALD WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1890.

ALL matter for publication in the HERALD should be in this office by noon on Tuesday. Persons wishing their advertisements changed must advise us Saturday forenoon.

THE JESUITS.

According to announcements, Rev. D. J. G. McDonald lectured in the Lyceum, in this city, on Friday evening last on "The Jesuits." He was introduced to the audience by Mr. D. O'M. Reddin, Jr., President of the Benevolent Irish Society. The audience was about the lecture occupied about an hour and three quarters in its delivery. The lecturer treated his subject in a masterly manner.

He commenced by giving a brief account of the origin and early history of monasticism. He described the rules followed by the monks in their daily life, and enumerated the works in which they employed their leisure. He then related some of the legends which were now found in the museums were some of the results of their labors. The lecturer next briefly sketched the foundation, constitution and labors of the Society of the Jesuits. He mentioned the founder of the society, St. Ignatius Loyola, who was born in 1491, of a noble Spanish family. He embraced the profession of arms. In 1521 he was wounded at the siege of Pamplona. During his illness and convalescence he had time to read the Scriptures and the lives of the Saints. He then resolved to form a religious society, on military lines. Having prepared himself by study, prayer and mortification for this great undertaking, he gathered around a number of companions. They then presented themselves to the reigning Pope, Paul III., who approved of the constitution of the society. The Order rapidly spread through the countries of Europe. When St. Ignatius died, in 1556, he numbered upwards of one thousand members. Their labors extended to the new world, and they soon established themselves in North and South America. In 1605 they arrived in Quebec, and commenced their labors among the Indians. The discussion which took place last year in the Dominion Parliament, relative to the Jesuits' Estates in Quebec, could be found, the lecturer said, in the pages of the "Herald."

The history of their sufferings and the martyrdom of several of their number while engaged in their missionary labors among the Indians of North America, were fully described by Parkman, Bancroft and Washington Irving. The lecturer here enumerated several members of the society renowned as writers and orators, and remarkable for their acquirements in the higher studies. The persecutions they suffered at the hands of the Bourbons and the royal court of Europe were next described. The intrigues of Pombal against the society, and their final suppression in 1763, were here told, as well as their restoration in 1814. In eloquent terms the lecturer denounced the false notions concerning the moral teaching of the Jesuits, as calculated by Little and other enemies of the society, and he quoted from Father Drummond, himself a Jesuit, in refutation of these slanders. The late Fathers Dames and Perry (Jesuits), were referred to as among the best and highest of the highest order of sacred eloquence and scientific knowledge. In answer to those who impugned the sufficiency for him to mention the names of those members of the society who belonged to this Province, he was well known to our people—McKinnon, John Allister McDonald, and Ronald B. McDonald.

The lecture, of which we have here given the merest outline, was a fair and scholarly exposition of the subject that has, of late, attracted considerable attention. A vote of thanks was moved by Professor Owen, in a few well chosen words, and seconded by Mr. James H. Reddin, and tendered by Rev. lecturer, which he suitably acknowledged.

FOURTY HOURS DEVOTION.

The Forty Hours Devotion commenced in St. Dunstan's Cathedral yesterday morning. The venerated organ of the penitential season is taken in order that our dear Lord may be honored with the fullest devotion of rubrical ceremonial, while in the Sacrament of His love, He condescends to expose Himself during this beautiful devotion of reparation. Nothing is left of the penitential season is left, and grandeur to solemn offices of the church during the Forty Hours Devotion. The decorations of the sanctuary and high altar on this occasion, are of the highest order of taste, of the work of the Sisters of the Hospital. A dome-shaped canopy, formed of white lace and colored tapestry, depending from the ceiling of the sanctuary, surmounted the high altar. The altar itself is charmingly adorned with flowers, colored lights and numerous tapers. Above the tabernacle, at the highest point of the altar, a beautiful throne, surmounted by an arch studded with brilliant lights, was prepared for the Blessed Sacrament.

