The freight was on the main line, and the fact that the passenger special was running at a low rate of speed, alone prevented a serious, if not a fatal, accident. When the crash came, the passengers were jolted from their seats, but no one was injured. The rear car of the freight train, thrown from the tracks and turned over on its side, while other cars of the train also left the tracks. The overturned car caught fire and much excitement prevailed.

The line was cleared in good time and the Port Erie train was able to proceed with the same crew and engine. The engineer of the passenger train jumped, but was not hurt.

Modern Bread Manufacturing Plants To Be Erected in Canadian Cities.
Toronto, Aug. 5.—The establishment of another large industry for Canada will result from the negotiations closed here today by Mr. Cawthra Mulock for the organization of the Canada Bread Company, Limited. The company will have modern bread manufacturing plants in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, and it is the intention to arrange in the near future for the erection of plants in all the other larger cities in the Dominion. The company, when immediate plans of extensions and new plants are completed, will have a weekly output of 1,000,000 loaves, giving an annual production of about 50,000,000 loaves. Included in the new company are the Bredin Bread Company, of Toronto; Stuart's, Limited, Montreal; George Weston, Limited, Toronto; W. J. Boyd, Winnipeg, and H. C. Temlin, Toronto. Mr. Mark Bredin, head of the Bredin Bread Company, Toronto, will be general manager, while the board of directors will include George Weston, president of Geo. Weston, Limited; H. C. EDDY COMPANY AND WHOLESALE GROCERS
Mr. Rowley Explains Why He Deals Through Wholesalers.
NO RESTRAINT OF TRADE
An Argument Against Cut Prices—The Contract Selling Arrangement.

The Canadian Grocer contains the report of an interesting address by Mr. Rowley, the head of the E. B. Eddy Company, of Hull. Mr. Rowley said:

"The policy of the Eddy Company for over half a century has been, and now will be, as long as I am in charge, to cater largely to, and to sell through the medium of, our friends among the wholesale grocery and jobbing trades of Canada. By this means, the labor and the cost of distributing the wares we make, among the retail trade and the large number of smaller purchasers is minimized, in fact, almost entirely avoided.

"Although we have more than a score of branches, agencies and depots placed advantageously in all the largest and the most important cities throughout Canada, these establishments are used chiefly as delivery distributing points to, and in the interest of the wholesale trades. By this means, we avoid the employment of an army of commercial representatives and travelers who would otherwise have to employ, and who when so employed, would go over the same ground, perform the same work, and come into unnecessary contact with the travelers and the representatives of our wholesale friends.

"Wherefore, by this means we do not have to employ travelers, and pay a large number of travelling representatives, it is but right and fair, that reasonable profit should go to the wholesale grocery and jobbing trades who undertake the care, the cost and the trouble of the final disposition and distribution of our wares to the retailer, and to the consumer.

"How it is that this policy and plan, we say to the wholesalers: We will sell you our product at our list prices, subject to certain discounts on a certain term for a minimum stated quantity, with well understood conditions as to delivery and payment on the understanding that, in selling our goods, you adhere rigidly to our list prices, and handle our goods exclusively, and certify to us periodically that you have done so; then we will allow you an extra loyalty quantity discount.

"I have been doing this for more than twenty years, because it is an advantage to us (as it is an advantage to any manufacturer), that the price of the wares we make should be as stable and as uniform as possible. Also so that our regular customers may feel that all such customers are treated alike, and are entitled to fix prices for our own wares, and to stipulate, when we sell them, that the purchaser in reselling, should not do so at a cut price, or at lower than the price fixed by us from time to time in our list.

"No self-respecting manufacturer will allow the price of any of his wares to be cut, or allow his business to be disturbed, and the joy of living made a burden to him by some ill-advised effort to get the better of some other manufacturer, or trader, by cutting prices when all the manufacturers are straight-forward in the matter, and are willing to, can secure a proper, profitable margin on the goods we make or you handle.

Profit to Each.
"There is always rivalry among, and opposition between, the manufacturers of the best results, a fair price must be made by the manufacturer and a fair profit must be made by the manufacturer. Out of that price, and out of that profit, I am willing to the whole sale grocery and jobbing trades to resell them for their trouble in the distribution of our wares throughout Canada, through this medium of the wholesalers.

"We realize that to get the undivided service of any reliable wholesale firm that has to be given a good profit, because the undivided services are worth more to us than the services of a firm who divides its time in selling lines of goods in opposition to those of the manufacturer, and who are intended to and sometimes do interfere largely with the profits of the wholesale trade and with the returns received by the manufacturers for their wares, so let me make it plain to you all, that notwithstanding the way we strive to get the undivided support of the wholesaler, that is not all that is necessary.

