Picturesque Spanish Cliff City Displays Vivid Allurements

Houses of Old Town of Cuenca, Crashed Into Mountain Gorge, Seem About to Tumble Into Abyss.

London, April 8.—(By Mail).—An alluring picture of a cliff city of Spain is given by a special correspondent of "The London Morning Post." Cuenca, on a narrow hill 6,000 feet above sea level, is a little cathedral city of 11,000 inhabitants, perched on a steep, sheer, rocky wall, the houses of which are built into the cliff face, and are surrounded by the thyme-scented boulder-strewn Serrania de Cuenca. The old town seen from across the river is wonderfully picturesque; in situation, although not in buildings, it is a second Toledo. It is a well provided with fruit from the fertile valley of the river, along which the poplars, whose tops just do not touch the bridge of San Pablo, which is 120 feet high, appear but nineties against the sheer cliff, so that in a century or two Cuenca will be a marvel indeed.

The Huecar even in the height of summer is a fairly broad river, rapid and gray-green. It flows into the river near the bridge of St. Anthony. Above the town rises steeply to its tall clock-tower and large seminary, and far higher on a base high gleams the tiny white Ermita del Socorro.

The houses stand many hundreds of feet above the rocky ravine through which the Huecar makes its way. It seems an act of heroic courage to get to the top of one of these windows. Perhaps a thousand feet sheer above the Huecar, a man is engaged in building a house outlined against the sky. It looks as if one slip, one step mist, one fall, would mean a long and painful journey into the shape of turrets or gables.

TO CLEAN SOILED CANVAS SHOES

With a box of White-O and a few minutes' time, you can keep your canvas or buckskin shoes always spotlessly white. There is nothing which looks more "slippy" than a pair of canvas or buckskin shoes. Takes only a minute or two to apply White-O and a few minutes longer to dry.

SOOTS SAY LIBERALISM HAS GAINED IN STRENGTH

Fighting for Existence for Several Years and Recovery is Called Good.

London, April 10.—(By Mail).—While the result of the general election was disappointing for Liberalism, the party strength, as the result of the election, was doubled.

"Liberalism has been fighting for its very existence for several years. The optimistic note is struck by the annual report of the executive of the Scottish Liberal Federation, which has just been published, and is extensively quoted by the Edinburgh correspondent of The Westminster Gazette.

THIS TOWER CLOCK TELLS BIBLE STORY

London, April 20.—(By Mail).—A Poole watchmaker has completed, after three years' work, a miniature tower clock through which, daily, a Biblical story is portrayed by mechanical figures.

On the hour of four being struck by Father Time on a bell held by Satan, sky and sea disappear, and a clock through which, daily, a Biblical story is portrayed by mechanical figures. Across which is written "Dost thou believe in the Son of God?"

Christ, escorted by angels, descends to earth, from which arise skeletons that eventually take human form. Half of these are clothed and rise from the earth with Christ, the remainder falling below, accompanied by devils.

The clock was built by C. Payne to decorate a week-end hut at the seaside, but at present it is doing excellent service as a source of revenue for the local hospital.
