ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 14, 1901.

THE ROYAL VISIT.

The event to which the citizens have been looking forward with such pleasurable anticipation is close at hand.
So close, indeed, is it that the work of preparation must be hurried forward with the greatest possible vigor in order to have everything complete. The city during the next three days will undergo a great change in appearance.
What with arches, street and store decorations, display of flags and bunting from private houses, illuminations and other features, St. John will take on the most brilliant aspect it has ever worn, and the event will be one that the people, especially the younger folk, will cherish long in happy memory.

It is well that this should be so. The greeting prepared is not merely to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. It is an expression also of the people's patriotism, and their loyalty to the empire of which the distinguished visitors are expected some day to be the official head. They are worthy of a warm welcome for their own sakes, and wherever they have gone, have, by their fine personal qualities won the hearts of the people. They are mindful of the grave responsibilities attaching to their exalted position, and reveal none of that frivolity which in past centuries sometimes marked the courts of kings, and which has been unknown at the English court since the accession of Victoria the Good.

St. John people will greet the Duke and Duchess with open hearts and in that greeting convey to the rest of the empire the renewed assurance of an unswerving loyalty.

SOUTH AFRICA.

The following is the statement made last week by Secretary of War Brodrick relative to the South African war:

We have 200,000 men and 450 guns in South Africa. One hundred thousand men are training at home. Our last returns show that we are furnishing supplies from here for 314,000 persons and 388,000 horses and mules. We retain in South Africa a reserve of four months' food for men and animals. At present there are in the field 83 perfectly-equipped mobile columns, under picked commanders. We deliver 10,000 remounts in South Africa monthly. I am urged by many correspondents to give Gen. Kitchener a free hand to push the war with sharp and effective strokes. It is suggested that inactivity on the part of the government is causing the people of the country serious concern. There is no wonder that the continuance of the war should cause anxiety, but if it is caused by any of the above mentioned considerations it may be set at rest. The home government has never in any way interfered with the military dispositions of Gen. Kitchener, in whose vigorous prosecution of the war it has entire confidence.

TUBERCULOSIS.

At a meeting of the Ontario Board of Health the following recommendations by Dr. Bryce, were unanimously adopted: (a) That municipalities be urged to stop public expectoration; (b) that physicians be compelled to report all cases of tuberculosis, so that steps can be taken to prevent the spread of the disease; (c) that municipal sanitaria be established for the benefit of persons of limited means; (d) that tenements, factories, workshops, schools, and other public buildings be regularly inspected to promote cleanliness, ventilation, and other sanitary conditions.

Dr. Montisambert is a staunch advocate of vaccination, and says there is absolutely no excuse for any person taking the disease if they will submit to vaccination. The director-general further thinks that vaccine lymph should be secured under government supervision, and says that a vaccine farm could be established and effectively carried out in connection with the government experimental farms.

The Canada North-West Land Company reports for September sales of 1,102,941 acres of land for $60,011.60, an increase of $23,837 acres in sales, and of $47,149.72 in receipts, as compared with last year. The increase in receipts from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30, compared with the same period last year is $18, 268.53.

A Kansas man, who has been visiting Manitoba, so favorably impressed that he has decided to buy a farm there, but he declares that Manitoba farmers are careless about their wheat crops. They often put off having their wheat stacked till it is too late, and a great deal of it is destroyed.

Although 87 years of age the Baroness Burdett-Coutts still takes a share in the management of her bank and directs the distribution of money in her charities, on which she has already spent $5,000,000.

WHAT HE SAID.

Buller's "Surrender Message" to Gen. White at Ladysmith.

