Mr. Grace Notes.

The funeral of the late Dr. W. A. Grace took place at 9:30 this morning. The service was largely attended. Very great regret is expressed by all classes in town on the sad death of Dr. Grace, and much sympathy is expressed for his widow and son, as well as his other relatives.

Mr. Herbert Noseworthy came in yesterday from Bryant's Cove in his motor boat. Mr. Noseworthy is busy now preparing for the coming fishing season.

A live codfish was picked up in the wash on the South Side a few days ago. We hope that this is a good omen of an exceptionally large voyage of fish for this bay this summer.

A very enjoyable concert and tea was held at Bryant's Cove on Monday night. The C. of E. teacher, Miss C. Ryan, took the main part and was helped by the people generally. An enjoyable time was spent.

A little snow storm raged this morning, with wind N. E., but with the free rain later in the day the snow will not stand long.

Your correspondent has not been in it health the past few days, and consequently his notes, or the lack of them, has been a relief to any not inclined to read them, but in future he hopes to give that class, if there are any, quite a lot of interesting items.

Cleanses Your Hair Makes It Beautiful, Thick, Glossy, Wavy

Try this! All dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just rub a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides, beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Very wide ribbon belts are worn with each end, long or short.

Selective Conscription and a Newfoundland Victory Loan will help win the war.

Lightship for Cape Race.

PROPOSED IN 1863.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir, — Shortly after the terrible catastrophe, the loss of the ill-starred Florizel, you devoted an instructive, interesting and timely editorial to the disaster; you wisely and most suggestively, in your common sense version, adverted to the great necessity for the placing on our coast line, in the vicinity of Cape Race, of some appliance to assist in the prevention or minimisation of the loss of human life in future. I would be pleased if you would permit me through the columns of your appreciated and largely circulated journal to add my quota of appreciation to all which was set forth by you.

This is a land of promise and of promises, the latter, I am sorry to say, are like pie crusts, made to be broken; we seem to apply ourselves to the dictum of the Cowper Law: "trying a man after execution," or as the old phrase says: "locking the stable door after the horse is stolen." Now, sir, I fervently hope that the apathy indulged in during the past, the lethargic manner of doing things, shall not occur in future but, on the contrary, that we shall see arising from their lethargy "the powers that be" to make an attempt to do something to prevent, as much as possible, an addition to the great loss of human life recorded as having taken place near our shores in the past. This "swinge buckler" sort of way will not do. "Swing" or "swash-bucklers" held mock fights in the olden time. They swished and swung their buckles with much show of fury, "but seldom was any man hit."

We make a great display of daring deeds but seldom do we contribute faithfully to our promise. The loss of so many lives so "close" to our doors, men who were once the best known and among the noblest of our countrymen, should serve as an incentive, as an inspiration, to compel us to lose no time in the construction and equipment of some modern appliance which may in future be the means of minimizing the loss of life about the treacherous shores of Cape Race and vicinity. My countrymen have no real conception of the awful destruction of humanity which has taken place near Cape Race in the past eighty years. Many hundreds of people who had set out in the morning of life for a far land where they had intended to fall asleep at life's close, had their dreams and aspirations, their ambitions, and all that life holds dear shattered on the rocks near Clam Cove, St. Shotts or Mistaken Point. So far as I am aware no attempt was ever made to assist in the prevention of accidents near that spot until the early fifties.

The "Acadian Recorder" of 1848, in relation to the matter said as follows:—"It is said to be the intention of the British Government to erect a Light House and Fog Alarm at Cape Race, in consequence of so many accidents which have happened on this spot to vessels sailing on or near the coast of Newfoundland. The accident which lately befell the steamer Britannia, at this place, has led immediately to this determination."

Eight years previous to the account rendered above of the suggestion of a Light House at Cape Race a sad fatality occurred there. The brig Florence, of Boston, of the burthen of 200 tons, on her passage from Rotterdam to New York, ran ashore on Sunday morning, August the 9th. The number of souls on board was 87, out of which only 37 succeeded in reaching the shore alive. From the time they landed near Cape Race, to the evening of the 13th, when they reached Renewa—without any guide—they had subsisted wholly on berries; no one in the neighbourhood having been aware of the catastrophe which had taken place. Some of them on reaching Renewa were nearly naked and in a most exhausted state, and among them were two or three orphans who had not only lost their fathers and mothers but their brothers and sisters also.

After the awful mishap to the Anglo Saxon, of the Canadian Line, which took place April 27th 1863, when 238 souls were ushered into eternity, the newspapers said:—"It is very necessary that some sort of fog alarm should be provided at Cape Race, for we do not know how soon another of the many steamships passing that locality may be as unfortunate as the Anglo Saxon."

Mr. Thomas Moore, of 27 Leaden-hall Street, London, England, wrote to Governor Bannerman, on February 6th, 1863, in relation to a proposed Lightship off Cape Race. The letter was laid before the Council. The Acting Colonial Secretary was authorized to acquaint him that his proposal could not be entertained by the Government of Newfoundland.

