queror of death, take possession of Thy Kingdom."—Ernest Renan.

"Peruse the books of philosophers, with all their pomp of diction, how meagre, how contemptible, are they when compared with the Scriptures. The majesty of the Scriptures strikes me with admiration."—Rousseau.

"I have always been strongly in favor of secular education without theology, but I must confess that I have become no less seriously perplexed to know by what practical measures the religious feeling which is the essential basis of moral conduct, is to be kept up in the present utterly chaotic state of opinion on these matters without the use of the Bible."—Professor Huxley.