Merely Suggested That it Might be Necessary to Surrender—Advised What to Do in That Event

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Speaking after a luncheon given in his honor by the King's Royal Rifles yesterday, General Sir Redvers Buller, whose recent appointment as commander of an army corps has been much criticized, expressed his condemnation of the newspaper criticisms of men who were doing their best and risking their lives for their country. He asserted that nobody junior to him was fitter to command an army corps, and he challenged the critics to name one. General Buller said he had been attacked on account of a telegram which it was said he had sent ordering General White to surrender Ladysmith after his (Buller's) attack on Colenso on December 15, 1899, had resulted unsuccessfully. General Buller described at length his own and General White's difficulties at that time. He said that at that time he prepared a message telling General White that his (Buller's) attack had failed, and he could not make another attempt to relieve him within a month in the then slow fighting. General Buller said he read this telegram over several times, saying to himself, "That's a man thing to send a fellow," but he knew the responsibility was his, and that General White could say, if he surrendered, that General Buller had advised it.
The same telegram suggested that it might be necessary to surrender, and in that case General Buller made some suggestions as to what General White should do and how he should do it.
Thinking that it would be cover for a man whom he believed to be in greater difficulties than his own.

General Buller declared that he wanted to hear the man who said he had counseled General White to surrender into the ring. Therefore he challenged him to produce the telegram, which, he said, he knew was in the hands of the editor of a magazine, and must have been stolen, because it was in cipher, addressed to General White, and was perfectly private.

The speech created a great sensation among those present.

CONDEMNED BY THE PRESS.

General Buller's speech has made a tremendous stir. The newspapers are full of the opinions of it. A majority of them, including some of the most influential, are not hostile to General Buller's speech, but they are not in favor of his policy. They are not in favor of his policy, but they are not in favor of his
policy.

BRITISH LUMBER MARKET.

Stocks Further Reduced and Consumption Active—Freights are Low.

Farnworth and Jardine's Liverpool circular of Oct. 1st, reports sales last month of St. John spruce deals at 25 to 26, 12s. 6d. and lower ports at 25 to 26 1/2 to 27 1/2, 6d. per standard export.

Stocks of N. B. and N. S. spruce deals at Liverpool and ports of the North Atlantic, reported by the same firm on Oct. 1st, were 12,990 standards, compared with 27,049 a year before, and 30,598 two years before. Consumption during September was 16,470 standards or considerably more than the quantity now in stock. The circular says: The arrivals from British North America during the past month have been 30,460 tons registered, against 37,588 tons registered during the corresponding month last year, and the aggregate tonnage to this date from all places during the years 1899, 1900, and 1901, has been 407,418, 431,093, and 522,662 tons respectively.

The business of the past month has been of a quiet character; imports generally have been on a very moderate scale, and considerably less than during the same month last year; the demand for lumber has been moderate, and stocks are somewhat reduced, values remain practically unchanged. Ocean freights are again easier, and now stand at very low points.

New Brunswick and Nova Scotia spruce and pine deals.—The arrivals have been moderate for this season of the year, amounting to about the same quantity as were imported during the corresponding month in the two previous years; the consumption has been very satisfactory, exceeding the import by about 3,000 standards, consequently the stock has again been considerably reduced; the last sales have established some improvement in values; freights continue on a low basis. Pine deals are in fair demand, and the stock is not excessive.

Blotch—Of logs, there has been a very light import, and the deliveries have been satisfactory; stocks are now reduced to a very moderate compass, values improved. Of planed lumber there has been a large import, with the result that the stock remains about the same as at the end of last month, and is still too heavy; values remain low.

SENT TO HALIFAX.

A Special Delivery Letter for the Fishermen's Wife.

Capt. Schwannberger, of the Hamburg-American liner Augusta Victoria, called a messenger into the cabin after the boat had been made fast to her pier, and handed him two letters. "Put them in the nearest box," he said, "Don't lose them, as you value your position on this craft."

The letters were both addressed to women in Halifax, N. B., and the name on one was Mrs. Henri Benton.
"We stopped the ship to get those letters from a little fishing smack off Newfoundland," said the captain later.
"It was on October 2. We were a

SUNDAY LABOR.

