

The opening ceremony took place in the presence of the Ambassador of Canada, Mr. Michel Dupuy, the French Minister of State for Research and Technology, Jean-Pierre Chevènement, and the French Minister of Communications, Georges Fillioud, as well as French and Canadian personalities, including those in charge of the project in the Department of the Secretary of State. It featured a brief demonstration in which the participants were able to communicate directly with the terminology bank in Ottawa.

Information:

Claude Gendron (Secretary of State)

(819) 997-3721