PRODUCTION OF OIL SUBJECT OF ENQUIRY Ottawa Report Says New Brunswick Shows Considerable Promise.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Oil production in Canada is the subject of an enquiry now being made by the Dominion Mines Branch, and a reference to the subject is made in the annual report just issued.

While the oil business has very generally been viewed by the public as a gambling enterprise, and many companies have conducted it as such, we are now able to say that the taking of great chances is not necessary.

Regarding the discoveries in Alberta the report says the deposits are considerable and the cost of drilling very high. In the Northern Alberta field it is pointed out that it has as yet produced no oil in commercial quantities.

The report says, gives no indication of petroleum or natural gas. New Brunswick shows considerable promise, while in Ontario production is declining and total depletion is approaching.
