Blake Officers in Boston and Chicago Officers in London.

The American Naval Representatives Given a Brilliant and Hearty Reception Yesterday.

Boston, May 24.—It was a big day in the hub for the Sons of England who were bent on commemorating the seventy-fifth birthday of Queen Victoria. Many of Boston's British-American citizens celebrated the event with pleasant gatherings at their homes, and all in all the Queen may well feel proud of her sons in Boston. The British Charitable society, the leading organization of its kind in New England, met at the Parker house to do two things at once—celebrate the Queen's birthday and also the seventy-fifth anniversary of the society.

Over one hundred and fifteen members were present, while many prominent American and English gentlemen graced the occasion with their presence. After dinner His Excellency Gov. Greenhalgh, responded to the toast of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. He was given a warm and hearty greeting and closed his address by proposing three cheers for the Queen.

The President of the United States was the signal for three more.

Alderman Sanford for the city of Boston, bidding welcome to the visiting members of the Blake, some of whom were present.

The Army and Navy were responded to by First Lieut. Wilkinson of the Blake, Lieut. Fisher Rowe of the Grenadiers answering for the army.

Vice Admiral Sir John Hopkins, K.C.B., gave an informal banquet to Gov. Greenhalgh tonight on board H. M. S. Blake, at which many state and city officials were present. Vice Admiral Hopkins was surrounded by his officers, and Captain Hamilton of the Blake welcomed the guests in a hearty manner. The colors of Great Britain and the United States were fastened side by side at the head of the table. A portrait of her majesty also adorned the saloon where the feast was spread. Gov. Greenhalgh responded to the toast proposed in honor of himself and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Secretary Olin followed on behalf of the state. Mayor Matthews spoke for the city of Boston, and Collier Warren for the United States and the port of Boston.

The orchestra of the Blake furnished inspiring strains for the occasion, and among the selections were British, American and God Save the Queen.

Tomorrow night the commonwealth will entertain the distinguished Britishers with a banquet at the Parker house, when many military and political dignitaries will be present.

London, May 24.—The banquet tendered Admiral Erben, Capt. Mahan, and the officers of the United States cruiser Chicago by the officers of the English navy and distinguished citizens of Great Britain was held tonight in St. James' Hall and was a brilliant success. The American officers were received on their arrival at the hall by a committee consisting of Lord George Hamilton, Admiral Seymour, Lord Brassey, Viscount Gairney, the Lord Mayor of London, the Duke of Leeds, the Lords Methuen, Mordaunt and Napier. The guests were first conducted into the smaller St. James' hall, which had been converted into a reception room. Here the introductions took place, and all engaged in an animated conversation for half an hour. At eight o'clock the guests entered the banquet hall. The room was tastefully decorated, and the tables were laid with the most perfect order. The guests were seated at long tables, and the conversation was most interesting. The American officers were particularly popular, and the evening was a most successful one.

The string band of the Royal Marines Light Infantry was stationed in the gallery opposite the organ, and played the national anthems of the United States and the United Kingdom. The guests were most appreciative of the music, and the evening was a most successful one.

Two British naval officers escorted each officer of the Chicago to the allocated seats. Before each guest there was a beautiful menu card of sixteen pages. The frontispiece was a monochrome engraving of the cruiser Chicago, between the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, and was inscribed: "A hearty welcome to the Chicago."

The second page contained portraits of Admiral Erben and Captain Mahan, and was surrounded by clasp hands between inter-twined flags, with the scroll "Blood is thicker than water." And the couplet: "When love unites wide space divides in vain, and hands may clasp across the spreading main."

Other pages contained pictures of Westminster abbey, Trafalgar Square, Greenwich Hospital and the disaster to the Trenton and the Calliope at Apia.

When the ladies entered the gallery in evening costume, the brilliancy of the scene was greatly enhanced.

Lord George Hamilton, the chairman, began the speech-making by offering a toast to the Queen and President Cleveland. He said that Queen Victoria and President Cleveland were the heads of the two great English speaking nations of the world, the heads of governments whose authority was exercised over a large portion of the globe, and a still larger proportion of the human race paid them honor and respect. But it was not merely on that account that he asked them to drink to their health. During a long and prosperous reign Queen Victoria had exhibited those rare qualities which made her occupancy of the throne the ideal of what a constitutional monarchy should be, and nowhere was the fact more recognized than across the Atlantic. President Cleveland was of pre-eminent abilities and character, and his fellow citizens recognized the fact by conferring upon him the rare distinction of twice electing him to the highest post to which a United States citizen could aspire, and his dignity of attitude, his brevity of language and fixity of purpose excited as much admiration here as in America. (Cheers.)

After giving the usual loyal toasts to the Prince of Wales and his family, and to the royal family generally, Lord George Hamilton toasted the United States, saying Englishmen are proud of the progress that the United States has made in the present century because they believed that the progress was largely due to the qualities which those who originally came from Great Britain transmitted to America. One hundred and twenty years ago we parted in anger and bloodshed; now we have met together as reconciled members of one family. The more the two nationalities came in contact the larger was the number of ideas and sympathies they had in common. This change was marked for the better. The historic town of Boston yesterday received the British admiral and the officers of his flagship magnificently. He was afraid that the citizens of that great town were engaged one hundred and ten years ago in a less congenial operation (laughter).

SPORTING MATTERS.

Interesting Events on the Queen's Birthday.

Horse Racing in Many Places in the Maritime Provinces.

The races at Moosepath park on the afternoon of the 24th attracted a large crowd, and the sport was fairly good. It is safe to say, however, that there would have been more fun for the spectators if the management had taken right hold of all whose actions seemed to be in the direction of keeping things back. Still, all things considered, probably it was as good a day's racing as one could expect so early in the season. The gentleman's driving race had fourteen starters. Moosepath is not big enough for such a field of horses, it was Little Rocket's race from the start, Josie Mack being the only horse able to come as near him. Little Rocket is a trotter from May, and a mutual favorite of the Olympians. The named race was captured by Lady D, driven by Wm. D. McEvoy. She was second in one heat, being beaten by Frank E., but she won the free for all in three straight heats in 2:33. Sena-tion, owned by Gibson of Brooklyn, caused some excitement while scoring. The mare reared, tumbled completely over and fell on her driver, Mr. Gibson's son. Everybody thought the young man was killed, but the mare was pulled off him and he was found unhurt. The animal was harnessed again and made a good start. Summary:

THE RACES AT HALIFAX. HALIFAX, May 24.—The Queen's birthday was generally celebrated in Halifax. The weather was beautiful, though a chilly east wind was blowing. The review of the Imperial and volunteer troops by General Montgomery Moore was witnessed by an assemblage estimated at 10,000. The chief event of the afternoon was the races of the Halifax driving club, which were seen by 2,500 people. The fastest time of the day was made by Clayton, who won hands down in 2:30. Israel, who has been in the United States for the past two years in training and has just returned, is greatly improved in style and trotted very smoothly. He won the 2:30 class in 2:33. Sena-tion, owned by Gibson of Brooklyn, caused some excitement while scoring. The mare reared, tumbled completely over and fell on her driver, Mr. Gibson's son. Everybody thought the young man was killed, but the mare was pulled off him and he was found unhurt. The animal was harnessed again and made a good start. Summary:
