BOARD OF WORKS OUT OF FUNDS

Was Not Long in Reaching the Bottom of the Purse.

Called to Time by the City Engineer—Street Railway Company Not Running 17 Hours a Day—Other Business.

The board of works has almost reached the end of its tether. The fact was pointed out by the city engineer at the regular meeting last night. When the improvements now under way are completed, the board's funds will be exhausted, he said.

Owing to the depleted treasury consideration of the engineer's estimate of replacing a box culvert, corner of Waterloo and Oxford streets, will be deferred until next year. The cost would be $900.

The notification of Fraser & Fraser on behalf of Mr. C. A. Morley, respecting property on Beech street, was laid over for further information.

A petition for a plank walk on Kensington street, West London, was referred to the engineer to get a petition for a walk under the local improvement act.

Mr. J. M. Logan appeared on behalf of residents on Central avenue west. The roadway was impassable, he said, owing to the condition of the street.

Contractor Johnstone has filled in the sewer trenches. Ald. Parnell moved to instruct the contractor to put the street in the same shape he found it in.

The chairman said none of the contractors were treated that way. This job had just been completed, and a shower would improve it.

"It was a disgrace," said Mr. Logan. "The contractors should not be allowed to leave the streets in such shape."

Ald. Wilkey never saw it any place but in London. In other places the excavated earth was packed into the trenches. Here the streets were left out of repair for a year, he said.

The matter was referred to the chairman and engineer.

The city engineer reported that the street railway company were running 20 cars in the city, and 1 on the Springbank line, and that they were not running 17 hours a day.

Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption, and that no medicine could cure her. Her husband suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use, and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was. Sold by W. T. Strong & Co.

"OLD BOYS" OUTING

Games Proposed To Be Held at Springbank.

Decision of the Reception Committee Reached by Secret Ballot.

The Committee Far From Unanimous in Their Choice—Sunday Services.

Springbank Park was selected last night as the place for the afternoon games and sports in connection with the Old Boys' reunion tomorrow. The choice was decided largely by the votes of persons who were not members of the committee. It was made in spite of the protests of many of the most active and influential workers on the committee—men who were chiefly instrumental in bringing former reunions to a successful issue.

"It will result in strife and discord," said Mr. McCann.

"It's no use to ask the people to ride to Springbank," said J. W. Jones. "The citizens don't and the visitors won't."

Nineteen of the people who voted when the deciding ballot was taken, did not vote at all when it was only a question of going to Queen's Park or not. They waited until Springbank was in question.

Another peculiar feature of the meeting last night was the calm assumption on the part of Ald. Carrothers that the Western Fair board did not want to allow the use of the ring and stand at Queen's Park. For fear of having his feelings hurt by a refusal, he had refrained from making a formal application for their use. The singular refusal of the Grand Trunk to run cars to Queen's Park also caused considerable speculation.

THOSE PRESENT. Ald. McPhillips was chairman, Jas. Bell secretary, and the others present were: Hugh Sharkey, Benj. Johnston, R. A. Lyons, J. Arbuckle, W. L. Lowrie, — Johnston, A. O. Graydon, F. Durah, J. H. Flock, Hume Elliot, E. W. M. Flock, T. W. Scandrett, O. Elwood, O. H. Talbot, Geo. Merritt, E. J. MacRobert, Dr. Ziegler, A. Friendship, Robt. Bennett, J. Carling, Thomas Gilean, J. M. Logan, Dr. Beasdale, C. McCormick, W. Mace, George Loveless, E. Dillon, J. MacPherson, S. Stevely, D. Bowen, S. H. Craig, F. Adams, B. Sheere, L. W. Fitzgerald, Frank Cooper, E. Sanders, W. Smith, W. Wanless, W. Bartlett, Alf Talbot, John Pocock, B. C. McCann, J. W. Jones, R. R. Bland, W. McPhillips, Frank Love, H. Merritt, J. Mattinson, J. R. Minihnick, Jun., Mayor Wilson, Ald. Parnell, Winnett, McCallum, Plant, Douglass, Graham, Garratt, Jolly, Rumball, Wilkey and Reed, and others.

Thomas Beattie, M.P., wrote stating that he had interviewed the minister of militia, and that the committee could obtain any marquee desired from Col. Dawson.

The secretary reported that $520.62 in cash and $50 in goods had been contributed to the committee. Cash subscriptions amounting to $20 were still to be collected.

A list of the members of the Old Boys' Association of Chicago was read amid loud applause.

WHERE TO GO? The question of the evening was then introduced by the chairman. They had to decide upon the place for Saturday afternoon's reunion. Springbank, Queen's Park, Tecumseh Park, Victoria Park and the Asylum grounds had been spoken of. The committee could get Springbank. Of that they were certain. No. 2 committee was willing that Victoria Park be used. W. J. Reid had offered the free use of Tecumseh Park. The consent of the government had been obtained for the use of the Asylum grounds. Regarding Queen's Park the committee could not be so sure. Ald. Carrothers would report as to the latter place.

Ald. Carrothers reported having brought the matter before the fair board, and so much cold water was thrown on it, that a formal application for the use of the stands and ring was not made. The council could grant the use of the grounds, but the consent of the board had to be obtained for the use of the stands. The board did not want to give the grounds because of their present condition, owing to the work that is going on there.

Ald. Reed moved that Victoria Park be the place.

Ald. Carrothers guessed that Ald. Reed was thinking only of the formal reception of the visitors. It had always been decided to have that in Victoria Park.

Ald. Reed withdrew his motion.

