EIGHTEENTH YEAR

A CALAMITY IN INDIA.

Forty or More People Killed as the Result of a Cyclone.

LARGE SECTION OF COUNTRY DEVASTATED

Seventy Persons Wounded and Twenty Houses Destroyed by the Storm.

Progress of the Campaign in India—Generals Blood and Elies Have Joined Forces—Gen. Jeffreys Punishing the Tribes—The Nile Expedition Halted—Disastrous Collision of Steamers at Flume, Austria, Causing a Loss of Half a Hundred Lives—German Torpedo Boat Sunk and Duke Frederick William Drowned With Others—Cable News.

Brindisi, Italy, Sept. 22.—A cyclone swept over Sicily, Sardinia and Calabria, all in the Province of Lecce, yesterday evening. Forty persons were killed, 70 people were wounded, 20 houses were destroyed and telegraphic communication with the scene of the disaster was cut off.

Fearful Loss of Life.
Brindisi, Sept. 22.—At Orta, the railway depot was demolished and all the railway men engaged there were killed. Two churches and 30 houses were destroyed in a neighboring village, where 20 were killed and 24 injured.

At Mesagne, a province of Lecce, 15 were killed and 5 injured. Great tracts of country have been devastated by the hurricane.

THE INDIA CAMPAIGN.

Generals Blood and Elies Have Combined Their Forces—Treachery in Gen. Jeffreys' Camp.

Peshawar, Sept. 22.—A despatch from Lakarai says that the attack which the Haddad Mullah made at 9 o'clock on Monday evening on Camp Nawagai, where General Sir Bindon Blood is in command, was marked by several fierce rushes upon three sides of the British square simultaneously. The enemy was repulsed on all sides, though several British men were found a few yards from the muzzles of the mountain guns.

The first and second divisions and General Elies have now been combined at Lakarai. General Blood will give General Elies one of his brigades and will take the other to support General Jeffreys, who is having further trouble with the Mahmands.

Treachery of Afridi.
Simla, Sept. 22.—The brigade of General Jeffreys continues the task of detaching the rebellious tribes. Yesterday Umra-ah's village, Zogai, was destroyed. General Jeffreys encountered but small opposition, though several Sepoys of the Afridi tribe deserted with arms and ammunition. One Afridi killed a fellow-sepooy and Sikh deserter. Both took their rifles.

After the attack on General Sir Bindon Blood's camp at Lakarai, the enemy fled, the enemy left twenty dead upon the field and carried off the bodies of others who were killed.

MOST OF THEM PERISHED.
A deplorable calamity at Flume, Austria, which cost over 50 lives.

London, Sept. 22.—A despatch to The Daily News from Vienna says that the steamer Ika, with a crew of ten, and carrying 50 Austrian passengers, was entering the port at Flume, on the River Fiume, at 10 o'clock last evening (Tuesday), while the Bora was blowing hard, when she collided with the English steamer Thea, which was under way.

The Ika was stove in and she sank in two minutes. Boats hastily put out saved the crew and some of the passengers perished. The cries of the drowning were heard for miles. The casualty took place in full view of thousands, who crowded the pier in the greatest excitement and alarm.

German Duke Drowned.
Hamburg, Sept. 22.—Torpedo boat No. 10 has been captured and sunk near the first lightship off Cuxhaven. Eighty persons, including her commander, Duke Frederick Wilhelm, and his wife, were drowned. The Duke was born in 1871, held the rank of lieutenant in the German navy, and was a brother of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. A salvage steamer has gone to the scene of the disaster.

The Town in Mourning.
Schwerin, Sept. 22.—The mother of the Duke received the news of his death at 6 o'clock this evening at Castle Bennewitz. The whole town has been thrown into deep mourning, and the bells were tolled and the performance at the Court Theatre was abandoned.

BANKERS UP IN ARMS.
The Governor of the Bank of England has issued a remarkable order.

London, Sept. 22.—A meeting of the bankers of London, called to protest against the action of the Governor of the Bank of England, in relation to the silver reserve, was held at the hearing house to-day. There was a large attendance of representatives of the principal banks, but not one of the prominent banks were not represented, but according to the statements of those who participated in the meeting, their absence was due to the fact that their heads were not in or near London at the present time.

A resolution protesting against the action of the Governor of the Bank of England, was adopted. This resolution will be embodied in a letter to the Governor of the Bank of England, and it will be presented to him to-morrow.