The Successful Producer.
"A guaranteed quality is a prime essential—the very first—but the successful manufacturer has also to make a large assortment, has to have it well distributed, has to make prompt delivery; all these are essential, and then his prices must be right.

"The successful manufacturer must also have facilities and must get the best good will, the hearty support and the best selling power of the wholesaler.

"The manufacturer has all this, he ought to be able to supply through the medium of the wholesale trade—the retailer, user and consumer, at a better article at a lower cost to the user than it is possible for any manufacturer to sell, distribute and deliver satisfactorily to the retail trade direct.

"Many years' experience in distributing has taught me that it is worth a lot to us to have the good-will and the selling power of the wholesaler, and the jobbing trades.

legion of travelling salesmen, and who, so far as the Ontario branch is concerned, have an office and staff devoting their energies solely to the sale and distribution of the manufacturers' wares; anyhow, to be quite frank about it, and without in any way wishing to flatter the Guild members, or the wholesalers, and not because I am a great here today, and am talking to you by special invitation, I have no hesitation in saying that we regard the wholesalers as the best connecting line between the manufacturers and the retailers and the consumer.

Contract Selling Plan.
"The contract selling arrangement is now becoming more general in use with manufacturers, so let me tell you our plan.

"It is a make arrangement with each wholesale house separately, on the understanding that the arrangement shall be carried out in perfect good faith, we depending on the honesty of the wholesale firms as distributors, as much as we depend on the honesty and integrity of our resident managers and agents. The arrangement being made, both parties have a right to see that it is carried out with faith and in its entirety—that is, has a right to rely absolutely on the rigid carrying out of the arrangement. It is not a new thing, and it is not a new thing for a manufacturer to control the goods he makes, and it is no new thing for the wholesaler and the jobber to join in order to control the goods of special or proprietary goods, or any line of manufacture.

"This is merely a matter of fair arrangement and a good understanding, but it is essential that there should be absolute honesty, integrity and loyalty on both sides.

"There is no doubt whatever about the right of any manufacturer to sell the wares he makes to whom he chooses, at whatever price, and on whatever terms he chooses.

A Celebrated Case.
"I have had a long and extended experience in this and have looked into these matters for many years, from all the different points of view, and without wishing to take too strong a position, I am of opinion that the manufacturer should come in a different way, still I would like anyone who may be timid or uncertain about this, to refer to the well-known case of Eddison vs. Carington, a report of which will be found in the English chancery court reports of 1901, Vol. 2, Chap. 276.

Protection to Firm.
"The object of what is known as a 'Contract Selling Plan,' with its accompanying conditions, is, in fact, an approved by the highest courts of the land, and is a form of contract, that we adopted many years ago, and have carried out straight-forward and honest, and successful operation for over a quarter of a century, and is a plan I heartily recommend to every wholesaler as a protection to his firm, and to every manufacturer as an aid to a better understanding between all parties, as it is a plan which will result in profit and advantage to all concerned.

"Every manufacturer is bound to sell to every man who wants to handle his goods.

"Every manufacturer has a right to ascertain the character of a man he is dealing with, and has a right to say, 'I will not sell to you, or to have dealings with a man who breaks his contracts.'

"Everyone has a right to see that arrangements with selling agents, upon which he shapes and molds his business and distributes his wares, are honestly and straightforwardly kept and maintained.

"When a contract of this sort is broken, it not only affects one's business, and reputation, but it affects one's temper, and one's health, so it is not intended to carry on business or to make a man's life a misery, and to people who break their agreements. This is the position the Eddy Company took years ago, and it intends to hold to, so I say to you wholesalers, that you are loyal to us, we will be loyal to you, and we will help you carry on your business by the best methods and as honest traders, you have a right to give us, our assistance, and we intend to continue to merit your constant, hearty and loyal support."

To the Retailer.
The reason he did not sell direct to the retailers was that he could sell more advantageously to himself and retailers, through the channel of the wholesaler. He recommended all branches of the trade joining for discussion and hoped that at future conventions there would be a larger number of manufacturers present.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Rowley was moved by Mr. Eddison, and seconded by Mr. Blair, Toronto, and the clear manner in which he had put the matter before the meeting, and also for the forward movement which his company had made in taking hold of the contract selling plan.

Excursions to Western Canada.
The Grand Trunk Railway System announce that on Tuesdays, June 12 and 27, July 11 and 26, Aug. 8 and 22, Sept. 5 and 19, 1911, Homeseekers' Excursions will be run from Montreal in Ontario and Quebec to Western Canada via Chicago and Duluth, or via Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, and round trip fares.