To the Editor of the Star: Sir,—I cannot find words sufficiently strong to express my regret and indignation at yesterday's open and flagrant violation of the sanctity of the Sabbath. Every man concerned has said himself open to prosecution, and will be, if the authorities have any respect for the oaths they took on taking office. The question of necessity is not to be considered, for the Royal visitation at yesterday's opening upon us, it was not hurriedly sprung upon us, and to leave things to the last hours only exhibit a carelessness and an incapacity that is execrable. The workmen, for a paltry bribe, took all the risks of insulting God and all good men, and setting an example which, if followed, will soon compel them to work on Sunday without either bribe or the ordinary hire. Whoever is responsible for yesterday's sin and dishonor should be vigorously dealt with, and their Royal Highnesses, and they know how our people feel about it, would probably do as His Majesty did in Ontario, in regard to the Orange arches, refuse in deference to the feelings of those who deem themselves aggrieved thereby, refuse to pass under them.

A BIG MISTAKE.

To the Editor of the Star:
Sir,—Whoever is responsible for locating the big Empire arch on King street at the corner of Germain, is a vandal. He has cut the best street view in Canada into two little bits. Let any reader of this stop at the foot of King street and look up towards the square. He will instantly catch the point. In Paris or London King street would be called a boulevard and its continuity would be respected.

Yours,

LOWER COVE.

THE DUKE IN TORONTO.

In the course of his reply to the civil address in Toronto the Duke of Cornwall and York said:—

"I rejoice to think of the prosperity, the material progress and intellectual advancement which characterize the general condition at Ontario, at the opening of a new century, and the side by side with this progress is a split of deep contentment and un-fading loyalty."

"The free and liberal institutions secured to the people of the dominion have relieved them from the struggle for the right to manage and control their local affairs. As they have grown in power and influence, their aspirations have been lifted to a higher plane. Their patriotism has broadened and intensified. They have realized how closely they are concerned in the general welfare of the empire."

"In no uncertain manner they have shown their readiness to share in the task of defending its interests, and maintaining its honor and integrity."

"The deeds of your fellow-countrymen during the war in South Africa have indeed testified not only to the strength of your loyalty, but to the strong military instinct and capacity inherent in the sons of the dominion.
They have fully maintained the noble traditions of your forefathers, who fought for and home under the leadership of the heroic Brock."

AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

Harvest Thanksgiving Service. Yesterday—Sermon by Rev. W. O.
Raymond.

At St. Mary's church, thanksgiving services were conducted by the rector, morning and evening. That of the evening was a children's service, at which in addition to the regular hymns and psalms the children sang several songs.

The morning service was a special service, in which the choir, including the anthem, The Eyes of All Wait Upon Thee, O Lord.

The church was beautifully decorated. Sheaves of wheat and oats adorned the pillars, while heaped in front of the lectern were many products of the vegetable garden. Besides fruit of many varieties. The prayer desk and pulpit were trimmed with autumn leaves, and on the latter and in the chancel many potted plants were placed. The font was richly decorated with a profusion of ferns and autumn leaves, while the latter adorned the walls in many places. The whole, combined, gave an effect both pleasing and artistic.

In his sermon the rector remarked that many congregations today are united in praising and thanking God for all His gifts. We can see His power and wisdom in everything no matter how small. Charles Darwin
ed. The font was richly decorated
artistic.

In his closing remarks the preacher said we are now more independent than were people in ancient times.
Not much anxiety is now caused by the question, "What shall the harvest be?" If our harvest fall in one place, steam connections soon bring us what we need from other parts of the world, so that the fear of famine is not now so great. But though this is an age of progression and independence we will always have to say, "Give us this day our daily bread." Let us show our thankfulness to God, not only with our lips but in our lives, and as we have a growing work in God's grace to perform, let us so grow in God's grace that at our harvest time we may be safely brought to the eternal Harvest Home.

WELL OVER THE WHARF.

Saturday evening Joseph (better known as Coke) O'Brien, who had been imbibing rather freely for some days, fell off Walker's wharf into the slip. Fortunately the tide was out at the time, and O'Brien was not doubt-edly have drowned. As it was, he was seriously hurt, one of his legs being fractured. His cries attracted people to the slip and he was lifted to the wharf and conveyed to his home on Broad street. Later on O'Brien was sent to the general public hospital in the ambulance.