The bankers who were present at to-day's meeting were pledged to secrecy as regards the proceedings. Mr. Robert Benson, who threatened at the recent meeting of the Bank of England to sell his bank stock if silver reserves were held, took a prominent part in the meeting to-day. His protest upon the part of the London bankers is unprecedented and is the only thing talked about at present in financial circles.

BURNED THE TREATY.
Athens, Sept. 22.—With the exception of The Asy and The Akropolis, the newspapers are preaching a national crusade against the conditions of the peace treaty with Turkey.

Several of these publish interviews with members of the Legislative Assembly (the Boule). In a few instances the Boule has been urged to reject the treaty, and a copy of the treaty was placed upon a bonfire and burned amid great applause.

It is reported here that the Count Murawieff, the Russian Foreign Minister, has told the Greek Minister at St. Petersburg that the European concert considered it had finished its mission and that any decision taken by Greece would be made at her own risk and peril. General Smolenski has been ordered to start for Volo immediately.

LONDON TAILORS HIT HARD.
London, Sept. 22.—London tailors have been hit hard by the Dingley tariff. Travelers find that the hundred dollar limit leaves room only for two cheap suits. Many orders have been cancelled and the tailors are in despair at the loss of so much American trade. Some big houses have been accustomed in the past to send travelers with samples to take orders in America, but this business has now been killed.

It is the smaller London tailors who utter complaints about the Dingley tariff. Some big houses have been accustomed in the past to send travelers with samples to take orders in America, but this business has now been killed.

Every American going back with light luggage is being implored to carry clothes for friends to the hundred dollar limit. One guest at the Hotel Cecil has distributed in this way $300 worth of clothes among half a dozen friends.

Another scheme is to bring in enough cloth for a suit in the guise of a traveling bag. The London Tailors' Association will debate the Dingley bill at their next meeting.

Some big houses have been accustomed in the past to send travelers with samples to take orders in America, but this business has now been killed.

IS IT A FREEZE OUT

That the Grand Trunk and S.S. Cos. Are Aiming At?

LEAGUE AGAINST THE C.P.R.

To Kill Halifax and St. John and Give the G.T.R. the Trade.

Mr. Hays and the Steamship Companies Said to Have Put Their Heads Together to Divert Traffic From Canadian Ports for the G.T.R.'s Benefit, or Make it Canadian Price to Get Into Portland.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The World's article on the attitude of the steamship companies towards the fast line has attracted attention here, and has been published in the evening papers.

A leak that the refusal of the Allan and Dominion Lines to call at Halifax is part of an understanding with the Grand Trunk Railway, Mr. Hays and the steamship companies towards the fast line has attracted attention here, and has been published in the evening papers.

It is a well-known fact that the Grand Trunk Railway, Mr. Hays and the steamship companies towards the fast line has attracted attention here, and has been published in the evening papers.

Part of the deal also seems to be to freeze out the Canadian Pacific, or to make them pay the Grand Trunk's price to get into Portland.

The generally accepted idea is that if these lines decline to call at St. John the Government may subsidize the Beaver Line, and may over other line make it a point of sailing from St. John.

The C. P. R. would give every assistance to such a move, as it has spent considerable money in developing this port.

Mr. G. B. Beves, General Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk, was asked to-day if the decision of the steamship lines would benefit his company, and replied: "Well, no. As long as the Government gave a subsidy to the Allan and Dominion Line boats calling at Halifax, but in the event of the Government not giving a subsidy to these lines we certainly should object to their calling at any port, either before arriving at or after leaving Portland. We believe that in such a case we ought to have the benefit of a direct service."

A WEAK-KNEED POLICY.

Opinions on the Government's New Timber Regulations.

HON. ROSS SAYS THEY MAY GO FURTHER

But He Attempts to Show Why This Could Not Be Done at Present.

Says the Lumbermen Are Not of One Mind on the Subject—The Question of Prohibiting the Exportation of Saw Logs is Still Under Consideration, According to the Minister of Education, but He Could Not Say Whether or When It Would be Enforced—Press Opinions of the New Policy—Rejoicing in Michigan.

While Tuesday's Order-in-Council of the Ontario Government, practically prohibiting the importation of foreign labor and supplies in connection with the manufacture of sawlogs within the province, met with general approval, there was a pretty widespread opinion that the new regulations did not go far enough. The majority of the public thought that the Cabinet should have been more drastic in its action. The feeling of the people, as learned by The World, was that the Government should have forbidden the export of sawlogs to the United States.

