LOUISBUCKLE SAVES SOLDIER AS ENGINEER DIES

Former St. John Man Figures in Sensational Railway Incident.

DRIVER EXPIRES
IN CAB OF ENGINE

Fireman, Though Unskilled as Engineer, Meets Situation.

News that has trickled through from Boston tells of a former St.
John boy figuring conspicuously in a sensational railway incident. Louis Buckle, son of T. Albert Buckle, teamster with Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Ltd., is credited with having brought safely into Boston a suburban express laden with several hundred business passengers, handling the throttle over the dead body of the engineer who expired of heart disease while the train was running full speed.

Buckle was a fireman on the locomotive and was not experienced in driving the engine, so, when lifting his eyes from his stoking work he noticed his chief sitting limp with hand still grasping the throttle.
Buckle was in a quandary to know what to do.

Masters Situation.

The train was running fast into the city and in a few minutes would be in the danger zone of big traffic and the North Station. Leaving his fires, he lifted the lifeless arm of the engineer from the throttle handle and bending over the prostrate body shot off the power and later applied the brakes, bringing the train to a standstill. All this was a matter of moments, according to reports published in the metropolitan press.

Was Soldier.

Louis Buckle is remembered by many St. John people and has a large number of friends and relatives here.
He was a member of the 156th Battalion and was remembered as the bass drummer who wore the leopard, skin drum apron. He is a splendid type of young manhood, tall, husky and alert.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE TO TRADE MISSION

Rev. Neil MacLauchlan Brings to St. John Word From Ontario.

Rev. Neil MacLauchlan, pastor of the Queen Square Methodist church, who has just returned from Hamilton, Ont., brought word of the notable success attending the Maritime trade mission of The Telegraph-Journal and The Times-Star.

A newspaper man, he said, spoke to him of the visit of A. M. Belding and expressed the opinion that a strong impression was being made. As a result of the addresses there was being developed a bond of sympathy between the East and the West. Mr. Belding had opened up matters that had not heretofore been well understood in Central Canada.

Rev. Mr. MacLauchlan was attending meetings of the Social Service Council of Canada.

NOT ONE IN FUNDY

Board of Trade Reports to Shipping Committee on Accidents to Vessels.

The Board of Trade is sending forward to the Imperial Shipping Committee data about accidents to vessels in Atlantic waters during the severe storms of this winter and pointing out that not a single one of these accidents took place in the Bay of Fundy. They are also pointing out that St. John suffered less from storms than any other port on the Atlantic coast.

Speaks of Value Of Shipping to Port

If the people in St. John only realized what a ship means to them they would get out on the farthest point of Partridge Island and welcome with open arms, each one which have over the horizon, said William Swanton, stevedore, before leaving last night for Buffalo on a short vacation trip.

An idea of what a ship meant to St. John he said, might be gleaned from the fact that the last African steamship that was here left approximately $10,000 in cash in the city. One an-average steamship left about $10,000.
Never had it been known in the history of the port of St. John for a ship to be delayed or want of labor he said. The longshoremen and the coal handlers working here were the equal of any this side of the Atlantic.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.
—There was a young blizzard here today,

bit. The snow blowin' over the prairies when we was comin' cold. I did see some farms that seemed a long ways from anybody—an' I just want to myself 'Pa' rather live in The Settlement than out here in the flat country with any neighbors—like some folks does.

"Well, sir, you orto hev seen me when Eph. Chapman an' Walter Murray an' some other fellers from 'way back east grabbed me an' begun to ask questions. I guess this country out here owes something to us folks for the heaven we put into the loaf when we sent sech fellers as I been meetin' here to help 'em build up the country.
Me! It's a big country—but it haint got nothin' on old Noo Brunswick fer mixed farmin' an' general appearance—no, sir. Well—I'll keep on goin' fer a spell.
