
Edited by Mrs. E Day MacPherson

For [illegible] angels who enjoy a [illegible] with the lowest devils. [illegible] devil's advocate, [illegible] devil destroys the speculations of men [illegible] annuls the judgments of nature.

Hosts of nations can be crushed to rub [illegible] never been at war while hot cakes and [illegible] spread on a paper.

For improving toenails put a few drops [illegible] the cuticle follow up in the same [illegible] examine the appliance at intervals for a [illegible] days and a cure will be effected.

Acetic acid is the natural constituent [illegible] vinegar and is about eight times as [illegible]. A proportion of acid just with [illegible] in that will not come up sharp enough [illegible] be a certain help.

It is becoming a mewhat common for [illegible] ladies to assume the title of Mrs. [illegible] Malone. It is really the revival of [illegible] the fashion of by gone times when "Mrs [illegible]" was used in the same way.

The yearning desire of the average school girl for a dress of bright plaid goods can be gratified this autumn, and she can, will be in the fashion, for they are to be "the thing" in girls' school gowns.

The State Central Committee of the People's Party in Massachusetts has decided to put a ticket in the field this fall. The party endorses the Cincinnati platform and among many other important reforms, demands that of woman suffrage.

Ice cream can now be made as cheaply as lead. Its weight in proportion to bulk is so much less however, that it may be said to be as cheap as iron and can be used to great advantage in very many cases where iron has hitherto been used.

Miss Kate Marsden has undertaken a trip into the wilds of Siberia to explore the country beyond Lakutsk to discover if possible a certain herb and to grow only in that region which, it is supposed, will cure leprosy. May all good fortune attend her.

One of the newest fads for the coming autumn will be low cut shoes for ladies, in light colors to match the suit, with a big leaf or flowers in patent leather or dazzling red for its adorning. Shoes that have grown shabby can be renovated in this way.

A good way to make a baby go to sleep readily and sleep straight on through the night is to give it a warm sponge bath and then soak its feet for about five minutes in hot water. This process brings the blood away from the brain surface and to their extremities and sends the sleepless cross baby off to dreamland [illegible] by magic.

A tight collar is accounted cloak in [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]