From all accounts those most pleased by the Government's action were the owners of Michigan lumber mills. They had feared that Mr. Hardy and his colleagues would stop the exportation of Ontario logs and sawlogs to Michigan. They now look forward to doing a big season's work in manufacturing Canadian logs into lumber.

The Michiganians may, however, be crowing too soon, for the Administration may yet prohibit any Crown timber from leaving the province, except as manufactured lumber.

At least so The World gathered from an interview with Hon. G. W. Ross, a conversation which took place on Monday last. The reporter tried to get an interview with the Minister of Crown Lands, but could not reach Mr. Gibson, the Minister of Education, of course, knows the conditions about sawlogs, but he is not to the present action and why the policy was not pursued further.

It is to be understood, however, also, that the passage of Tuesday's Order-in-Council means that the Government has decided to prohibit the export of sawlogs.

"Not at all," replied the Cabinet Minister. "That is the opinion of Ontario, and we will have it under consideration. We are waiting for further information before making up our minds as to whether or not we should do so. Some of the lumbermen themselves are not of one mind as to what they wish to do. Some of them want to see the sawlogs go, and some of them want to see the sawlogs stay in the province, and we are under discussion, as I said before."

"Are you likely to come to a decision soon in the present case?" was asked. "I can't say just how soon. We have to try to avoid appearing too anxious to retaliate against the States, and then there is the circumstance that the present timber berth leases do not run out until April 1. It would seem, therefore, that it is not likely that we will do so until after that date. As regards the sawlogs, which were left unconditionally."

Judging from the last sentence, the likelihood is that the exportation of Ontario saw logs will not be interfered with till after the spring of next year, if at all. However, the Minister would not say so positively.

The Provincial Elections.
While talking to the Minister The World man incidentally remarked on the number of camps of this province, to be held when the general elections were brought on.

"Not for some time," replied the Minister. "To tell you the truth we have not ourselves decided upon any date of dissolution."

"But is not the activity of the members of the Government in arranging for the elections, a sign of the country's progress?"

"Oh, no! We take the same view of the thing as Mr. Whitney does. The province is a big one to get over, and when the elections are brought on we shall want to spend some time in our own constituencies."

"Later On, Perhaps."
The Hamilton Herald (Ind.) has this to say about the new regulations: "So far as they go these new regulations are commendable and along the right lines. They will ally much discontent. It has been galling for Canadians, anxious to be employed in the lumber camps of this province, to be condemned to remain idle and see men imported from Michigan employed in cutting and rafting timber for their Yankee employers. In this excluding labor from the lumber camps the Government has done well. Later on, perhaps, it can be persuaded to do even better."

"A Rank Failure."
The Evening Star (Toronto), which is generally satisfied with the Liberal way of doing things, refers to the new policy as "a rank failure." It says: "The Ontario Government's policy on the timber question is a rank failure of another column, is a half-way-house sort of an affair."

The Government's regulations contain nothing which will affect the fullness of this wish; they require not that all saw logs be cut in Ontario, but that they be cut in Michigan, but simply that those trees which the limit holders' choice to saw here shall be sawn by residents of Canada. There is nothing in the regulations to prevent the export of the logs to Michigan and the sawing of them there.

The second provision, that all supplies must be purchased in Canada, will not do for the workmen of the first class. If the limit holders choose to sell the logs over to Michigan and saw them there, there will be no mill employees to need supplies. Business here will benefit only by the supplies sold to the men who cut the trees. The Government, possibly, proposes to offend United States lumbermen by requiring the sawing of the logs here, which has simply provided a regulation which will offend and harm those who are not to work in, and they cannot go over to Michigan for employment.

Wardwell (John J. Dixon) re the following despatch to-day from the following:

The opening of the market to-day very weak, under heavy selling by London houses, considerable of the market recovered from its initial decline, and trading was mainly professional. The bearish sentiment, succeeding falling prices down about 10 cents. The strength in corn and buying by Europe comes to the rescue, and the market ended at same point at which it started. Cable advice, however, of decline enabled the accomplishment of a busy business at seaboard, 30 loads of Primary receipts continued large, were 3,000,000 bush for two days lifts. The Atlantic seaboard clearance was quite large, 1,019,000 bush in sum. The market looks rather weak, and Europe comes to the rescue, and the market will drift to a lower level. Hides—Market opened steady, and lower on reports of yellow fever in Ohio. Commission houses sold Oct. 1900 to $1.15. Anglo-American Trading Company sold Dec. 1st later $1.15. Market closed at $1.15. Hides—Market closed at $1.15. Hides—Market closed at $1.15.
