A Wise Guidance

(Sir Edward Carson, M. P.)
When the war is over we shall have still a great deal to do. I hope we shall never get back into the old ruck again. I hope that the war, if it does nothing else, has pulled the machine out of that. Let us try to look to something higher and something better; let us try to recognize the great things that our Dominions have done and the loyalty they have shown to the Old Country. Let us find arising out of the ashes of those who have been sacrificed something greater in the consolidation of all parts into one great, harmonious whole. May we be guided in the future, in the carrying on of the war and in the making of peace, and in the settlement of affairs after the war, by wise heads without ambition, without political aspirations, and without party considerations. Above all things, may we bring it home more and more to the hearts of our people every day that, just as they are a splendid race, determined to maintain the best traditions which they have learned, so we are prepared to recognize what they have done in the interests of the country that we all love.

The Fall of Erzerum

Petrograd, Feb. 19.—A War Office communication as issued today says: Completeness of the defeat sustained by the Turks and the terrible losses they suffered at Erzerum fighting is becoming more and more clear. The forts in the fortress itself and in surrounding country are full of Turkish dead. Remnants of Turkish army pressed by our troops are fleeing in disorder, many at points in different directions. A severe snowstorm has failed to cool the ardor of our men in pursuit who are close on the heels of the enemy and who are taking prisoners at the tail ends of the Turkish columns. We captured at Erzerum the entire fortress artillery and a large part of the enemy's field artillery. Up to the present we have counted two hundred guns. We have taken a huge quantity of artillery, ammunition and arms, several dozen motor cars, wireless apparatus and poison park. A number of other troops taken with Turkish soldiers captured in vast regions of Erzerum are being tabulated. In the Black Sea our warships have continued their operations in the region of West Trebizond, permanent bridges have been demolished and 15 sailing ships destroyed.

The "Imperial" Engines

Used last summer gave splendid satisfaction. They have been what the manufacturers claim for them. They run like a sewing machine. Long life is assured the Engine because of the perfect water circulation which keeps the engine cool.

Mrs. Suphrage—Our society has appointed me chairman of a committee whose object it is to bring about a reduction in rents.

Mr. Suphrage—I'm very glad to hear it, my dear. When we get home you can begin on my trossers.

The foreman of a gang of railway men has more than his share of Irish wit. The other afternoon he was walking along his section of the line when he found one of his laborers fast asleep in the shade of a hedge. Eyeing the man with a stern smile, he said slowly—"Slape on, ye idle spalpeen—slaped on. So long as ye slape ye've got a job, but when ye wake up ye're out of work."

New Yorker Warns Canada of Invasion

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—This letter was received here today:
New York, Feb. 5, 1916.
Gen. Sir Sam Hughes,
Ottawa, Canada.
Dear General:—A director of several large manufacturing concerns in this country making war supplies gave me the following information with permission to transmit it to you for what it is worth:
A German invasion of Canada is being planned in this country. To take place in about two months. Two hundred thousand Mauser rifles are packed in cases at several distributing points, with a quantity of ammunition, ready to be shipped on a moment's notice. A large number of trained German officers have recently arrived and are distributed throughout the country making arrangements to carry out their plans.
It has recently been discovered that nearly one-third of the munitions now under contract in the United States are controlled and being paid for out of German funds placed in several German banks under the control of a Dr. Albert.
Doubtless you have this or similar information already, but as my informant is a man of high standing and impressed with the truth of the information given me, I consider it my duty to transmit it to you with the suggestion that if you have not already been apprised of this danger you do not treat the matter lightly.

Using Glass Boats To Find Submarines

Army Surgeon Declares 17 German Underwater Boats Were Netted
New York, Feb. 10.—Dr. M. S. Inglis, a Canadian army surgeon, who arrived today on the Anchor Liner Cameronia from Liverpool, declared that he had knowledge of the capture in British nets of seventeen German submarines and told how the crew of one of them had been found shot to death after it had been towed ashore. Dr. Inglis said he had been allowed to descend into this submarine and had seen the bodies.
"To save them from death by suffocation," he said, "the commandant had shot all his men and then himself, apparently."
Dr. Inglis said the British are now making use of glass bottom boats with more or less success in scouting for submarines, in conjunction with a hydroplane. The glass used, he said, gives a clear view of the water to a depth of fifty or sixty feet.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 769 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSLING, 951 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

Germans Are Anxious Now To End The War

New York, Feb. 10.—A special cable to the Tribune from London, says: "Fresh evidence that Germany is anxious to end the war as soon as possible comes to light every day. There is no question but that she is feeling the pinch hard."
"It can now be stated with assurance that she has made a frantic and flattering offer to Belgium, which King Albert has declined to accept, after a conference with Lord Curzon and Sir Douglas Haig, who were sent at his special request for information from the Allied Governments."
"Aside from a promise to restore the Kingdom as it was before the war, Germany offered to return King Albert to the Belgian throne, and pay a big indemnity. Germany reserved the right to hold Antwerp and Ostend as German ports. Naturally, neither Albert nor Great Britain was willing to grant this concession under consideration, so that the offer has been flatly turned down."
"With the Germans out of Belgium more men would be available for other fields, while the West front would be cut down materially. These conditions would be of decided advantage to Germany. King Albert as soon as he was assured of the continued support of the Allies, declared that a separate peace was impossible."

One of the big four thousand-ton transport steamers engaged by the Admiralty, nearly came to grief some time ago while laying at anchor at Sydney. Apparently believing her safe with about sixty fathoms of chain and one of her huge grab anchors, the commander was hurriedly summoned during the height of a stiff southeasterly gale, which caught the big ship as if she was one of the frail pond crafts, and swung her around like a chip. It looked as if the transport would come to grief in Betty's Brook, but by the timely dropping of an extra anchor the situation was saved. But it was one of the closest shaves the transport ever had.

"Imperial" Engines

The first cost of a motor engine is important. The life of the engine is also important. Some engines wear only a short time; others go on doing duty for years. The cooling or water circulation has a lot to do with it. This an "Imperial" has. You can run the "Imperial" at the highest speed and yet keep it as cool as you wish.