Shortly after eight o'clock the Solemn High Mass of Exposition was commenced. Rev. S. Boudreau was the celebrant, and he was assisted by Rev. J. C. McMillan and A. J. and G. McDonald, and sub-deacons, Rev. P. A. McNeil was master of ceremonies. The other clergy present in the sanctuary were Rev. J. C. McNeil and J. T. McDonald, and A. McNeil, Esq. After mass the Blessed Sacrament was borne in solemn procession round the sanctuary, preceded by the altar boy and attendant clergy, with lighted tapers. The ostensorium was carried by the celebrant, assisted by the other officers of the mass. The canopy during the procession, was borne by Chief Justice Johnson, Mr. J. C. McMillan, Mr. J. T. McDonald, and Messrs. J. C. McDonald, and M. E. Hoggan, Esquires. The choir sang the hymn "Pange Ensis." The procession having returned to the sanctuary, the Blessed Sacrament was placed upon the throne prepared for it; the choir sang the

THE POISONING CASE.

With regard to the skin, there was a heavy discoloration and a brassy tinge all over the body, on the sides, arms, and neck. The face was also discolored, and the lips were blue. The patient was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Senator Reid's bill regulating the sale and use of fire arms and other weapons, was passed by the senate the other day and sent to the commons.

It is understood that the budget speech will not be delivered for some time. It is probable that the day selected will be the 11th or 14th of March.

The Department of Customs has ordered the release of the schooner Kale B, seized at North Sydney on a charge of smuggling. The authorities considered the offence insufficient to warrant the imposition of a penalty.

Mr. Davies, M. P., has given notice of his intention of introducing a bill to amend the electoral franchise act, to compel return of the names of the electors, and to enable them to remain on the list, notwithstanding a change of residence, provided if otherwise qualified.

The Minister of Justice is daily in expectation of a reply to his request to the Imperial authorities for their formal sanction of the Weldon extradition bill. This bill is an extension of the law relating to fugitive criminals, and is a measure of great importance. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

THE POISONING CASE.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Senator Reid's bill regulating the sale and use of fire arms and other weapons, was passed by the senate the other day and sent to the commons.

It is understood that the budget speech will not be delivered for some time. It is probable that the day selected will be the 11th or 14th of March.

The Department of Customs has ordered the release of the schooner Kale B, seized at North Sydney on a charge of smuggling. The authorities considered the offence insufficient to warrant the imposition of a penalty.

Mr. Davies, M. P., has given notice of his intention of introducing a bill to amend the electoral franchise act, to compel return of the names of the electors, and to enable them to remain on the list, notwithstanding a change of residence, provided if otherwise qualified.

The Minister of Justice is daily in expectation of a reply to his request to the Imperial authorities for their formal sanction of the Weldon extradition bill. This bill is an extension of the law relating to fugitive criminals, and is a measure of great importance. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

THE POISONING CASE.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Senator Reid's bill regulating the sale and use of fire arms and other weapons, was passed by the senate the other day and sent to the commons.

It is understood that the budget speech will not be delivered for some time. It is probable that the day selected will be the 11th or 14th of March.

The Department of Customs has ordered the release of the schooner Kale B, seized at North Sydney on a charge of smuggling. The authorities considered the offence insufficient to warrant the imposition of a penalty.

Mr. Davies, M. P., has given notice of his intention of introducing a bill to amend the electoral franchise act, to compel return of the names of the electors, and to enable them to remain on the list, notwithstanding a change of residence, provided if otherwise qualified.

The Minister of Justice is daily in expectation of a reply to his request to the Imperial authorities for their formal sanction of the Weldon extradition bill. This bill is an extension of the law relating to fugitive criminals, and is a measure of great importance. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

THE POISONING CASE.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Senator Reid's bill regulating the sale and use of fire arms and other weapons, was passed by the senate the other day and sent to the commons.

It is understood that the budget speech will not be delivered for some time. It is probable that the day selected will be the 11th or 14th of March.

The Department of Customs has ordered the release of the schooner Kale B, seized at North Sydney on a charge of smuggling. The authorities considered the offence insufficient to warrant the imposition of a penalty.

Mr. Davies, M. P., has given notice of his intention of introducing a bill to amend the electoral franchise act, to compel return of the names of the electors, and to enable them to remain on the list, notwithstanding a change of residence, provided if otherwise qualified.

