KERENSKY FLED; HIS ARREST ORDERED.

Premier Kerensky has fled from the capital, the semi-official News Agency says. Orders, it states, have been issued for his arrest. Petrograd, Nov. 7.—At the Winter Palace to-day it was said that Premier Kerensky had gone to the front, delegating his authority to M. Kishkin, Minister of Public Welfare.

THE PROGRAMME OF THE REVOLUTIONARIES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 8. The text of the proclamation of the Military Revolution Committee reads: To the Army Committees of the active army and to all Councils of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates and to the Prison and proletariat of Petrograd, we have deposited the Government of Kerensky which rose against the revolution and the people. The change which resulted in the deposition of the Provisional Government was accomplished without bloodshed. The Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's delegates solemnly welcomes the accomplished change and proclaims the authority of the military revolutionary committee until the creation of a Government by the Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates. Announcing this to the army at the front the Revolutionary Committee calls upon revolutionary soldiers to watch closely the conduct of the men in command. Officers who do not join the accomplished revolution immediately and openly must be arrested at once as enemies.

The Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates considers this to be the programme of the new authority: First, the offer of an immediate democratic peace; second, the immediate handing over of large proprietorial lands to the peasants; third, the transmission of all authority to the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates; fourth, the honest convocation of a Constitutional Assembly. The national revolutionary army must not permit uncertain military attachments to delay the front for Petrograd. They should use persuasion, but when this fails they must oppose any such action on the part of those detachments by force without mercy. The actual order must be read immediately to all military detachments in all arms. The suppression of this order from the rank and file by army organizations is equivalent to a great crime against the revolution and will be punished by all the strength of the revolutionary law. Soldiers for peace, for bread, for land, for the power of the people. Signed by the Military Revolutionary Committee.

PETROGRAD RAILWAY COMMUNICATION INTERRUPTED.

LONDON, Nov. 8. Railway communication with Petrograd is reported to have been interrupted, the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Co. cables.

PROBABLY AT MOSCOW.

LONDON, Nov. 8. The opinion is expressed in Russian circles in London that Kerensky, who early was advised of the intentions of Lenin to grasp power, has removed the seat of government to Moscow, and from there will endeavor to unite the moderates against the Maximist and rally to his support the Cossacks and such other troops who have not gone over to the extremists.

GOVT. FORCES CAPITULATE.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 8. Government forces holding the Winter Palace were compelled to capitulate early this morning under fire of the cruiser Aurora, and cannon of St. Peter and Paul fortress across the Neva River. At 2 a.m. to-day the Women's Battalion which was defending the palace, surrendered. The Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates are in complete control of the city.

RUSSIAN MINISTERS ARRESTED.

LONDON, Nov. 8. The Russian semi-official News Agency gives the names of the Cabinet Ministers in Kerensky's Government arrested as follows: M. Alkonovoff, Minister of Trade and Industry; M. Kishkin, Minister of Public Welfare; M. Miterstchenko, Minister of Foreign Affairs; M. Malynovitch, Minister of Justice, and M. Nikellin, Minister of Interior.

IN CONGRESS.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 8. The Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates of Russia convened here last night with 540 delegates attending. The chairman declared that the time was not propitious for political speeches, and the order of business of the Congress was approved as follows: First, organization of power; second, peace and war; third, a constituent assembly. The officers elected comprised fourteen Maximists, including Nikolai Lenin, the Radical Socialist leader, and M. Zimovoff, an associate of Lenin, and Leon Trotsky, President of the Central Executive Committee of the Petrograd Council of Workmen's and Sailors' Delegation. In addition seven Revolutionary Socialists were appointed. A delegation was named to initiate negotiations with other revolutionary and democratic organizations with a view to taking steps to stop bloodshed. The official News Agency to-day made public the following: The Congress of Councils of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates of all Russia, which opened last night, issued this morning the three following proclamations:

Premier Kerensky was reported last night at Luga, 85 miles S.W. of Petrograd. Late yesterday evening after the Government forces had been driven into the palace, it was besieged, and a lively fire from machine guns and rifles began. The cruiser Aurora, which was moored at Nokolai Bridge, moved up to within range, firing shrapnel. Meanwhile the guns of St. Peter and Paul fortress opened fire. The palace stood out under the glare of the searchlights of the cruiser and offered a good target for the guns. The defenders held out for four hours, replying as best they could with machine guns and rifles. There was sporadic firing in other parts of the city, but the Workmen's and Soldiers' troops took every means to protect citizens who were ordered to their quarters. The bridges and Nevsky Prospekt, which early in the afternoon were in the hands of Government forces, were captured and held during the night by the Workmen's and Soldiers' troops. The battle at the palace was a spectacular one, armed cars of revolutionaries swinging into action in front of the palace gates while flashes from the Neva were followed by explosions of shells from the guns of the Aurora.

