

He is a wise physician who practices to prevent as well as to cure; assisting nature to operate with her balsams which are principally fresh air, then pure water and unadulterated food, and a cheerful mind.—Anon.