The well-known double track line of the Grand Trunk from the east to Chicago appears to be the most direct and the superior train service that is offered by this line, including the famous International Limited, from Montreal daily at 8 a.m., and which is the finest and fastest train in Canada, many passengers will be attracted this autumn to the route to Chicago, a most interesting one, taking passengers through the principal cities and towns in Canada and in the States of Michigan and Indiana.

In addition to this, a choice of seven lines between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis is offered.

Owing to the great number of Canadian who reside in Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, and other cities en route, there is no doubt that the Grand Trunk will find many patrons who will take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded them for a brief visit at the stations with their friends.

Canadian citizens are exempt from so-called immigration examination, and there is no detention at any point.

Baggage is carried through the United States in bond without requiring any special attention on the part of the passenger. Inspection is not necessary at any of the points at the border.

Another feature that will appeal to the homeseeker is the comfortable transfer at points like Chicago, St. Paul and Duluth into freshly ventilated, clean cars, avoiding the necessity of traveling a long distance in the same car.

In addition to the above routes, the sale of tickets is also authorized via Sarnia, and the Northern Navigation Company's magnificent steamers, across Lake Huron and Lake Superior.

For further particulars apply to any agent of the Grand Trunk Railway System, or write to Mr. J. Quinlan, district passenger agent, Homeseekers' Excursions, Mr. A. B. Duff, district passenger agent, Union Station, Toronto, or Mr. R. E. Ruse, C. P. and E. A. London.

CHICAGO LABOR SLUGGERS ARE FOUND GUILTY
Gang That Has Been Terrorizing Chicago May Get Long Term.

[Canadian Press.]
Chicago, Aug. 5.—Peter Gentlemen, Edward Storgard, William Connors and Arthur O'Connor, labor sluggers, were last night found guilty of assault with intent to kill Morgan Bell, a non-union steamfitter, whom they had driven from work at the point of a revolver.

The verdict of guilty was brought in by a jury after nearly four hours' deliberation. A motion for a new trial was entered.

The four men convicted are said to be members of a slugging crew that has terrorized Chicago for many months, and among whose members there have been numerous slayings.

The charges on which the four men were convicted is punishable by imprisonment of from one to fifteen years.

CHRISTY ROBBED FISHER OF MODEL
While Brother Artist Is Enjoying Vacation, Painter 'Puts One Over On Him.

New York, Aug. 5.—Howard Chandler Christy, painter hitherto of fair and brawny dunces, has 'put one over' on his fellow-artist, Harrison Fisher. Christy has robbed Fisher of his prized model, Miss Lucy Cotton.

Fisher is working on a book of "Types of Fair American Women." Miss Cotton was to be his sweet, winsome type. He had been saving her up, as it were, in the Hotel Hardgrave, on West Seventy-second street. He had no chance to pose her when he started on his vacation two weeks ago. When he again enters his studio he will find his model has flown to Zanesville, O., the artistic habitat of Christy.

Reluctant to Part.
It came about because Miss Cotton has a sister Ruth. She is tiny and a blonde. Lucy is slim, tall and a brunette. Fisher felt that in Lucy he had discovered a prize. But along came Christy from Zanesville with the announcement that he was tired of painting the muscular woman, and desired to try the "modest violet" type.

"I've just the girl for you," said Fisher. "Her name is Miss Ruth Cotton, and she lives in the Hotel Hardgrave."

"Thanks," replied Christy, and out he went.

When he reached the Cotton apartment Miss Ruth was not in, but Miss Lucy was. As she described the meeting to a reporter, Christy sat silent for several minutes.

Then, "her story ran," he spoke up with, "Why, you've got pretty regular features yourself, haven't you?" Of course I had to admit I had. We started talking about their faces, and discovered we were both Christian Scientists. That seemed to clinch things with Mr. Christy.

He said to me, 'and come out on the next train to Zanesville. I positively refuse to have any other model but you.'

"But I couldn't leave at once like that, so Mr. Christy had to go away without me. But I'm going to leave late this week or early next week. No, Mr. Fisher need be back by that time. I'm afraid he'll say something awful when he hears the news."

Mrs. Christy, though living in this city, visits Zanesville often to see her daughter. There are rumors that the Christys are to be reconciled soon.

Mob Besieges Police Station and Policemen Use Revolvers.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 5.—Street car employees went on strike here today because the company refused to discharge an inspector they did not like. A mob of several hundred rioters entered a hotel in search of strike-breakers. They then attempted to push a car into the river after battering out all the windows, but were held back by the police.

Strikers next gathered around the police station and demanded the release of one of their number. The police had to use revolvers.

London reports to Bradstreet say a good tone is noted to general business here. Trade in the surrounding district promises fairly satisfactorily, although nothing in the way of a phenomenal season is to be expected, as crops are of only average quality and yield.