PETROGRAD NOBIL.

LONDON, Nov. 8. It is officially announced from Petrograd, through wireless press that no headquarters communicate was issued to-day. The city presented a normal aspect to-day, even the noon-day band accompanying the guard relief under previous administrations continued its function. There were customary lines in front of provision stores and children played in the parks. There was even a notable lessening of patrols, only a few armed soldiers and sailors moving about the streets.

GENERAL RETIREMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 8. There are indications of a general retirement northward of Turkish forces in Palestine, the war office announces.

TEKRIT OCCUPIED.

LONDON, Nov. 8. Tekrit, on the Tigris, in Mesopotamia, 90 miles northwest of Bagdad, was occupied by the British on Nov. 6, the war office announces to-day.

PUSHING BEYOND GAZA.

LONDON, Nov. 8. The British, says the official statement issued to-day with reference to Palestine, pushed beyond Gaza on the right to Michman-el-Muntar Hill dominating the town, and on the left of Sheikh Redman fortifications a mile to the north. The advance also penetrated as far as the mouth of Wadi Hesi eight miles north of the original mations: "To all Provincial Councils of Workmen's and Soldiers' and Peasants' Delegates, Power lies in the Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates. Government Commissioners are relieved of the functions. Presidents of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates are to communicate direct with the Revolutionary Government. All members of agricultural committees who have been arrested are to be set at liberty immediately and the commissioners who arrested them are in turn to be arrested." The second proclamation reads: "The death penalty, re-established at the front by Premier Kerensky, is abolished. Complete freedom of political propaganda has been established at the front. All revolutionary soldiers and officers who have been arrested for complicity in so-called political crimes, are to be set at liberty immediately." The third proclamation says: "Former Ministers Konovoff, Kishkin, Tereschenko, Malynovitch, Nikitin and others have been arrested by the Revolutionary Committee. Kerensky has taken flight. All military bodies have been empowered to take all possible measures to arrest Kerensky and bring him back to Petrograd. All complicity with Kerensky will be dealt with as high treason."

ITALIAN OFFICIAL.

ROME, Nov. 8. During yesterday we continued the withdrawal of our line. Our larger units have retired without being molested by the enemy. Numerous engagements took place between the hills of Vittorio and the confluence of Montecano, and the Livorno, in the course of which covering troops succeeded in detaining the enemy's advance. In spite of strong resistance on the part of hostile machines, our aviators resumed their bombardments of enemy troops along the Tagliamento. Five enemy airplanes were brought down.

CARE OF THE NAILS.
No hand will present the well groomed and cared-for appearance that good form demands, if treated only to a casual soap and water washing several times a day with an accompanying hasty use of a nail stick, and though, more than mere time, must be given to the subject if one is to make the very best of one's hands. Cultivate the habit of turning the orangewood stick about whenever its point has been used, and to push back the cuticle around the edge of the nail with the blunt or rounded end of the stick. If this is done systematically, several times a day, the valuable half-moon at the base of the nail will always be in evidence, and the nails will maintain their correct shape. Then, when a sudden invitation comes to "fill in" at a friends' afternoon bridge, you will not have to spend a frantic half hour pushing back the hardened cuticle, and perhaps acquire a sore finger into the bargain, trying to put the nails into presentable shape. Never clip the nails into shape unless you want them to become thick and coarse at the edges. Clipped nails also break off more readily, especially in cold weather. Every woman should have a pair of curved manicure scissors on her dresser, but they should be put to use seldom, and then only for clipping a hangnail, or for cutting off the ends or sides of an over-long nail.

Fads and Fashions.

Tall, crowned models with narrow brims are favored among hats. A costume of white and black velvet is effectively trimmed with jet. Frequently one side of a wide sailor hat is wider than the other. There should be a touch of white about the blouse to make it becoming. Some mole scarfs are trimmed with rows of tiny white ermine tails. Sealskin and beaver are very attractive as trimmings on pile fabrics.
