preceeded the infantry attacks, which

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT.

LONDON, Oct. 13.

A Gazette cable from a member of the Dominion Emigration Staff who has recently gone to the front with a London regiment, gives a graphic account of their first big attack: "Our chaps had certainly given the Germans a rough time," he writes. "They lay in heaps, at that spot and must have outnumbered our dead by six to one. Their trenches were blown in and filled up by our big shells, and rifles and equipment were strewn all over the place. We were gassed by gas shells. It is some new gas they use which does not permanently injure, but upsets the eyes. The Germans certainly seem to have had enough, and with the help of the French we hope to smash them sooner than people think."

MONTAGUE IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, Oct. 13.

"The man who did not study the idea of having half his income available for the State, was not doing his duty," said Edwin Samuel Montague, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, replying in the Commons to-day to criticisms of the new taxes imposed by the Budget of McKenna, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Montague, in his speech, dwelt upon the magnitude of the burden cast upon the country by the war. "We have had to keep and must continue to keep," said Montague, "an impregnable navy. We have paid and must continue to pay for an army which has increased from a few thousand men to an army which runs into millions. We are financing by loans our great dominions in part of their expenditure for contingents which are helping us to fight. We are paying, as regards India, the whole cost of the Indian contingents, except their normal peace expenditure. We have advanced our allies such a sum as it was estimated 'would equip and maintain in the field 3,000,000 of their soldiers. We have advanced to them of our share; we ought to be proud of the way in which proposals for

meeting the war expenditure have been received by all classes." Montague added, "the country has not yet bent itself to the task of meeting the obligations imposed by burdens which involved an expenditure, amounting to not less than two thirds of the entire estimated national yearly income. Therefore it followed," he said, "that every citizen ought to be prepared to pay no less than two thirds
