

JANUARY'S THIRD BLAZE

ONTARIO-STREET THE SCENE OF A $25,000 CONFLAGRATION.

In the case of his predecessors the blaze was kindled between the hours of 3 and 4 in the morning—but little assurance to alleviate the losses of the sufferers—the origin a mystery.

The planning mill of C. B. Williams, 103 Ontario-street, was completely gutted by fire and a number of adjacent buildings were badly damaged early yesterday morning. The loss will be in all about $25,000 on which there is only a trifle of insurance.

Policeman Charlton (39), discovered smoke issuing from the premises of the building shortly after 3 o'clock, and he pulled back 224 at Parliament and Queen-streets. The firemen were on the scene in five minutes after the alarm but on their arrival it was evident that the blaze had been in progress some time and the flames had gained such a hold on the premises that a general alarm was sounded, calling the whole brigade to the conflagration, which by that time, illuminated the sky for miles around.

It was easily seen that saving the planning mill or any part of it was an impossibility, so the firemen directed their efforts to preventing the fire from spreading to the buildings in Queen and Berkeley-streets, where the residents had commenced to remove their belongings to the sidewalk at daylight the flames were subdued, but a detachment of firemen remained at the scene most of the day playing streams of water over the smoldering embers in order to prevent the possibility of a second outbreak.

Losses and Insurance. The heaviest loser is Mr. John Carlyle, who owned a three-story building and a large quantity of machinery employed therein. His loss is about $15,000, against which there is absolutely no insurance.

Other losers are, Charles B. Williams, planning mill, $20,000; no insurance; R. E. Linton, cabinet maker, $800; no insurance; James Walsh, soda water manufacturer, loss $1500, insurance $500; Martin G. Linton, cabinet maker, $500; W. W. Brown, novelties, $1000; no insurance; T. V. Geary, no insurance; Michael Allingham, superintendent lost $4000 valued at $1000. The premises south of the mill, occupied by James Dickson, Charles and Robert, were destroyed by water; M. A. Hutchinson, wood-yard, $200.

The roofes of two rough-cast tenement houses in Ontario-street, north of the mill, were burned off. The places were destroyed by the fire, and the houses were occupied by numerous families, whose effects were badly damaged by water. Mrs. McClelland's loss will not be all right.

Harold Hamilton, a Portland-street fireman, sustained a serious injury to his leg, owing to being struck by a runaway horse Monday. He was taken home in the ambulance.

Peter Cane, who lives above Walsh's soda water factory, was injured by the fire with his wife and four children, who were taken care of by neighbors.

During the fire there was an explosion which has not yet been accounted for. It was generally thought that it was the boiler, but such was not the case.

As a result of the blaze about 50 men will be thrown out of employment. Notwithstanding the fact that the streets in the vicinity of the fire were crowded with people.

The alarm bell did not ring at Wilton-avenue fire hall and the men there did not know of the fire until a man who had seen the smoke rushed in and roused them out of bed.

A number of residents in the extreme east end of the city waited on the Mayor yesterday with a request for a more frequent service on the Balmsea-avenue, the eastern terminus of the King-street cars.

When interviewed on the question, said: "We give a 15-minute service from Woodbine to Balmsea-avenue, and at 4:30 p.m., and as there are very few residents in that district and the cars usually run from Woodbine, we cannot see our way to increase the service."

With reference to complaints from the Church-street residents, the warder tendent said the cars in that thoroughfare ran every 7-12 minutes, which is only half a minute slower than the summer service.

The City Engineer yesterday communicated with the railway authorities in regard to the Broadview and Parliament lines, on which an increased service is desired.

Gunn told The World reporter that attention would be given to the engineer's letter, and that additional cars would probably be placed on the route in question.

Residents in Queen-street, east of the Don, who were annoyed by the street car question, were unanimous in the desire for an improved service to Woodbine, and the King-street cars run to that point every 6-12 minutes and the eastward service is not provided sufficient accommodation.

Fire Insurers. The Toronto Board of Fire Underwriters met yesterday and concluded their business. The reports of committees were adopted and the following officers appointed for the year, viz. Mr. P. H. Sims, president; Mr. Alfred Wright, vice-president; and Mr. Joseph McQuay, secretary.

With the advantages and increased facilities of my new store, I shall be in a better position than ever to cater to the requirements of my customers. Frank Stubbs, 8 King-st. west.

Statutes Not Yet Repealed. The Insurance Committee of the Board of Trade met a committee of the Fire Underwriters yesterday afternoon but no decision as to rates was arrived at. The figures, the insurance men say, do not warrant any reduction in rates in the city.

TO ABATE THE NUISANCE. Means to Put a Stop to Vexatious Litigation Considered by Sir Oliver.

Mr. Stapleton Caldecott, the retiring president of the Board of Trade, in a speech before the Attorney-General yesterday with a view to having the Government take some action to prevent vexatious litigants.

In introducing his subject Mr. Caldecott said that there were 611 practicing lawyers in Toronto, which was a large number for a city of 250,000.

Many of them were therefore so unfortunately situated that they were obliged to resort to litigation in order to make money. Hence arose a great deal of vexatious litigation.

Mr. Caldecott said that he had had a number of cases in which the plaintiff had obtained a judgment in his favor, but the defendant had refused to pay.