We hope to hear of no more dilly-ing and dallying so far as the placing of some suitable additional aids to navigation near Cape Race and all along that shore, by which lives may be saved, should accidents occur in future. It takes promises and suggestions a long time to mature in this country, the proof of which I am in a position to show, and the people themselves are also educated on this topic. Let us, in this instance, at any rate, show our sincerity; this is no madman nor meaningless question, it behoves all classes and all creeds to make themselves interested in seeing that something be done for the prevention or alleviation of such an awful calamity as that which took place on that fatal Sunday in February last.

Yours, etc.,
JAMES MURPHY.

Rheumatism Entirely Gone.

After Twenty-seven Years of Suffering—Swelling and Puffiness Has Disappeared—Not a Pain or an Ache Left.

A most astonishing cure of rheumatism and eczema has been reported here, and Mrs. Ray is enthusiastic in telling her many friends how cure was effected.

Rheumatism and eczema frequently go together, and in this case caused the most keen distress imaginable, and all the swelling and puffiness resulting from many years of rheumatism have disappeared, and there is not a pain or an ache left.

Mr. G. H. Ray, R. R. No. 1, Kincardine, Ont., writes: "Mrs. Ray has been using your Kidney-Liver Pills. She was very bad with rheumatism and eczema, and had had that fearful itch for twenty-seven years. It was simply terrible what she suffered. I persuaded her to try $1.00 worth of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. She is now on the last box, and let me tell you she scarcely knows herself, she is so free from both these diseases. All the swelling and puffiness caused by the rheumatism has gone away, and she has gone down in weight 150 pounds. She never had an ache or pain, biliousness nor sick headache all these months. She often says herself 'How glad I am that I know what to do instead of paying doctors so much to make me worse.'"

There is only one way that the poisons in the blood can be cleaned away and the cause of pains and aches removed, and that is by the healthful action of the kidneys, liver and bowels. Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly and specifically on these organs and insure their activity they remove the cause of rheumatism and other dreadfully painful and fatal diseases. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co. Limited, Toronto.

Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on the box you buy.

Movie at Seamen's Institute.

The management of the Seamen's Institute have decided to start a moving picture show in the Grenfell Hall of the Seamen's Institute. The latest machines have been secured and arrangements are being made with the leading film producers of New York for a regular supply. It is hoped that in the near future it will be possible to present a series of educational films similar to those used in connection with the Universities and Schools in Canada and the States. The new movie was open for its first time last evening and a five-reel film entitled "A Woman's Awakening" was shown, followed by a comedy sketch entitled "Candy Kid."

Patriotic Concert.

A very nice and well attended concert in aid of the W.P.A. Fund, was recently given at the Goulds under the management of Miss Kitty Barton and Miss Bella Ryan, assisted by the following performers: Misses Clara Ryan, Lydia Heffernan, Amelia Walters, Gertrude Ryan, Maggie Heffernan, Annie Heffernan and Marcelle Boone; Messrs Luke Ryan, Vincent Barton, Patrick Walters, Wm. Ryan, James Walsh, James Barton, Patrick Heffernan and Simon Clarke. Miss Barton desires to thank Mrs. Captain Chadder and Miss J. Ryan for the very efficient help rendered by these ladies; also Mrs. Joseph Rowe of the city, and she is, as well, very grateful to the people of Petty Harbor Road for the donations sent her.

The Misses Barton and Ryan are to be congratulated on the success of the use of their concert, it being the first held at the Goulds. The net proceeds amounting to the handsome sum of $66.60 have been handed in at the Telegram Office with a request that it be turned over to the "Soldiers' and Sailors' Fund." Well done, the Goulds!

NOTE.—This money is now in the custody of our cashier, who will be glad to hand it to the Treasurer of the Fund named, if such an one exists. If not, the W.P.A. will be the recipients. —Editor.

Torpedoed on H.M.S. Calgarian.

SAILOR'S LETTER TO HIS WIFE.

My Dearest Wife,—Just a line to let you know that I am well and hoping you are the same. Dear wife, we got over all right, but I lost all my clothes coming across. I am in barracks yet, but I don't know what time I will be going to sail. I have no news worth telling you, but when you write send me a pair of socks and a pound of tobacco in the socks. We are having a good time since we got safe on shore, thank God. I cannot get my photo taken until I get a pay day, and I don't know how long that will be. Our papers have not come yet. More than once I wish to be able to go home to get a good dinner on Sunday. I met Patey here all right and he is here yet. I heard from father in Bay of Islands; he was very sick then, but I have not heard from him since. There were 30 of our fellows, Newfoundlanders, on the Calgarian when she was torpedoed, but all hands were saved. I hope the war will be over by next year when I will get home again. Write to grandmother in Bay of Islands and give her my address for her to write to Aunt Agnes. Tell Chum I wish I was home alongside of him to get a drink of beer. Give my best respects to May and all hands, and don't forget your mother and yourself best of all. I go to bed now and God guard you till I meet you again, dear wife. Write to me as often as you can.

