

Contents of the Chapters.

on the 48 the Iro- 52 Tuns, the Erie, 1679, 68 atenac, 68 mbark- 72 rkment 77 our Pas- ron, 81 on the 83 m Mil- is, 88 ment in the Bay of the 91 or Great 93 ; with ther End 96 between 100 a Fort 106 rom Fort 108 Chap.	Chap. 29. An Account of our Embarkment at the Head of the River of the Illinois, 112 Chap. 30. A Description of the Hunting of the wild Bulls and Oxen, by the Savages; Of the bigness of those Beasts; and of the Advantages and Improvements that may be made of the Plain where they Pasture; and of the Woods thereabouts, 114 Chap. 31. An Account of our Arrival to the Illinois, one of the most Numerous Nations of the Savages of America, 119 Chap. 32. An Account of what hapned to us while we remain'd among the Illinois, till the Building of a New Fort, 126 Chap. 33. Reflections upon the Temper and Manners of the Illinois, and the little Disposition they have to embrace Christianity, 131 Chap. 34. An Account of the Building of a New Fort on the River of the Illinois, nam'd by the Savages Checagou, and by us Fort Creve-cœur; as also a Bark to go down the River Meschasipi, 135 Chap. 35. Containing an Account of what was transacted at Fort Crevecœur before M. la Salle's return to Fort Frontenac; and the Instructions we receiv'd from a Savage concerning the River Meschasipi, 138 Chap. 36. The Author sets out from Fort Creve-cœur, to continue his Voyage, 145 Chap. 37. The Course of the River Meschasipi from the Mouth of the River of the Illinois, to the Sea; which the Author did not think fit to publish in his Louisiana; with an Account of the Reasons he had to undertake that Discovery, 149 Chap.	112 114 119 126 131 135 138 145 149 Chap.
--	---	--