J. W. Jones said he had considered the matter from all points. Victoria Park was out of the question. It would be destroyed more than could be fixed up in years. It was no use to ask the people to ride to Springbank. "The citizens don't," he said, "and I'm sure the visitors won't."

He couldn't see how they were going to get out of going to Queen's Park. There was the place for the games and the cavalry maneuvers. The people would feel free to do as they pleased, and have a day with the boys. Tecumseh Park was too small, and there would not be the freedom on the asylum grounds that Queen's Park afforded. He moved to instruct Ald. Carrothers to make a formal application for the stands and ring at Queen's Park.

J. M. Logan seconded.

Thomas Gilean announced that the asylum grounds were out of it. Hon. Mr. Harcourt had consented to the use of the grounds, but the C. P. R. could not get cars to run there.

Ald. Garratt moved that the meeting vote on the three places by ballot.

Mr. Scandrett seconded.

Maurice Dillon—I move that Messrs. Bennett, Carrothers and Gilean be the scrutineers.

There was a general smile, and the chairman informed Mr. Dillon that his motion was "premature."

The chairman presented the amendment naming Springbank, Queen's Park and Tecumseh Park as the three places it was proposed to ballot upon.

Mr. McCann—Springbank is not before the house.

E. W. M. Flock—The places were named in the motion.

Frank Love urged the meeting to make the selection of the place unanimous. "This was a time for peace and harmony. Springbank was certainly the place if the strike was not on, but to choose it now would result in strife and discord. The people were not riding on the street cars. Possibly ten, fifteen or twenty years might soften the feeling against the company, and the people might ride. One thing was sure—they were not riding now in to make Springbank would result in the whole thing being a dismal failure. Queen's Park was neutral ground. To select it would injure no one, while by choosing Springbank they would be favoring one side altogether."

Ald. Rumball—How are you going to get to Queen's Park?

Mr. Love—People can walk to Queen's Park. They can't walk to Springbank.

E. W. M. Flock agreed with Mr. Love that the selection should be unanimous. He was prepared to cast a ballot for the place of his choice, and in the minority would go in to make the choice of the majority unanimous. They should not take sides in this street railway strike, he said, and to go to any park other than that where former celebrations were held would be doing so. The strikers could run their busses on the Pipe Line road in opposition to the street cars. The committee should not go out of their way to favor one side or the other. Mr. Love was mistaken about the feeling of the meeting at the Tecumseh House, he said. The visitors would be perfectly willing to do just as the committee directed.

Mr. Craig—Won't the G. T. R. run special trains to Queen's Park?

Mr. Flock—The C. P. R. has no cars for use to go to the asylum, nor will the G. T. R. run.

Mr. Craig—That cannot be on the ground that they have no cars, surely?

Mr. Gilean (emphatically)—I may say that the Grand Trunk positively refused.

Mr. Flock, continuing, said it was premature of Mr. Jones to say the committee's guests would not do as the committee arranged.

Mr. Love—It is not and you know it. E. C. McCann stated that he had positive information that many of the visitors would not get on a car. "We don't do it," he said, "and it would not be fair to ask our visitors what we know will be unfriendly to their friends." He supported ex-Ald. Jones' motion.

Ald. Plant did not see why fault should be found with Queen's Park. The work going on there was a sign of progress. An old stand was being replaced by a better one. They should not be ashamed of letting their friends see it. The grounds were in good shape. No objection had been made to Springbank because of the lack of grand stands. Queen's Park would do without the stands, although that wouldn't be necessary.

Mr. Jones rose to correct Mr. Flock. He wished to be understood as saying that from present appearances the people wouldn't ride on the cars. "If you won't do it, how can you ask your friends to?" he asked.

Mr. Love—It's forcing the people to get on a car or stay away.

Ald. Carrothers—Why can't the busses run to Springbank? That day should be called off (Applause). Any man who will so far forget himself as to complain of any one riding on the cars that day doesn't consider the interests of the city. I don't believe a single striker will object to Springbank.

Mr. Thomas Gilean spoke with considerable feeling. He endorsed what Ald. Carrothers had said. This was a matter of friendship. They should not consider the strike at all. Here were from two to four thousand old Londoners returning to see their old home and have a good time with their old comrades. The citizens should not consider themselves at all, but put up the best kind of entertainment they knew how. Did they want their visitors to return with the impression that London was ruled by strikers or a railway company. The committee should not consider the strike at all, but do just as they pleased. They were going to put up the best entertainment ever seen in London.

Ex-Ald. Bennett agreed with Mr. Gilean. They should drop the matter of the strike altogether. If the Old Boys were as loyal a lot of fellows as they used to be they would do as the committee said. The members should vote as they pleased.

Mr. J. Mattinson thought the objections to Springbank were of no weight. If the people did not wish to ride on the cars they could go by bus.

Mr. Love—The houses would be carrying people to the grounds till the following morning.

Mr. Mattinson seconded Ald. Garratt's motion.

Ald. McCann moved for an open vote.

Ald. Plant, Ald. Parnell and Mr. J. R. Minihnick, jun., were appointed scrutineers.

After ballots were given out, Ald. Jolly objected to a number of persons not on the committee being allowed to vote.

Mr. Gilean said all citizens were interested and should be allowed to vote.

Mr. McCann called for a new vote. On motion of Mr. R. R. Bland the ballots were taken as cast.

Ald. Parnell reported for the scrutineers. Fifty-nine ballots had been cast, 22 were for Queen's Park, 35 for Springbank and 2 for Tecumseh Park.

Mr. Len Fitzgerald moved that the meeting make the choice unanimous.

Mr. J. W. Jones seconded. He always abided by the will of the majority, he said.

Mr. Love thought it would be
