Over 300,000 copies of this Life of "Chinese" Gordon, by Mr. Allen, were sold in land in a very short time.

The English publishers have authorized us to publish a Canadian Copyright Edition, which we have done, and at a price so low that many thousands of the Canadian public can easily procure it, and thereby have interesting and instructive reading concerning this wonderful man.

"He got the nickname of 'Chinese' Gordon from his splendid victories in China, in what is called the great Tai-ping Rebellion. Occasionally, when the Chinese officers flinched, he would take one quietly by the arm and lead him into the thickest of the enemy's fire, as coolly as though he were taking him in to dinner. He was the means of saving thousands of lives; but he left China without taking a penny of reward."
