GRIP ON MR. HYMAN, M. P.

In Grip's Gallery of Notables this week a very good portrait of Mr. Hyman, M. P.

for London, is given, accompanied by the following letterpress explanations:

MR. CHAS. S. HYMAN, M. P.

The gentleman pictured above belongs to the legal profession, and has an office for the carrying on of that honest and indispensable business at the city of London.

He enjoys a great personal popularity in that city, which was his birthplace and the scene of his trials and triumphs as a school boy. A few years ago he was nominated as the Liberal candidate for Parliament against

Hon. John Carling, and succeeded in defeating that gentleman. The election was contested, and of course, Mr. Hyman was unseated. The same candidate again took the field, and once more Mr. Hyman won the battle, so that he is at present the member for London. He has, for certain reasons of a personal character, refrained from taking his seat in the House since his selection, and Mr. Carling is kindly performing his parliamentary duties for him.

As it would not be strictly legal for the latter gentleman to sit for London, which is only entitled to one member, he is understood to be representing Judge Elliot, and the arrangement seems to give every satisfaction to the Government.

That is pretty good. The only mistake that our sprightly contemporary makes is in dubbing Mr. Hyman a lawyer. He is not a lawyer, Mr. Grip, but a manufacturer of leather, and you know it has been well said: "There's nothing like leather!"

Eggs were selling in Toronto on Saturday, according to the Empire, at from 9 1/2 cents to 10 1/2 cents a dozen. In Buffalo, the price of eggs on the same day was given in the Commercial as 15 1/2 cents to 16 1/2 cents.

Teacup avenue; west side Queen street, Craig to Bruce streets.

A horse owned by a Mr. Tunks, of Westminster, got loose in the Baptist Church driving shed, South London, last evening during service, and made matters livid for a few minutes. After it had torn a wheel off Mr. Nichol's rig and damaged its own harness considerably, it made for the street, but was captured by Fireman Smith of No. 8 station, who was attracted by the noise.

That neat little cottage at 193 Bruce street, South London, surrounded by one of the prettiest and best kept flower gardens to be seen in a season's travel, will have to take care of itself for the next couple of months. Reason: The owner,

Mr. James Goodall, who has charge of Mr.
J. W. Little's farm, opposite Springbank, was on his way as usual to the farm this morning, accompanied by Mr. William Lewis, his assistant, when on nearing the overhead bridge just beyond the cemetery they were suddenly surprised by a returning pilot engine. The road was not wide enough for the sudden turn necessary, and the unmanageable horse upset the wagon into the fence. Mr. Goodall, who was driving, received very severe injuries.

His leg was broken near the ankle, the arm was badly dislocated, and he was bruised about the head and body. Despite his injuries he pluckily got a rig and drove to the city for medical assistance. Drs.

Hodge and Moorehouse found it necessary to administer chloroform before they could attend to the injuries. Mr. Goodall is now doing nicely. Mr. Lewis, his companion, escaped luckily with a few bruises.

Who Were They?
The Detroit Evening News of Saturday contains a lengthy account of an altercation which took place Wednesday evening at the Fulton Hotel, in which a man named John Hammond, an advance agent for "The South Before the War" was brutally assaulted by "two men" who were identified by the London-one of whom is a lawyer of considerable prominence, with a wide circle of acquaintances among the Detroit sporting fraterbrated as the 25th anniversary of the day when the Emperor and Empress were crowned King and Queen of Hungary. The Pope has sent a general dispensation, and fasting will be laid aside for that day. The schools throughout the kingdom will have three days' vacation for the children. The Emperor will be surrounded exclusively by Hungarians during the celebration.

New Taxes To Be Imposed.
QUEBEC, May 30.-It is stated that the Government intends to make up the $1-250,000 deficit by tax of 1 mill on the dollar on real estate. This tax will probably only bring in about $400,000, and the remainder will have to be made up in other ways. The next step will probably be a tax upon mortgages, stocks, bonds, etc.

Each individual will have to make a return of his possessions in that line, and if detected defrauding the revenue he will have to pay a double tax.
