CONFUCIUS AND THE DEEP PIT.

A LITTLE SERMON BY A CHINAMBEN.

A man had fallen into a deep pit, and lay groaning in the miry bottom, utterly unable to move. Confucius passed that way, and looking over into the pit, said: "Poor fellow! I am very sorry for you. Why were you such a fool as to get in there? Let me give you a piece of advice: If you ever get out be careful you don't get in again." And that was all he could do for him.

Next came a Buddhist priest, and looking down at him, said: "Poor fellow! I am pained to find you in such a condition; I think if you could scramble up two thirds of the way, or even half, I might reach down and help you out." But the man was utterly unable to move.

Last of all the Saviour came by, and hearing his cries went to the edge of the pit, and reached entirely down to the bottom, and lifted him up, and set him on his feet and said, "Go, and sin no more."—The Children's Messenger.

Dr. Legge, Professor of Chinese at Oxford, says if the present rate of conversion of the Chinese to Christianity continues, by the year 1913 there will be 26,000,000 of church members, and 100,000,000 of professing Christians in the Chinese Empire.