From your kind and loving husband,
G. W. DRUGGETT,
Royal Naval Reserve.

A Lansdowne Cabinet.

"Steps that have been taken Privately"

"The proposal to appoint Lord Lansdowne Prime Minister, is not the dream of an isolated journalist," says the British Weekly. "It has influential support, and its advocates declare for an alliance with the Labor Party and Mr. Asquith. They would give us a Lansdowne-Asquith-Henderson Ministry. We shall not attempt to describe the steps that have been taken privately, but may refer to a public meeting in support of the Lansdowne policy held at the Essex Hall, Strand. Lord Beauchamp and Lord Loreburn were among the speakers. They advocated a change of Government. Lord Loreburn criticised the Government, and according to The Times, he went on to say, 'I should be very sorry to be a party to the restoration to office of the small handful of men who mismanaged this war for two years and a half.'"

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and Mr. Robert Smillie declared for an immediate national conference, and a resolution was passed thanking the leaders of the British Labor Party for their efforts towards a just and democratic peace. Lord Lansdowne has not publicly asserted his willingness to become Prime Minister, but it is believed by some who ought to know, that he would accept the position, and that he would co-operate with Mr. Asquith.

An Appeal

I am addressing this Appeal to all the people of Newfoundland, but especially to those of the Out-ports.

Your Government have decided to make another special attempt to obtain further recruits for the duties forced upon us by the War. I am anxious to explain to you in simple and strong words why those duties are yours.

In your sea-girt home you have, I know, your own dangers and anxieties to face. As I write this my mind is still full of the appalling disaster to the Florizel. But War you do not realise; you are beyond the sound of the guns which, in the South East corner of England, I have heard day after day breaking in upon the beauty and calmness of the summer air.

That awe-inspiring rumble of the guns which I ask you to imagine—that lurid light on the horizon which I ask you to picture are the signs of a terrible struggle for Right—of a mighty effort to save from ruin, not only France, but every bit of free soil in the world, including this island of which you are so proud. The awful struggle seems to be approaching its climax now and your close kinsmen are in the middle of it.

Some may ask, What is the danger? and it is my purpose to endeavour to make it clear to you.

By some permission of Divine Providence, which we do not understand, a nation of criminals is now attacking all that is just and true in the whole world. Germany has set herself deliberately to violate every law of Right and every principle of Humanity.

Never before in History has a War been planned like this. Hitherto all wars have had some sort of pretext of right or impulse of passion. It has been reserved to the German military party to plot wilfully and wantonly a great crime against the peace of mankind.

And the hypocrisy with which Germany supports the crime makes it still more abominable. As Judas treated the Christ, Germany is treating Civilization. Under appeals to God, Germany masks the utmost malignities of the devil. The German nation to-day knows no Law except that of the pagan, the liar, the ravisher, the murderer. They are a curse let loose on the Earth. And the task demanded of all of us is to fight and conquer this curse just as in our moral life we are bound to fight and conquer Sin. The Cause is a far broader and holier Cause than that which impelled the Crusaders against the Saracens.

We may thank God that the greater nations of the World have realised the justice of the Cause; and I believe that every man in Newfoundland will one day be thankful that he was at least asked to face this question—"Is it not my higher duty to go out and save humanity from destruction?"

Remember that your wives, your children, your cottages, your boats, are in positive danger if the German breaks through France. As he is treating the foolish Russians, so he will treat every nation whom he touches—America, Canada, Newfoundland, are to him mere objectives for his greedy brutality. He is entirely evil, he has no sense of right and no feelings of Mercy.

This mass of incarnate selfishness is held back by the strong arm of the Allies in France. Will any man of British race decline to do all he can to defeat and crush it?

At this moment the need is specially great, for the Germans are now desperate. They begin to realise the truth of that dread decree "He that takes the sword, shall perish with the sword." At no horror will they hesitate if they can but escape the punishment that is their due.

Now on every man and woman among us lies the duty to bear a hand in administering that punishment a duty not only to ourselves but to posterity. If age or health prevent some of us from going they do not prevent us from following the greatest example ever set to mankind and making the sacrifice of that which is dearest to our hearts.

You young men I ask to listen carefully to the appeals which will once more be made to you in the next few weeks. Believe me that the voluntary act of a man, impelled by the high sense of duty, is far nobler than the mere obedience to the provisions of a public enactment.

One special word I say to women. Try to realise the sufferings of women and children wherever the Germans come; think of the little children starved in Belgium and slaughtered in cold blood in Armenia. Let your men folk stand out and protect you, for in helping to defeat the Germans they are protecting the honour and safety of all their dear ones at home.

G. ALEXANDER HARRIS,

Governor and Commander-in-Chief.
