SOME OBSERVATIONS
ON THE
INDIAN NATIVES
OF THIS CONTINENT.

---

SITUATE as we are on this Continent with very extensive frontiers bordering upon a vast wilderness, inhabited by the native Indians, it becomes subject worthy the most serious attention of every friend of mankind, every lover of his country, to be truly informed what is the situation and disposition of the people, so far as it may have an influence upon our duty as Christians, and on peace and safety as members of Civil Society: And that we may not make a rash estimation