The Minister of Justice is daily in expectation of a reply to his request to the Imperial authorities for their formal sanction of the Weldon extradition bill. This bill is an extension of the law relating to fugitive criminals, and is a measure of great importance. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

THE POISONING CASE.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Senator Reid's bill regulating the sale and use of fire arms and other weapons, was passed by the senate the other day and sent to the commons.

It is understood that the budget speech will not be delivered for some time. It is probable that the day selected will be the 11th or 14th of March.

The Department of Customs has ordered the release of the schooner Kale B, seized at North Sydney on a charge of smuggling. The authorities considered the offence insufficient to warrant the imposition of a penalty.

Mr. Davies, M. P., has given notice of his intention of introducing a bill to amend the electoral franchise act, to compel return of the names of the electors, and to enable them to remain on the list, notwithstanding a change of residence, provided if otherwise qualified.

The Minister of Justice is daily in expectation of a reply to his request to the Imperial authorities for their formal sanction of the Weldon extradition bill. This bill is an extension of the law relating to fugitive criminals, and is a measure of great importance. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

THE POISONING CASE.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Senator Reid's bill regulating the sale and use of fire arms and other weapons, was passed by the senate the other day and sent to the commons.

It is understood that the budget speech will not be delivered for some time. It is probable that the day selected will be the 11th or 14th of March.

The Department of Customs has ordered the release of the schooner Kale B, seized at North Sydney on a charge of smuggling. The authorities considered the offence insufficient to warrant the imposition of a penalty.

Mr. Davies, M. P., has given notice of his intention of introducing a bill to amend the electoral franchise act, to compel return of the names of the electors, and to enable them to remain on the list, notwithstanding a change of residence, provided if otherwise qualified.

The Minister of Justice is daily in expectation of a reply to his request to the Imperial authorities for their formal sanction of the Weldon extradition bill. This bill is an extension of the law relating to fugitive criminals, and is a measure of great importance. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

THE POISONING CASE.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

On the 4th of January, Mrs. Sutherland was seized with a severe attack of illness. She was unable to get up, and was confined to bed. The doctor advised that the patient should be given a course of medicine to remove the arsenic from the system. The patient was given a course of medicine, and the symptoms gradually improved. The patient was able to get up, and was discharged from the hospital.

PARLIAMENTARY NOTES.

Senator Reid's bill regulating the sale and use of fire arms and other weapons, was passed by the senate the other day and sent to the commons.

It is understood that the budget speech will not be delivered for some time. It is probable that the day selected will be the 11th or 14th of March.

The Department of Customs has ordered the release of the schooner Kale B, seized at North Sydney on a charge of smuggling. The authorities considered the offence insufficient to warrant the imposition of a penalty.

Mr. Davies, M. P., has given notice of his intention of introducing a bill to amend the electoral franchise act, to compel return of the names of the electors, and to enable them to remain on the list, notwithstanding a change of residence, provided if otherwise qualified.

The Minister of Justice is daily in expectation of a reply to his request to the Imperial authorities for their formal sanction of the Weldon extradition bill. This bill is an extension of the law relating to fugitive criminals, and is a measure of great importance. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

LOCAL AND OTHER.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

The St. John's Guild, which was organized for the purpose of relieving the poor, has held a meeting at the residence of Mr. J. C. McMillan, on Friday evening last. The meeting was attended by a large number of the members of the guild, and was a most successful one. The guild has been very active in its efforts to relieve the poor, and has done much good work.

BEER BROS. ANNOUNCEMENT FOR LADIES ONLY. For Comfort Durability, Ease, Perfection & Perfect Fitting. Good value. Bay Our Special Lines of CORSETS, 1800 Pairs. 1800 Pairs. We have received the largest consignment of CORSETS ever imported to Charlottetown, and are fully satisfied of their excellence and good value.

BEER BROS. SPRING AND SUMMER STYLES. Having spent several weeks in the best houses in New York and Montreal, taking lessons on cutting, I am securing the latest styles for the approaching season. I shall endeavor to give the most appropriate styles and nice fitting clothes.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.

BEER BROS. DOUBLE BREASTED FRACK SUIT. For day and half dress, the double breasted frack is the most appropriate, and it will be made from the best material. It will have ample width, well padded, and silk faced. The bottom button will be closed, and the collar will be of a rich material.